THE UBQUITOUS PRINCE OF WALES.

[London World.]

At the present moment the Prince of Wales is a wanderer upon the face of the earth. He may be back with us once more in one or two weeks, or two days. Who will venture to predict when he may be ordered off again? When one thinks of the locomotive powers which his Royal Highness is compelled to display, and adaptation of some lines from a popular comic opera, which are now in every one's lips irresistibly suggests itself. Of the Prince of Wales it may truly be said that, of being

"A Marlborough House young man, A Pall Mall and Park young man," he is, by hard fate, compelled to be "A car and saloon young man, A cabin and deck young man, A Calais and Dover young man, All the world over."

But that is not all. The Prince of Wales is not only the greatest traveller of his time; he is perpetually condemned to travel on commission. When he goes to Vienna or St. Petersburg, it is as the representative of the great firm at home. He is literally stuffed with trade samples. He appears before the world, not in his capacity as the future monarch of an empire on which the sun never sets, but as Britannia's bagman. All persons have heard of travellers in American "notions;" the Prince of Wales is a traveller in English notions. Now he travels in smiles and now in tears. One week he sets forth to Russian capital to prove to its inhabitants how fine a stock of sympathetic mourning is kept always on hand in these islands; the next he starts off for the gay metropolis of Austria with a choice selection of jocund sayings and a countenance expressive of radiant happiness. Between the fulfillment of these commissions he has executed several little jobs of an analogous character at home. He has paid his tribute to departed greatness in an English churchyard and a day or two later has produced his best specimens of beamingly sympathetic gladness on the occasion of a nuptial ceremony in an ancient shrine. But his business and its associations have systematically accompanied him, and whenever he has shown himself he has been forcibly reminded by facts that, whatever he may be in the future, he is at the present travelling agent of the house of Hanover and Guelph.

PAPAL CONSISTORY.

The Pope on Thursday held a consistory at which twenty-one cardinals were present. The Pope referred to the recent disturbance. The Osservatore romano says the Pope declared that the disturbances proved that the Vicar of Christ enjoyed neither liberty nor safety in Rome. He was, however, prepared to confront the dangers of the future.

PIRACY IN THE CHINA SEAS.

(London Times.)

A letter from Hong Kong received at Plymouth furnishes details of the attack by Chinese pirates on a German bark. The "Occident" left Hong Kong on the 28th of April, and after lying in the Ly-ee-moon that night, proceeded on her voyage. Two Chinese junks were seen on the same course as the ship an hour later. One of the junks went quite near the ship to starboard, interfering so much with the course the ship was steering that she was compelled to change it. When requested to get clear from the ship the junk people said they could not in consequence of the wind. Suddenly the junks steered direct to starboard, and stinkpots and firecrackers were thrown on board the ship from the mast-head and other parts of the junks. A Chinese sailor who was steering was wounded by a bullet in the right shoulder, but not seriously. The captain was attacked by the pirates, who boarded the vessel to the number of between twenty and thirty. One of the pirates made a lunge at him with a spear. He was then driven to the fore part of the ship, placed under guard, and threatened with serious consequences in the event of his offering any resistance. The mate, a European, was treated in the same way. The piratical band then began to search the ship. They took from the captain's cabin a silver watch and gold chain, a telescope and some money. They also took everything that was valuable from the cabins of the mate and boatswain. The latter, also a European, was asleep in his cabin when attacked by the pirates, who threw stinkpots into his cabin, which woke him up. Escaping by the skylight on to the deck, he was at once surrounded and roughly handled, then taken by force to where the captain and mate were, and warned and threatened as they had been. From the Chinese crew on board, the robbers took everything of value. From the supercargo they took $382 in money and his clothes. From the ship they took two lanterns and four rolls of canvas. They finally conducted the captain back to his cabin, and told him to show them where the money on board was. He assured them they had already taken all. They warned him again that he had better be quiet, and went off. On the captain coming on deck, shortly afterward, they were making off.

SITTING BULL INTERVIEWED.

Fort Yates, Dak, Aug 4.—An extended interview has been had with Sitting Bull. He says he was born near old St. George on Willow creek, below the mouth of the Cheyenne river, and believes he is about 44 years old. His father was the famous Indian chief Jumping Bull. He says:—"I am chief by inheritance as well as by deeds of bravery." He has with him two wives and nine children, including twins. After himself he regards Four Horns the greatest of living chiefs. When asked why he had surrendered, he denied having done so. He says when he went to Fort Buford he did so with the intention of remaining only a few days and did not understand that he had given himself up. He shall now demand of the Government that it shall set him free. He was asked in what way he considered the Government wronged him, but gave an evasive reply, saying that he had never had either misunderstandings or agreements with the Government, had never made any treaties with the whites, never sold them any lands, and never made war upon the United States. Without ever having committed any depredations upon the white man, or the white

INDIAN WAREFARE.

Fort Craig, N. M., Aug. 4.—O'Neil, a wounded miner, reports that the Indians ambushed and fired upon nine Americans and twenty-six Mexicans in Colorado Canyon, 35 miles from here. The Americans and Mexicans for a while were demoralized. The fight lasted from 11:30 till dark. Nine men were wounded, and one killed, and two were missing. The Indians were seen to pack their dead on horses. They captured all the American and Mexican stock, and left them afoot. The commander of the whites was evidently unfamiliar with the Indian methods of fighting. Indian scouts and coloured soldiers went in pursuit of the ambushers. Evidently more than one party of Indians are out, and Mescaleros has undoubtedly been reinforced by Nina, the chief of Victoria's remnant. More fighting must take place soon, as the Indians are now surrounded on all sides by scouting parties, while a good sized outfit is on their trail. They will no doubt try to make back into Mexico.

THE LABOURERS' STRIKE IN IRELAND.

The laborers' strike is everywhere extending. At Queens-town, Mallow, and different centres of labor, men have joined the movement. The strike has merged into general agitation for an increase of wages. In several instances the farmers have agreed to the terms asked. In the great majority of cases, however, the farmer's are holding out. The laborers are going through the country in large bodies, visiting the farmer's houses, and inducing the laborers to join their movement. Up to the present no violence has been offered. They are pursuing the agitation quietly but effectively. They were blowing a horn through the country, and the police of Ballincolling, who accompanied them so as to prevent any breach of the peace, requested them to desist from this practice, and they did so. Farm laborers have heretofore been paid six shillings a week, with house or cabin rent free. They have been in the habit of paying at the rate of £15 an acre for potato ground, and six shillings per quarter for the grass of a sheep. They demand an increase of one shilling per week in their wages, the reduction of the rent for potato ground to £10 an acre, and the grass of a sheep free.

It is stated in London that a deputation of prominent Conservatives is about to go to Ireland, to enquire into and report on the relative condition of laborers living respectively under and working for resident and non-resident landlords and farmers. The object of the deputation is to form a basis to its report for legislation upon the labor question.

Rheumatism of the Blood and Debility. HAVERHILL, Mass. March 17, 1881.

Gentlemen,—Thirteen years ago I was troubled with rheumatism of the blood. My blood was in such poor condition that when I retired my arms would become so paralyzed that I could not move the clothes to cover me. At last PERUVIAN SYRUP was recommended, and on taking two small bottles I was completely restored to health, and had no occasion to use it again for ten years. About three years ago I was taken with kidney complaint and had dreadful pains in my back and side. At times, when in the street, I would have such severe attacks that I would be obliged to sit down on a door step, and I would cry like a child. After suffering for some time I remembered what the PERUVIAN SYRUP had formerly done for me, and the use of one large bottle entirely cured me. A few years since my sisters health completely broke down, she was so weak that she could do no work. She consulted Dr. Durkee, of Roxbury, who recommended PERUVIAN SYRUP. He said it was just the remedy to meet her case, and the only one he knew of. The result proved the correctness of his opinion, for the use of one bottle completely cured her. Yours very truly, MRS. CARRIE A. DAVIS, No 5 Nichols St.
