SENATOR MACPHER-SON'S LETTER.

Our readers are, we suppose, aware, that MrBlake has engaged in a perpetuel campaign against the present government. He is responsible to no one for the political doctrines he preaches, and no one is responsible for them. While the practical Mr Mackenzie was head of the liberal party, These figures show plainly that Mr Blake could not be induced the Mackenzie Government will most surely quicken the blood, and hear to make a move, but preferred swelled their controlable expen- Household Panacea, being acknowledged as going to England, and finding diture enormously in the three fault with what his associates first years: and that they were were doing. Several banquets have Expenditure in 1873-4, been given to him lately, and at these he has taken pains to air himself. But it is easy talking when the talking is all on one side, and it is easy creating an enthusiasm wnen the audience are all of the same politics as the speaker. Things would not be quite so charming with Mr. Blake, if SirCharlesTupper were at hand. Mr. Blake is in mortal terror of Sir Charles, and was actually afraid to meet him in Montreal last winter. We hope the party will see that Sir Charles this summer will not be so very very far behind Blake on the speech-making campaign.

Senator Macpherson has been reading the wild statements of Mr. Blake, and seeing they were so misleading if not in many cases totally without to foundation, the Senator wrote and addressed a letter to an M-P., George Jackson, a friend of D his from Ontario. He says:-

It thus apears that the alleged grossly extravagant expenditure of 1879-80 (putting aside all considerations as to the necessity of an increase in certain directions in consequence of the increase in the demands of the public business) is actually less than in previous years, as the following figures will show. The expenditure in 1879-80 is:-
