Labor.

Labor is in good demand just now, both for the woods and ships.

o Resume.

The mills shut down for want of logs are expected to resume work shortly. Speed the day.

Social Dance.

The Battery held another entertainment Monday evening in the Masonic Hall. This was the third for the season. and was immensely enjoyed.

Held Over.

In consequence of the press of matter upon our comms today we are obliged to hold over "Newcastle local items," "Notes from the Capitrl," from Gloucester, etc. All will appear in our next.

Tempora Mutantur.

Employers are busy now hunting u men for the lumber woods. This is great change from last fall. Then th men had to go round soliciting work, and had to take the employer's terms. No the men have something to say in This is as it should be.

The Saga.

The cargo of the wrecked vessel Saga has been partially delivered. The tin i in pretty good condition but would be improved if kept covered with fresh water until arrangements were made for drying it. Exposure to the oxygen of the air must necessarily damage it much. We understand a diver has gone down to Escuminac to fish for the balance of the cargo.

That Shed.

been taken to rid the community of that impending shed hard by the up-town ladder house. Children play about it every day, and as it is sure some time to tumble. ed an apology. Whe eupon the offender casualties are imminent. We urge upon any persons who may be injured by its falling, to promptly sue the responsible persons for damages. [This item to pronounced the hon. member "quite ing with the smelt fishery or some other critique that Mr. Roberts pays too much the next thing another man was at Mr. stand as long as the shed. - ED.]

Millinery.

In another column we publish an advertisement from Mrs. M. J. Quigley, in which our lady readers in Chatham and of one of Chathams unlicensed dens. The Newcastle should be much interested. This is the proper season, because winter approaches, to consult the milliner, and with Mrs. Quigley will be found the leading fashions, and the best of goods -- and cheap too no doubt.

Postponed.

11th, Inst., when it will positively take | why don't these officers act? place.

Oct. 6-1 The Gift Sale above referred to is well worth public attention. A beautiful piano, just as good as the day it came out of the store is offered, and for the sum of 50 cent, one has a chance of winning it. It is such a prize as is rarely offered, and we fancy there should be a number of eager ticket purchasers. To the Editor of the STAR. ED. STAR.

Good News.

The Fairley brothers were in town Monday and reported that the lumber which had been hung up all the summer had just got a start, and would in all probability reach the South West booms by Saturday next. This is cheering news when it will be renembered how many ships depend upon th se logs for cargoes, and how many hands depend upon them for work: so we may soon expect to hear of Mills closed down opening again, and millmen preparing to close changing their minds. Fifteen million feet of logs more floating into Chath im will heep a hum about our ears till the middle of November.

Street Fighting.

Of all the places we have ever seen. policemen—is not the theatre of a brawl cysters.

The Salmon Fishing.

A late exchange at hand says:

"The season for salmon set fishing at the Tweed just closed has been the worst ever known, and the lessees of fisheries must be heavy losers in consequence of the unproductiveness of the river, as wel as the low prices, which have been -4d. and 5d. per pound less than those of last year. The scarcity of salmon and grilse has been most noticeable since July, from which time there should be a great increase of these fish. Trout, although numerous, were below the average. The rental of the river has this year fallen from £14,000 to £13,000. In the month of August the Berwick Salmon Fishing Company were 9,000 fish short of the catch for the same month last year. There is at present no disease in the river."

the Salmon catch in more places than came with me, some stayed in Boston, Northern New Brunswick has been a some went to New York and a few went failure the past year. What is quite West. I will write you again a word on astonishing in this connexion is that low the inner life, etc., of New York. prices have prevailed where according to trade notions scarcity makes an article that is in demand dear.

STAR BRIEFS.

-We would call the Road Com missioner's attention to a piece of broken sidewalk near the corner of St. Michael's Cathedral, Just Verbum Sap. Sat.

large quantities of pressed hay to lum. bering parties. He supplies Mr. D. McLaughlan.

-Mr. Jas. Desmond is putting new sills under the house occupied by Mrs. Winn and Mr. A. McArthur.

-Mr. Jas. Kane is having his residence on Henderson Street thoroughly renovated.

A Bear Apology.

Our correspondent "Bachelor," from Fredericton, sends us an account of an apology which is rather comical reading :

MR. EDITOR, -- In these days of apologies, there are several anecdotes of a striking nature that might not be amiss in the columns of THE STAR, and today I send you a condensed story that has gone the rounds of many a family, and has caused loud shouts of laughter at fireside gatherings here. I am one of your numerous friends, Mr. Editor, and I regret that you were not so placed that you could have made a similar apology to Mr. Brown up at The Falls. Now for the anecdote.

In by gone days, before the old House of Assembly went to blazes, and long ages before THE STAR was called upon to fight its hard, skilful and successful battle with St. John and other parts of the Province, to secure to Fredericton In olden times, say when Jeoffrey was at the handsome Parliament Buildings now the head of the "Edinburgh" it was in course of erection, business men in the something to be a critic; now it is nothing. Celestial City had rows; and apologies In this age when writers are as numerous were extorted, demanded and made. as the potato bug, critics may be named Well in those days, a certain disagree- Legion. He who can successfully critiment arose between members of the cize a grilse regulation or the stump task. But Mr. Roberts has shown him-We perceive that no steps yet have House here, and one hon member con- speech of a county councillor, can also self equal to this, -indeed since the cerned told another hon, gentleman that of course criticize a poem, and he he wasn't "fit to carry guts to a bear." judge the same upon the canons of art, The hon. politician thus insulted demand- though he has never learnt the differknelt down and in humble tones, before the Bar of the House, declared himself eye. "Smartness" in writing and wrong, retracted what he had said and natural gift of gab does well enough deal. faultless. We think we have seen in one Capt. Barry was in holts with a saidor: fitted to carry guts to a bear."

Our Chatham Dens.

On the night when the stabbing took place, the drunken sailors had come out town is foul with these dens; and it is high time the police began to look after

We may also say that some of the licensed houses keep very bad hours; by which we mean that long after the closing hour has passed the door is quietly The Gift Sale to have taken place opened and carousers are admitted. If in the Temperance Hall on Monday, Oct. we have a law why don't we respect it? 4th, is hereby postponed until Monday, If we have officers to vindicate the laws, Communications.

A WARNING TO EMIGRANTS.

BY A CHATHAM BOY IN NEW YORK.

DEAR SIR, -Having received a copy of your paper for the first time, and liking its style, I thought I would write standard. you about my trip to New York last fall, and how the Province boy fares in this great republic of wealth. The night I left Chatham I believe the largest crowd News - one appeared in the Fredericton that ever went from there before was on board. Our friends came to the station house to see us off and many came out as far as the Junction. When we had left there a silence fell upon us, for many of the youn; women and men thought when shall we, if ever, see these friends again?

At eight the next morning we took from St. John, and the purser told me skin of a victim offered to the gods he found Connors were there also. A man sup- rising, and urging that the defeat of it was the every day story, "but," he Orion. He named him "Urion ab urine," the he added, "you will see them coming word by the corruption of a letter becoming for its size, Chatham takes the lead for back in as large ffocks before the winter street brawls and night rows. There is ends." And they did go back, and not a night that one does not have a warned their friends of the luring stories drunken song for a lullaby; not a night of far off wealth : many did not take that some sheebeen house, -houses in warning and still went, and still continue which liquor is sold without license to come. I see plenty of young fellows under the very eyes and nose of our two here in New York doing work they would be ashamed to be seen doing at home; between drunken sailors and degraded but want compels them here to pocket townsfolk. Yet the police march lovingly their pride, and they gain consolation up and down town, figure out when their in saying, "What's the odds, no one pay is due, and when they get a slant knows us here." There is one young slip quiet in and take their beer and fellow from Chatham who came with me, working now in a fish store, dirty work, and he gets only a few dollars a month and his board. If he did such low work in Chatham, his people would not look at him. He is where many a poor Pro vince boy gets, in that class which works for half nothing—the Chinese, the Italians, the Germans and the Jews. These people ruin trade, work hard, and lead in many cases the lives of dogs. On Sunday you will see the Jew shops open, and the owner stands outside and will actually catch hold of the passers by asking him to come in and see his goods. | our voyage to Boston. On landing in the Athens we were recommended to a boarding house where I found 3 or 4

Chatham boys staying. I may say there are a great many Miramichi boys in Boston; many of whom treated me with great kindness. Most of them have after hard fighting won good places, but the record of a few too From the above it will be seen that would be a sorrowful one. Of those who Blood-stained, fast bound in pliant withes

> Yours truly, A CHATHAM BOY. New York, Sept. 28, 1880.

THE PACE OF PROSPERITY.

To the Editor of the STAR:

DEAR SIR, -The following extract is the official return of the Revenue Receipts of Canada for the month of September, and a comparison with -Mr. Brimmer of Napan is shipping the reverue of September of last year. It only shows an increase for September sleeping hunter and the wicked king who just past over September of 1879-OF SIX HUNGRED AND NINETY-THREE THOUSAND, ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY -FIVE DOLLARS.

OTTAWA, Oct 2.

The comparative statement of the revenue received by the Finance Department in September 1879 and 1880 respectively is as follows:

Customs. - $1,189,921 $1,757,847 446,283 Other sources. 403,973 402,102

$1,913,067 $2,606,232 ncrease of September 1880, over same month in 1879, -$693,165

I wonder how our Grit M. P., who keeping our county in the cold shades of Opposition would try to figure this out of the way. But say what is to become of that 202 next time?

Yours truly.

GRIT. Chatham, Oct. 5, 1880.

ORION .

MR. ROBERTS' CONTRIBUTION TO SONG. A man must serve his time to every trade

Save censure: critics all are ready-made. of writing smart things will never supply | worksthe ignorance of the rules upon which poetry must be judged, or of the incident

However we cant reform in the world, or stamp out presumption; for despite all we may say his permission a word on the little volume | Westmorland. before us. First and formost it is a credit to the printers, Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia. The paper used is the best, the typographical appearance and the binding are to a high The book offered for one dollar. It contains a umber of poems, many of which have appeared in Scribner, in the Canadian Star-ballad to the Kingfisher. The st poem, and properly the best in the [Jupiter, Neptune and Mercury were once travelling through Bootia, and being tired Loggie, who deposed-I reside in the and hungry late at evening went into the house of one, Hyrieus a peasant. The peasant treated them to the best his hut affordthe boat from St. John to Boston. The deities so struck with his piety promised him to give whatever asked. He asked a son: and a few months after he dug and in the Orion: or as Ovid says, "Perdidit antiquum littera a prima sonum." Orion grew to be a mighty man, and it is said Diana fell in love to go on board of his ship. Nothing at the critical moment. came jealous of his stature, and when the hunter asked the hand of the kings daughter, the fair Merope, the king refused conditionally, "Rid my land of wild beasts," he said, "and she shall be yours." This Orion did, but on the evening he was to claim his bride, the king gave him intoxicating drink, and poured poison upon his eyeballs. His eyes were destroyed, but next constellations .- ED, STAR. 1

This beautiful poem is written in heroic verse-the jambic pentameter. The action of the poem begins on eve when the stately Orion claimed his bride of King Chios her father. scene is described true to very nature by our young poet, commencing thus:

"Two mighty arms of thunder cloven rock Stretched ever westward to the setting sun And took into their ancient scarred embrace A laughing valley and a crooning bay.

* * Amidst the slope But I must for a moment return to Three sacred laurels drooped their darkgreen boughs, About a high-piled altar."

> It was here Enopian swayed his sceptre o'er the "dwellers in the steepshored Chios." The king stood praying looking out upon the deep, and his servants prepared a sacrifice to Apollo. The victim was-

* a tawny wolf His red tongue lolling from his fanged jaws, His eyes inflamed.

Meanwhile Orion appears upon the poet a life-long reputation.

Along the shore came one who seemed

The grandeur of the mountains for a robe. The torrents strength for girdle, and for The seas calm, for dread fury capable."

We cannot go through the entire poem with the space at our command: follow our young poet in his description of the sees the poison poured upon the sleepers eye-balls; or how seemed the king when he saw that the dreadful deed was done: But the king laughed-not loud-and drew his cloak Closer about him, and went up the beach

And they two with him."

For simplicity which goes to the verheart, this is outdone in any poem w have ever read. We fancy we see the king, as the fogs roll landward in that dark night fold his cloak tighter about him--we fancy we see that chuckle so well expressed-"not loud."

And the painting of the waker's agony. the great hunters sight gone, and how he laments-his creeping for a man to help him to carry out the command of the

Then get thee up to the hills and tho shall behold the MORNING ;" and how he found the man "and him bade Of courtesy to be to him for eyes." Notice how well this is put:

--- "To be to him for eyes-" the hills.

MR. ROBERTS' LYRICS.

Several who have written excellent blank verse, like a Akenside for example, failed completely when they smote the lyre. In writing blank verse the metre and the sense are only to be kept in mind. in composing lyric song the rhyme and reason, with the metre make a triple appearance of Memnon and the Ballad to have been widely acknowledged. There a to this the art in his compositions subject not bounded by the rules of art, attention to art. Well, we know Pope Muirhead. Two more were among them. scholar; but in criticizing a poem sures of the imagination" till he nearly gone far enough. Next thing Capt. Barabounding in allusions to the siege of Troy spoiled them, yet we must remember ry, and Mr Muirhead and Mr Loggie were or the wanderings of Eneis, the knack what Johnson said of Shakespear's out of sight. I ran to see where they

"Though the poets matter nature be His art doth give the fashion."

or incidents which may be the ground. We think this a beauty in Mr. Roberts work of the poem. When an illiterate poems rather than a defect, and we hope Yankee once visited the picture gallery he will still continue to study nature and at Florence, everything he saw brought cultivate art. If he do we have no fear forth the same exclamation "Isn't it just for bim. We give now a few lines from lovely," and when he saw the tortures of the beautiful sonnet, "Invocation of the Laocoon made immortal in marble he ex- spirit of song;" as a gem of melodyclaimed "O! but doesn't he feel "Surely I have seen the majesty and wonder

Beauty might and splendor of the soul of Surely I have felt the spells that lift asunder

"Fools [will] rush in where angels fear to Sweeter verses than these we have never read. In another issue we shall have a Mr. Roberts must pardon us for our word on other poems in the book, and rather lengthy prologue, and now with also a word of advice to the Laureate of

COURT. THE POLICE

EXAMINATION OF TWO SAILORS FOR STABBIRG, BEFORE MR MAGISTRATE

We have already given our readers an outline of a stabbing case which occurred here on Thursday night last. The two sailors remanded for examination were last evening examined before Magistrate Blair, and testimony taken

The first witness called was Peter parish of Chatham; recollect last Thursday night. Was in company with Crimmin, about 10 o'clock, near Bowunusual occured. Sailor did not appear to be drunk; he was about as tall as the prisoner. We talked there a little time. Previous to this the sailor blew a whistle and went up the street. We started to go towards ferry. Mr Crimmin said he wanted to go into his house and tell morning from a high mountain he looked his wife he was going with us. The towards the suns rising place, and the gods restored his sight. After death he was placed in Heaven and became one of the between his house and the ferry corner: we heard some persons running down the sidewalk. We stepped to one side to let t em pass. I was nearest to the corner. There was one tall man ahead and he struck Captain Barry. One of them struck at Mr Muirhead. The tall man struck at me. The next man was stout: he struck at Mr Muirhead, and the third one came at me, and was a small man. Couldn't swear he was one of the prisoners. Then I struck him and knocked him out into the middle of the street. looked around and saw one man at Mr Muirhead, who knocked him out into the middle of the street. This same man was then making at me and I knocked him out into the middle of the street. As I turned round Barry had one man down and said to me, "Get out of this, or you will get cut." There were eight of them there then; all were foreigners. When Barry spoke he started to run and I followed him up round Hagan's corner. The gate was open; I did not notice any one but Crimmin. This lot connects with Mr Crimmin's. I saw Mr Crimmin half way up stairs and a man they first met. Then we ran up the passage way, and I ran round through a fully launched at Estellamare on saw a crowd going towards corner of the barn, etc., etc.

The witness here detailed the particulars of the arrest of the sailors.]

Mr. Wm. Muirhead, sworn .- I reside in the Parish of Chatham; remember last Thursday night. Mr. D. Crimmin, Peter Loggie and Capt. Barry were walking down the front street on that evening about 10.45. We met Wm. Connors, Thos. Crimmin and Lantelum. We were standing at Mrs. Bowser's upper gate, and they were talking to a sailor. We advised him to go on board of his vessel. He then gave some impu. dence. We then went down the road as far as Mr. Crimmin's house. Mr. Crimmin's went into his house to see his wife and said he would be out in a few minutes. Capt. Barry and myself walked down towards corner and waited for Mr. Crimmin's to come out. We heard men run ning behind us talking very loudly, and stepped aside to 't them pass. They ran past us a short way and turned. The prisoner attacked Capt. Barry. Another ma came along and struck at me. knocked him down. He was about prisoner's size. He got up and struck me on the arm. Mr. Loggie hit him when he came at me a third time. We heard others coming down the sidewalk. I told them to get away. My comrades then turned round the corner and went up to Mr. Crimmin's back yard. Mr. Loggie came in after us. We waited there for a the man who bears the blind hunter up few minutes and found the crowd had gone away.

The remainder of Mr. Muirhead's testimony also refers to the arrest, etc.] Mr Thos. Crimmin, sworn .- Mr Crim-min's evidence was a corroboration of Mr. Loggie and Muirhead's; quite agreeing as to no provocation being given the sailors.

a Kingfisher, his abilities in this direction morning and wanted me to go to the ship imposed by him being that, until the with him. I went to go into the house abdication of the Czar, changes in the ence twixt a dactyl and a spondee, or breathes a warm living spirit through all for a minute and heard great running Ministry should be submitted to the heir learnt how to scan a line by finger or of Mr. Roberts minor poems, and added down the street. I stopped to see what to the Throne. was the matter. The first thing I knew and in such writing the illiterate penster made his verses mathematically perfect, I stopped to see. I told the sailors to appears to as much advantage as the and that Akenside whittled at the 'plea. leave the men alone, and that they had went to. I ran up the lane as far as my back gate. I saw Mr. Loggie in the yard and asked him where the other two were. Just then I saw a crowd at the gate coming in towards us. It is a long piece to come. I got near the back door and stopped. Mr. Loggie kept on and went through the garden. I turned around and saw a crowd standing at Moor's barn making a great noise. I knew I couldn't get in at back door; I would be caught. There is a stairs going up to the back window. I knew the only chance for life was to mount these stairs. I was caught Soul from body, when lips faint and thought half way up by two men who cut me. The tall prisoner struck me on the head. was holding on to the bannisters and kicking them down. Could feel knife going into me several times.

> The evidence of the sailors was given rough . 1 interpreter and corroborated evidence prin above. The two namely. Aton Evensen and Johan Lunder n, were committed for trial at at the County Court which opens the third Tuesday in October.]

TELEGRAPH.

The War Flame Kindling again in Afghanistan.

London, Oct. 6.

The Standard's correspondent at Candahar says: -It is a mistake to suppose that the country is completely paci-Captain Barry, Wm Muirhead and Daniel fied. Ayoob Khan's victory gave a great impulse to fanaticism. The Melser's gate. Mr Lantalum and Mr Wm lahs are everywhere preaching a fresh posed to be a sailor was talking to Con- Ayoob Khan by General Roberts was nors, Lantalum and Crimmin. We con- owing to the reliance the Afghan leader versed a while with him and advised him placed on his regulars and their desertion

The East.

THE NAVAL FORCE AT DULCIGNO.

LONDON, Oct. 6.

Le Nord, a Russian paper published n Brussels, in an article discussing the exist to prevent the continued action of the Powers against Turkey, and that it is the perfect knowledge of the fact at Constantinople that has emboldened the Porte to defy the will of the signatories to the Berlin Treaty. Le Nord adds that in view of the practical impossibility of the Powers acting in unison, and the equal certainty that none of them will act alone, the Porte is likely, for the present, not only to hold its territory, but in so doing to open the way for fresh infractions of the treaty in reference to Bulgaria. The Times commenting on the sailing matches before Dulcigno says ridicule must attach in the first instance to France; though all the Powers must take their Guy, Bevan & Co. share of it. It adds that the Powers were misled by France into playing a game af brag which could not have been expected to succeed. A nice comment or the policy of the Premier! When Lord Beaconsfield ruled, England played or cards inpependently without taking lead from Fance or any other gate which connects with the front one. Wednesday. King Humbert and his scene. The very description of his garb I did not see him go up the front stairs. Ministers of State together with a and mien is enough to give our young I lost sight of him. I went back into number of distinguished foreigners, were the yard with Muirhead and Barry. I present.

Power. -- ED. STAR. The man of war "Italia," was success.

CABLE BRIEFS.

The wife of the Russian Consul at Van has been murdered by Kurds.

Sir F. Roberts has had the good service pension of £100 a year conferred

A despatch from Cettinje says all male Montengrins have been summoned

A despatch from Ragusa says Dulcigno has been burned by order of the Albanian League.

A despatch from Constantinople says the Porte has renewed its offer of pecuniary indemnity to Montenegro. The coals on the Czar's yacht are now being removed for examination, and divers are examining the vessel's bottom.

Numerous Legitimist banquets were held throughout France on Wednesday. In Paris alone there were over a dozen.

Catholics of Cologne have resolved not to participate in the festivities in celebration of the completion of the Colonge Cathedral. The Prussian Government have requested that a proclamation of state of siege be issued in Leipsic and Hamburg. denouncing them as hot beds of A Gavosa despatch says that orders have been sent to the French fleet not to withdraw in the event of the bombardment of Dulcigno, but to remain in the rearmost line. It is rumorod that the naval demonstration is to be abandoned. It is abandoned. - Ep. T

The Czar's marriage with the Princess Dalgorouki was privately celebrated, it is said, a month ago, the witnesses being Mr. Daniel Crimmin, sworn .- His the two Russian Ministers, Alderberg and testimony also corroborated that of the Milutine, and General Baranoff. Even others, but we take it up at this point.] the Czarowitz, it is said urged the hasten-Capt. Barry was going away early next ing of the nupitals, the only condition

OLD WORLD NEWS.

UNHAPPY IRELAND.

The Dublin correspondent of the London Telegraph of the 16th inst. gives an account of an extraordinary scene at Claremorris. He says: - "For the last week the following placard has been posted in Claremorris and so ne adjoining parishes :- 'Hold the harvest. Last spring 2,000 men were collected at Ballintaffy to sow the Land League farms. The crops are now ripe, and again the same men are called on to reap them. At his post, then, every man come, without fear, and show your pluck, and that you are determined to keep your crops. Bring your scythes and hooks, and let every man who has a horse and cart bring them also to carry away in triumph the fruits of labor free of rent and taxes. The day is coming when every man's crops shall be free. To the front on next Tuesday, 14th inst. Men of Claremorris and Gallen. noble woman and peasant girls, come ye also and help to bind the first sheaves of corn free of rent and taxes that have ever been reaped in Ireland. The land for the people. The crops for the people. Hold the harvest. God save Ireland.' About eleven o'clock in the morning a brake, in which were seated the members of the Claremorris Brass Band, stopped at the Presbytery for the Rev. Father Corbett, and then at the hotel for Mr, Redpath and Mr. J. P. Quinn, the Land League representative. The brake was driven through the streets of the town, the band playing 'God save Ireland.' A large number of cars followed, and, as the cavalcade went through the streets toward Ballintaffy, woman, men and children rushed to the doors shouting 'God bless you. Father Corbett.' Ballintaffy is four miles from Claremorris. On the way the party overtook dozens of carts and large num bers of men on foot, carrying scythes Ballintaffy about noon. More than an acre of 'the Land League oats,' as they are called, had already been cut. About one hundred men, women and young children were employed cutting and binding the oats. The arrival of the Rev. Mr. Corbett was received with loud and long continued cheering by the reapers and binders. Men and women arrived until there were five or six hundred present, each of whom worked. Woman apoligized for the absence of Eastern situation says that great obstacles their husbands by saying they were in England earning the 'rint.' Men and women were present from Claremorris and the surrounding parishes."

The Surveyer General and Mrs. Adams are guests of David McLellan, Esq., M. P. P.—Evening Telegraph.

PORT OF CHATHAM.

Oct 4-bk Skulda, 249, Halversen, bal 4-bk Professor Lonteur, 505, Matthesen, Cork, bal R A & J Stewart.

Oct 4-bk Racer, Vanensed, Marseilles. deals Guy, Bevan & Co. bk Melbourne, Leegaurd, Catte, deals

Guy, Beyan & Co. bk Nicanor, Olsen, Havre, deals J B Snowball. 6-bk Oxo, Dahl, Kiverpool, deals

PORT OF NEWCASTLE.

Oct 4-bk Thomass Lee, 309 Wilson, Whitehaven, bal D &J Ritchie & Co.

ENTERED. Oct 1- bk Nora, Emersen, Ayr, deals RA& J Stewart.