Correspondence. Spicy News Items Gathered by Gazette Correspondents. Johnson.

Nov. 14.—When I began corresponding to the Gazette my only intention was to furnish news that might be of general interest to your readers, more especially natives of this section now residing elsewhere.

One or two correspondent tried to be funny at my expense; while I appreciated their humor, I did not feel inclined to let their attacks go unanswered. I have never assailed any other correspondent, and in all controversy have confined myself to replies made to attacks upon me. I would prefer to avoid all discussion, but shall not flee from it. As Admiral Duncan told the Taylor boy midshipman who enquired during action when the battle would cease, "The fight will end when the enemies flag is struck."

Another (?) correspondent who signs himself Wilbur D. Hetherington, makes an attack upon me, using such gentlemanly (?) terms as "mind wandering," "fool and abusive," "wicked trash," etc. He denies being XX. I appreciate the spirit of renovated respectability which prompted the denial, but fail to see the necessity of it. I certainly did not NAME Wilbur D. Hetherington, neither did I say that XX had moved to Hamilton Mountain, or even that he was a native of Washademoak. Is that denial a case of "guilty conscience?"

Did Wilbur D. Hetherington see a portrait of himself in my description of the algebraical antagonist? If so I am too much of a gentleman to contradict him. Great authors have frequently been assailed by persons whom they never knew, for caricaturing their character, habits, and appearance. Is Wilbur D. Hetherington's mistake (?) to be taken as a sign of great literary ability on my part? He threatens to withdraw his "attention" from me, I did not solicit his "attention" in this case, and shall not consider the withdrawal of the same any unkindness. His "attention" is absolutely of no use to me, and if he has any more laying around loose in his pocket, I sincerely trust that he will bestow it on some one else.

Nov. 15.—As I have noticed no items from Thorn town or Cody's of late I thought a few notes on the doings of these places might be of interest to many of your readers and especially to those readers who formerly lived here. On the 13th, Cody's was favored with a visit from Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways. The meeting was well advertised and a general desire on the part of the electors to hear the policy of the present government explained by our representative drew out a large crowd regardless of political opinions. I might mention the fact that the palace car which the electors had heard so much about in former times was an object of no little curiosity and its contents caused ludicrous remarks as the visit from the minister happened when the minds of the people were stirred on the prohibition question. There were three speakers preceding Mr. Blair viz.: Messrs. Trueman, Milligan and McAlpine. The speech of the evening was delivered by Hon. A. G. Blair. After introducing himself to the people and paying a very high compliment to the place he took sometime in defining his position as regards the two great political parties of Canada. He denied ever being a Liberal-Conservative but owned that he had not been a life long Liberal, and he took the people in his confidence and told them that he formerly was a Smasher. He then proceeded to justify the government in their general policy, especially their R. R. policy such as the Drummond County Deal, the Crow's Nest pass, etc., telling his hearers that the government gave the C. P. R. company eleven thousand dollars per mile, a clear gift for some hundred and twenty seven miles. He also spoke about the contract with MacKenzie & Mann to build a road to the Yukon country, telling how it was defeated in the Senate. He dwelt on the necessity of opening up the mineral lands of the West, and the need of the Government to give large grants for that purpose.

The most remarkable feature of the speech was the absence of any reference to the R. R. that is surveyed from Chipman to Newcastle seemingly forgetting that we have mineral lands and require an outlet to the world's market as well as our western friends.

Senator King made some remarks regarding the absence of Mr. Tarte and as the "wags" had it canonized Tarte.

On the 18 ult. we were visited by Dr. Silas Alward, H. W. Woods and H. B. Hetherington in the interest of the local Opposition. The hall was packed and when the speakers entered the hall they were greeted by a burst of applause. Mr. Wood was the first speaker. He introduced himself to the audience as being a son of the late Hon. Frank Woods, our former representative. He then proceeded to deal with the income and expenditures of our province pointing out the inability of the present government and the pressing need of a change of administration. The next speaker was Mr. Hetherington. He had not spoken long before it was evident that he had his subject well in hand. In his review of Mr. Blair's political career he showed a master hand. Sometimes he had his audience in roars of laughter and again in a few moments he had them spell bound on the gravity of our political situation.

After an hour's address bristling with logic, facts and humors he took his seat amid a roar of applause. His speech was considered by all parties one of the ablest political addresses ever delivered in the parish of Johnston. Dr. Alward followed. After paying a very high compliment to the last speaker he proceeded to arraign the government for their inability proving his contention by quoting from the Blue-Book and the speech was one of his carefully prepared production dealing with the accounts of the province in no uncertain way.

"The friends of the Government are anxiously awaiting the arrival of our M. P.'s to defend their actions on the public platform. On the 2nd inst. the Johnston Baptist Sewing circle held their public sale of fancy goods and a pie social. Notwithstanding the heavy rain there was a good attendance and they realized a handsome sum.

On the 3rd inst. Court Washademoak I. O. F. had a turkey supper. Judge Emmerson and Mr. Kinghorn delivered able addresses on the workings of the order and the superiority of the Foresters over the old straight line companies. On the 5th inst. Doney Lodge L. O. L. held a turkey supper, and enjoyed a general good time. Patterson Bros., mill is still running but expects to finish next week.

Farming in the Maritime Provinces

Differs materially from farming in Ontario and the West. Conditions are different and our markets not the same. A product profitable in those sections would not pay the tillage here, and a suggestion valuable to a westerner, would prove disastrous if followed by our farmers. In subscribing for a agricultural publication it is well to bear this in mind. There's only one paper that treats of farming from a Maritime Province standpoint. It is the
