Poetry.

CHIPMAN.

A vendor of the "best thing on earth" struck the village the other day, was invited to a party in the evening, sold out his stock next day and here it is how it effected him:

You'll find Chipman a very nice place,
Whether out on business or leisure,
The people are kind, and you will find
They'll make your stay a pleasure.

The lumber you know, will make things go,
For lumber is now in demand;
And men are paid mostly in trade,
For the cash is never at hand.

From scows very large, and also a barge,
You may see all kinds of boats.
And a sight to see, to a fellow like me,
Is the timber the River floats.

The scenery is grand, on river and land,
And if at gatherings you're at hand,
Whatever they be, you'll feel most free
With the people of Chipman.

A TRAVELLER.

Dec. 1st, 1899.

THERE IS BLOOD UPON THY HAND.

When thou comest to the temple, there to worship the Great King,
Be thou sure no spot or blemish mars thy proffered offering,
For thy soul shall not be guiltless, nor thy brow escape the brand,
If thou comest to the Temple with the blood upon thy hand.

Art thou seeking wealth by measures
That will not withstand the light?
Canst thou say before high heaven
They are honest, just and right!
Has thou compromised thy conscience?
Bartered with the price of sin?
Then thou canst not hope to ever
Have thy gifts received within.

Hast thou sent the hungry beggar
Empty-handed from thy door?
Hast thou kept the laborer's wages,
Who has sowed and reaped thy land?
Tremble then, oh, proud oppressor?
There is blood upon thy hand!

He, to whom my thoughts and motives
Are as plain as noody light,
He will weigh thee in the balance—nothing will escape his sight,
Thou who art thy brother's keeper, how in judgment wilt thou stand,
If his blood that cries to heaven shall be found upon thy hand.

A CHAPLET OF "THE GREEN THINGS GROWING."

I love, love them so, yeh! my green things growing;
And I know that they love me without false showing;
For with many a tender touch they comfort me so much
With the sweet mute comfort of the green things growing.

Right royally in nursery or garden,
The dainty things ambitious all are stirring
This one in royal purple drest is striving,
Or that, with pride a yellow robe preferring.

Each day develops something new and gorgeous,
As the advancing sun their life's warming
The tinted vines run riot in their climbing,
And promise buds unfold in blossoms charming.

The daisy's eye uplifted sees its maker,
And blushes for its small though perfect flower.
Forget-me-nots in pink and blue attired
Are drinking deeply of the summer shower.

Their taller sisters burst clay-bonds with gladness
And nearer to the skies their flowers maturing,
Each bloom a sermon—that success is certain;
And plants revived; tell life is worth reviving.

In stones are sermons and in plants a story,
The patient waiting resurrection's hour
The new life bursting, thrilling with its glory!
These fill the soul with joy for every flower!

ELECTRA.

THE CORN OF WHEAT.

JOHN XII, 24.

"I am the Bread of Life,"
The Corn of Wheat that "fell Of purpose" into furrowed ground,
To multiply and swell.

"I am the Bread of Life,"
Heaven's bread-corn crushed and bruised,
That henceforth rich supplies might be;
O'er all the world diffused.

"I am the Bread of Life,"
The one essential good;
For giving and sustaining strength,
The necessary food.

"I am the Bread of Life,"
Men toil their bread to earn,
With eager minds; so must I be
The soul's supreme concern.

"I am the Bread of Life,"
And they who eat of Me
Have tasted food to make them wise
Throughout eternity.

"I am the Bread of Life,"
And they who on Me feed
Shall live by me in every sense—
In thought, and word, and deed.

COOK'S NEW BLOOD PILLS.

COOK'S ANODYNE LINIMENT.

The Sermon.

The caustic remarks of Justice Hawkins have not always been confined to the bench. At the opening of an assize the chaplain preached that he conceived to be a distinctly good sermon, and he had the temerity to sound Mr. Justice Hawkins on the subject.

"Did you approve of my sermon, my lord?" he asked.

I remarked in your sermon, Mr. Chaplain, was the prompt reply, "two things which, to be candid, I did not approve of and which I have, I am glad to say, never remarked on a similar occasion."

"They were, my lord?" was the anxious question of the preacher.

"The striking of the clock," answered Mr. Justice Hawkins, "twice sir."—Green Bag.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Contributed by the I. O. G. T.

As no word has been forthcoming from Queens Own Lodge for so long a time, I expect the people of Queens think that it is about expiring; but not so. Queens Own is still alive, although not in as flourishing a condition as it has been in former years. During the busy summer the lodge was in a very low condition; but the work got so people could attend, they adopted a new plan of entertainment from what had been tried previously. It was as follows; Someone would pledge themselves to entertain for a certain night; they could take any plan of entertainment they chose or that would get any one to assist them that would.

The first one that volunteered to furnish entertainment spoke on the future of the British Empire. Another member took as his topic the two classes of plant life and their characteristics, and had specimens exhibiting the points touched upon. A third night oxygen and hydrogen were prepared and simple experiments performed with them.

This system seems to work very well, and the members seem to take more of an interest than they have in the past summer.

Between intemperance and poverty there is a two-fold relation. Drink causes poverty and poverty often drives a man to drink. It is impossible to even approximate the number of "poor" people for whose poverty liquor is responsible; but the number of paupers (people who are supported by the taxpayers) produced by drink can, to a certain extent be fairly estimated. The New Voice recently sent the following question to the almshouse in each of the 284 counties of the United States:

In your opinion what proportion of your almshouse came there, directly or indirectly, through the use or abuse of intoxicating liquors, either on the part of themselves or some one else?

From the 816 replies received, it is shown that fifty-one per cent. of the inmates of that number of almshouses became paupers through drink.

As the number of persons wholly or partially, a public charge upon the nation, is estimated to be 3,000,000, it follows upon this basis, that there are today, 1,530,000 persons dependent wholly or partially upon the taxpayers of our country for the common necessities of life.

As the Voice pertinently comments, there are many unpreventable causes of poverty and pauperism, but the most prolific cause—the saloon—is preventable. Common sense therefore calls for its abolition.—Union Signal.

Bananas in Typhoid Fever.

After a long experiment with typhoid patients, Dr. Ussery of St. Louis maintains that the best food for them is the banana. He explains by stating that in this disease the lining membrane of the small intestines becomes intensely inflamed and engorged, eventually beginning to slough away in spots, leaving well defined ulcers, at which places the intestinal fluids become dangerously thin.

Now, a solid food, if taken into the stomach, is likely to produce perforation of the intestines, dire results naturally following and, this being the case, solid foods or those containing a large amount of innutritious substances are to be avoided as dangerous.

But the banana, though it may be classed as a solid food containing as it does some 95 per cent. nutrition, does not possess sufficient waste to irritate the sore spots. Nearly the whole amount taken into the stomach is absorbed, giving the patient more strength than can be obtained from other food.—American Druggist.

Drowned in Dyspeptic Despair.

Are Thousands of Suffering Canadians, Like the stab of a knife it catches you in the side, or sends agonizing pangs through the pit of your stomach after eating. It worries and wears you till your nerves give out, and, like a drowning man, you feel you are sinking day by day and help can not reach you. Is this you are mistaken. No matter how deep you have sunk, PETTY'S will reach you. As the fabled Mermaid is said to seek and soothe the drowned, so will the real PETTY'S seek your trouble and soothe your pain. Indigestion, biliousness, headache, and that despondent feeling that makes so many lives miserable, depart when PETTY'S are called in. No other medicine is compounded with such care, no other is so pure, so effective as DR. PETTY'S PILLS.

PETTY'S PILLS, and find that they contain THE ESSENTIAL ACTIVE PRINCIPLES ONLY of the various elements of the prescription from which they are compounded, ensuring the best results from the smallest possible dose."
