Hibernia.

"The Angel of Death" seems to be no respecter of persons. He has again visited this community, and claimed his own, Mrs. Annie H. DeLong, who died on the 17th of this month at her son's residence in Browntown.

Mrs. DeLong was in the sixty-fourth year of her age, and she was ever ready to assist the sick and afflicted. Her genial disposition won for her a host of friends, who sincerely sympathize with the bereaved family in their sad loss. But their loss was her gain as she has only crossed the swellings of Jordan to welcome those who place their trust in the Saviour of mankind.

The family circle now consists of ten grown persons. Their names are Joseph DeLong, of Amesbury, Mass., U. S. A., Mrs. William Rice; Mrs. Sylvester VanWart and Bradford DeLong of Hibernia; Mrs. Wilber D. Hetherington of Blue Mountain; Mrs. Leigh King and Mrs. Almond MacDonald of Fredericton; Edward DeLong with whom she lived; John DeLong of the Otnabog and Miss Dora DeLong of Wickham.

Her sister, Mrs. Puddington, died just three weeks before, and another one, Mrs. Elizabeth Rathburn is quite sick. The remains of Mrs. DeLong was laid to rest in the family burial ground, at the Otnabog on Sunday, the Rev. W. N. Perry officiating at both the house and grave. He preached a very eloquent and impressive sermon from the text, "But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ:—She is gone from all earthly woes, And in the heaven's softly seeks repose. From the wickedness of this world let free, With the Saviour eternally shall be."

Chipman.

The people of Briggs' Corner have long felt the need of a public Hall and steps are being taken to erect a commodious building this spring that shall be open to all religious, moral and literary purposes.

A notice in the Royal Gazette announces that the incorporated body intend holding a public meeting on Wednesday the fifth of April next, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year and taking initial steps toward building such a hall as shall meet the demands of this rising village. The building fund is divided into 125 shares of five dollars each, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public interested in the project to attend the meeting and enter their names as shareholders.

The scholars of Upper Salmon Creek gave an exhibition of their skill as amateur performers last Wednesday evening in Baird's Hall. The selection was an exceedingly good one, and the faultless rendering throughout reflected the highest credit upon the teacher, Mr. Robt. Baird, who had charge of the concert. There was a large gathering present notwithstanding the bad state of the roads and a snug collection of $10 was raised to defray expenses on the school, last summer.

Miss Ellen Henderson who is now up from St. John on a visit to her sister Mrs. J. R. Rankin, at Red Bank, intends to open this spring a dress-making and millinery establishment at Chipman Station. There is room for an opening of this kind and Miss Henderson who has had years of experience in her line of business in St. John will get plenty of work here.

The Assessors have finished the arduous duty assigned them in apportioning the rates and taxes for another year among the rateable inhabitants of the Parish. The Chipman House sustained its high reputation for hospitality by extending to these officials the freedom of a first class hotel and such creature comforts as the weary know how to appreciate.

This hotel is heated throughout all its departments by means of a large furnace, and stands as a monument of enterprise as to what one lone woman can do.

Notwithstanding that all the roads are piled high with snow and the thermometer running below zero the home of Mr. Hurley, in the Immigrant Settlement was the scene of pleasant surprise when half a dozen old grannies came to discuss certain domestic affairs incidentally affecting the old gentleman's social relations in the newly constituted family circle. After some ado the old gentleman, who is almost blind, deaf, and badly crippled with rheumatism became reconciled to condition of matters and finally yielded to the inevitable. Nature in the meantime slowly resumed her sway and for a while all went merrily as a marriage bell; but as their high hopes were not fully realized it was decided to hold a consultation of "old grannies." After conflicting opinions had been freely delivered all reluctantly came to the conclusion that other services besides those present would be required if the usual number of messmates in the Hurley family were to remain in STATA QUO. Acting on this impulse the final results proved the wisdom of their choice and happily the surprise party in the Immigrant Settlement terminated to the great joy of Mrs. Bridget Black in receiving many expressions of joy upon her safety and grandfather Hurley at his wee grand daughter.

The lumbermen have about finished their winter's work and are nearly all out of the woods.

The concert given at Evandale on the 9th inst., by the Kingston Coronet Band was reproduced in Belyea's Hall, on Wednesday evening to a large and appreciative audience. A number of songs on the late election were well received.

A new churn is being introduced here by J. A. Whelpley & Co., which, if it prove a success will be manufactured at their factory.

S. R. Short & Son, general merchants of Brown's Flats, are taking advantage of the good hauling and are making almost daily trips to St. John. This enterprising firm report a steadily increasing business.

Gaspereaux.

As it has been quite a while since you have heard anything from this place I thought it would be wise to let you know that some of us are living here yet. In spite of the big snow storms which we have had in the past week the roads have been kept fairly well open, and the lumber brows along the Salmon River and Gaspereaux are rapidly increasing.

Mr. Larkin Linkin has spent Saturday and Sunday at home and has again returned to his camp.

Mr. Burlage Bishop our popular mail-driver between here and Big Forks has proved very successful along the route and he also has the job of building the Parley Brook bridge on the left hand side of Gaspereaux.

Mr. Fred Austin and sons have hauled a fine pile of wood for R. D. Richardson. Messrs. Stanley J. Winslow and Ernest McEachern left last week for Lake Stream for the purpose of picking gum, but their many friends think they won't get much owing to the great snow storms.

A goodly number of the Salmon Creek teams go through this place daily from the lumber woods. They all say that they intend going back in about a week or so.

Miss Nettie Ward has given entire satisfaction to the scholars and trustees of this district.
