ACCIDENT TO PREMIER EMMERSON.—What might have proved a most serious accident occurred at Dorchester yesterday morning, when Hon. H. R. Emmerson and his little daughter Emily were thrown from their carriage while driving from the town to the premier's residence. When nearing the residence the horse became frightened and bolted, overturning the carriage and breaking the shaft, Mr. Emmerson's son, Henry, jumped and thus escaped injury. The premier was severely shaken up by the fall and received injuries to his hand and shoulder.

WEDDING BELLS.—A pretty house wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of T. Amos Godsoe, when his youngest daughter, Miss Laura Godsoe, was united in marriage to Harry King, of Chipman, Q. C. The marriage was a quiet one, the guests including only the nearest relatives. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. John Read. The bride's dress was French muslin, with demitrain, and she carried a large shower bouquet. The bridesmaid, Miss Maud King, sister of the groom, wore white organdie over heliotrope, and carried a bouquet of lavender sweet peas. The maid of honor, little Miss Winifred Saith, wore a pretty dress of white organdie. After the ceremony, luncheon was served to the wedding party and guests, after which the young couple drove to the depot and took the C. P. R. train for Montreal. They will visit Toronto, Niagara Falls and Quebec. They received many beautiful wedding gifts. The groom's present to the bride was a brooch of diamonds and pearls, and to the bridesmaids a fleur-de-lis of pearls. The bride's father gave an oak case of silver, engraved with the bride's monogram. —Sun.

Friday Evening's Concert.

To EDITOR QUEENS COUNTY GAZETTE. It seems to me that it would not be doing justice to the beautiful village of Gagetown, if we neglected to herald abroad an account of the concert which was held recently in the Temperance Hall. For this treat we are extremely grateful to its promoters, Rev. I. N. Parker and wife.

Many style it "The event of the season" but truly speaking it was the event of a life-time to many of our inhabitants. This would seem so, when some who have witnessed operas in the larger cities say that ours was unsurpassed. But why should it not be? We have rare local talent, and on this occasion we were honored with the choicest that Boston and Texas can produce, in the way of readings, singing and cake-walking. Of late we have heard a great deal about the cake-walk, and have looked forward to this entertainment with the greatest interest.

The programme was as follows:— Chorus—A Home on the Rushing Sea. Reading—Miss Hazel Boone. Song—Miss Bertha Bulyea. Dialogue—Masters Welsford Parker and John Allingham. Reading—Miss Greta Byron. Quartette—Come Where Lillies Bloom. Recitation—Miss Bessie Parker. Song—Miss Greta Byron.

INTERMISSION.

Chorus—Call John. Dutch Song—Miss Mary Dingee. Reading—Miss Nellie Bulyea. Song—John Allingham and Welsford Parker. Reading—Miss Greta Byron. Duett—Misses Dottie and Bertha Bulyea. Song—Miss Greta Byron. Cake Walk—Misses Mary Dingee and Greta Byron. Chorus.

"God Save the Queen." It would take too much space to comment on every merit, for each participant performed his or her part in a very laudable manner.

The singing by Miss Bertha Bulyea was exceedingly sweet and elicited many favorable comments. The dialogue between John Allingham and Welsford Parker should have special mention. Their articulation was perfect. The reading and singing of Miss Greta Byron, of Boston, who is but nine years old can not be described so as to do her full justice. Her manner was charming, her gesticulations were perfect.

Training under experts, coupled with a rare natural gift has made her nigh unsurpassable. Judging from the prolonged applause we are safe in saying that the Dutch dance by Miss Mary Dingee, (aged 11), of Fort Worth, Texas, delighted the audience very much. Still, we were looking forward to the grand cake-walk. This you are aware should be performed by a girl and boy, as no competent male cake-walker was obtainable, the place had to be filled by a girl. This necessitated the exclusion of a great part of the walking.

It could readily be seen that the couple were experienced "walkers" and even the highest expectations were fully realized. Miss Mary received her training at the hands of the colored Professor, Anderson Upshaw and his partner Carrie Lawson. This Professor is the champion cake-walker of the Southern States, a man who has engaged in fifteen cake-walking contests and who now wears that number of medals.

Miss Mary and her partner took the cake recently in a similar contest from twenty couples, before an audience of over three thousand people in the city of Fort Worth. This might give some idea of the competency of our performers. Surely they were pictures of grace and elegance. We cannot refrain from singing their praises less loudly, especially as the mother of the Bostonian and the father of the Texan were reared in the time-honored village of Gagetown.

ONLOOKER.

All of These Songs Free.

Announcement was made last week of a Sunday World Music Album of ten songs to be issued weekly. Following is the complete list.

"In the Shadow of the Carolina Hills," by George Taggart and Max S. Witt, authors of "The Moth and the Flame." "If All the Girls Were Like You," by Charles Graham, author of "Two Little Girls in Blue."

"I'm Nothing but a Big Wax Doll," by Malcolm Williams, author of "My Ann Elizer." "You'll Have to Transfer," by Abe Holzman, composer of "Smoky Mokes," the greatest cakewalk hit of the season.

"Sweet Norine," by Gussie L. Davis, author of "The Baggage Coach Ahead." "Snap-Shot Sal," by Williams and Walker, the two real "coons," authors of "I Don't Like No Cheap Man." "Tell Mother Not to Worry," by Louis Myll, composer of "Countdown Carnival Cakewalk."

"Prancing Pickaninnies," by Max Dreyfus, composer of "A Carolina Cakewalk." "My Georgie Lady Love," by Sterling, Howard and Emerson, authors of "Hallo, Ma Baby."

"There Ain't No Use to keep on Hanging Round," by Irving Jones, author of "Get your Money's Worth." One song each week for ten weeks, first song published Sept. 3, "In the Shadow of the Carolina Hills." The entire set is to be given away with ten Sunday Worlds, and will be sent postpaid, including ten Sunday World Weeklies for 50 cents. Send 50 cents to-day, to-morrow or next week. Don't wait later than next week. This is a most exceptional offer and is only put forth to advertise the great Sunday World. Address, Music Editor, "The World, Pulitzer Building, New York."
