MRS. JAS. F. MAHER. St. John St., Chatham.

Wanted.

The laboring men want employment as long as it can be had this fall and no Due Bills.

The Season.

During Monday night upwards of six to take off. inches of snow fell but as it rained all day yesterday and the greater portion of last night, there is nothing left on our streets but mud.

The Shooting Season.

A number of gunners from abroad are wending their way to the shooting grounds. Wild geese and duck are plentiful in the Bays. During the storm Monday night several dead brant and ducks were found round one of the light houses on the South side of the river. In all likelihood they were attracted by the light so owe their destruction to striking against the glass.

Indians Drowned.

During the snow storm of Monday night last, three intoxicated Indians left their homes at Bartibogue. Nothing The latest victim is no less a person than in an exhausted condition who gave the of financial irregularities. above information. The bodies of the other two have not yet been found.

There are three candidates out for the Parish of Glenelg, Mr. James Fitzpatrick, William McNaughton, and Hugh Cameron.

There are four candidates out for the Parish of Newcastle, Messrs. R. B. Adams, Charles E. Fish, John Wood and William Smallwood.

Fire.

Last Sunday night a fire broke out on board the steam tug "Relief," which was lying at the proprietor's wharf, and whilst the captain and crew were taking their night's repose within its scorching timbers. About nalf-past eleven the captain, Alex. Degrass, was awakened by the entering of smoke into his apartment which was joining the place where the very start. No one can fail who is willing fire is supposed to have originated. He awoke the other men right away, some of whom gave the alarm whilst others hundred dollars in a single week. Nothing applied water to the fire with buckets, till the hand engine came. The work performed by the men in attendance at the hand engine kept the fire from spreading till the steam engine came, when they both rallied on, and by one o'clock the fire was quenched. If there had been horses, the engines might have come to the fire much more quickly and thereby stayed its progress. Whereas they had to remain where they were till a sufficient number of men had gatha ered to haul them. It is not safe to de- night. No risk whatever Many new workpend upon volunteers to haul an engine here and there at midnight. Not many as men, and young men and girls make great minutes would have passed before the day. No one who is willing to work tais to fire had catched some of the warehouses and the whole town would be thus endangered. The damages to the boat were estimated at about $350, while the loss of the men's clothing would be about sixty dollars.
