TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Correspondents to the GAZETTE should always send their name in confidence to insure publication. If the writer desires its publication he will have to send his name in confidence.

ARRIVED SAFELY.—William Cox, of Manguerville, who left here early in the spring for South Africa, has arrived safely at his destination. Last week his relatives received a letter from him, written and mailed at Kimberly, which is in the centre of one of the richest diamond mining districts. Mr. Cox likes the place first rate and is well pleased with his prospects. He says the Transvaal trouble has rather upset things out there and the general opinion of the English people at the time of writing was that war was inevitable.

PROBATE COURT.—At a special sitting of the Probate Court Wednesday the final accounts in the estate of the late Hugh McLean were passed and allowed. Since the death of Mr. McLean his lumbering and milling business has been carried on by his widow who is the administratrix and under her management about $40,000 is now ready to be divided among the heirs, which consist of the infant children of the deceased. R. W. McLellan officiated as Judge of Probate. L. A. Currey of St. John appeared for the creditors, A. W. Ebbett of St. John for the bondsmen and Alex. W. Baird as proctor. A large saw mill on Salmon river owned by the late Mr. McLean, will continue to be run under Mrs. McLean's management.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A Petitediac correspondent of the Moncton Times writes: Several accidents have occurred in connection with the merry-go-round. A lady of this town fell from one of the horses and broke her collar bone so badly that she will be laid up for most of the summer. At Elgin last Saturday evening a shocking event took place. Mrs. J. D. Steeves was taking her fourth ride, and while the machine was at its utmost velocity fell fainting to the ground. The merry-go-round was immediately stopped and the unfortunate woman taken to her home, where she expired. The cause of death was heart failure, together with general ill-health. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Steeves.

Hazen, M. P., P. P., Geo. Fowler, Q. C. Hitch up your teams, fill your lunch baskets and listen to a full and fair discussion of the political issues of the day. Bring all your family and enjoy yourselves.

THE NEW GRIST MILL.—Work has been commenced upon the new grist mill now in course of construction by Mr. Charles Brown. The machinery which Mr. Brown has purchased from a Toronto firm has been shipped and is expected here next week. The mill will be a first class one having all the latest improvements and will be ready for the fall grinding. The building of a grist mill at Gagetown will be a great convenience to the farmers of this section as they will save a great deal of time and expense having their grain manufactured so near home. There is no doubt but Mr. Brown will do a profitable business here.

ANNUAL PICNIC.—The annual picnic of Sunbury division and Sheffield Union lodge, will be held at Robertson's Point, Grand Lake, on Thursday, August 31st. The Steamer Aberdeen will leave the Star Line Wharf, this city, at eight o'clock, local time and call at all regular stopping places on the way down. The fare from Fredericton will be 50 cents, Manguerville and Oromocto, 45 cents; Sheffield, 40 cents; Upper Gagetown, 25 cents. This promises to be one of the most enjoyable excursions of the season, and all who enjoy a first class outing should attend. The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of Geo. F. Banks, A. A. Treadwell, Clarence Barker, A. Dykeman, A. H. Barker, John P. Jewett, F. W. Barker, H. H. Bridges, E. C. Burpee and W. H. Barker.

BLUEBERRY PICNIC.—The young people of Gagetown have had many an enjoyable outing, and they thoroughly understand enjoying themselves at such. Now among the various ways of spending a day pleasantly, at this season of the year, perhaps, none can compare with a real "Blueberry Exertion." Such an outing about fifty young people were enabled to enjoy last Saturday through the kindness of Messrs. Belyea and Ebbett. The invitations having been duly issued, and the teams having arrived on schedule time, everybody piled into the big hay rack and were off to the plains. It was no sham affair. It was a real "blueberry exertion" (at least the horses seemed to think so), and as the big wagon plunged into ruts and mudholes or bumped over delapidated culverts, a good many occupants of the hay rack began to think so too. But the time passed pleasantly. Messrs. Fred and Leigh Ebbett were the life of the party and exerted themselves to make everybody have a good time. In fact so successful were they that we scarcely realized it until the driver hauled up his team at the plains. And then what a shout went up as we gazed over the acres of berries. Blueberries everywhere. There was a general rush from the wagons and everyone prepared to lay himself out as best he could. After a couple of hours each one seemed to have as many berries as he cared to pick and the horses were again put on the wagon. In fact so plenty were the berries that one of the wagons loaded up much sooner and retired about a mile down the road to a shady place where they prepared to have supper. The whole party soon met there and full justice was done to the fragments left from the noonday meal. After supper, owing to the kindness of some thoughtful friend, we were treated, quite unexpectedly, to most of us at least, to an entertainment conducted by a colored gentleman from the "bog" who carried out the program which consisted of choice songs, speech-making, etc., to the entire satisfaction of all concerned, and the unsuppressed mirth of the party testified to their appreciation of the old gentleman's efforts to amuse. A collection was afterwards taken up among the party and the old man liberally remunerated. Not the least noticeable and amusing feature of the day was the strenuous efforts made by a young gentleman from Gagetown, who teaches school at the Narrows, (we will mention no names), to secure a bottle of pickles, that a young gentleman from Lower Gagetown had taken to the picnic. But although often quite near the coveted prize, it was with feelings better imagined that described that he saw it borne off by the rightful owner. He should try to remember in future that "there's many a slip-p twixt the cup and the lip." The merry party arrived home feeling that they would remember the pleasures of the day far longer than they would all the blue berries they brought with them.

ALL TIMBER LANDS SALE.—The sale will take place next week of all the ungranted and unlicensed timber lands in New Brunswick. The whole lot is being put up at auction, which begins at 11 o'clock on Wednesday forenoon next and continues from day to day until all have been disposed of. The lot to be sold comprises 573 timber births, a total of 3,887½ square miles, and includes some choice timber lands, as well as some not so good. The upset price is ultimately $8 per mile. The Government is desirous of disposing of all the timber lands in possession of the Crown and takes this method and opportunity of so doing.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The death occurred yesterday morning or Tuesday night of Michael Blackhall, a well known livery stable proprietor of this city. Mr. Blackhall, who has been in poor health for some time, went to Grand Lake on Saturday on a business trip and retired for his night's rest on Tuesday evening seemingly in his usual health. At seven o'clock yesterday morning when they went to call him he was dead. Coroner C. J. Earle was notified, and he summoned a jury at once, who after making an enquiry into the circumstances decided that death was caused by the bursting of a blood vessel. The deceased gentleman, who was 70 years of age, was born at Kilkee, County Clare, Ireland, and came out to St. John with his father in 1847. He started out as a hack driver soon after his arrival here, and in 1860 commenced business as a livery stable man. He continued in that business up to the time of his death. Many years ago Mr. Blackhall drove the stage to Fredericton. When the Prince of Wales visited St. John in 1860 it was Mr. Blackhall who drove him about the city. He was almost as well known throughout the lower provinces as he was in St. John. He was very popular with the travelling public. The deceased left one brother, Robert Blackhall of this city and two sisters, Mrs. Forrest of St. John and Mrs. Collins, who lives in Ireland, the mother of police officer M. J. Collins. The remains reached the city about 8 o'clock last evening and will be interred from Mr. Blackhall's late residence, 14 Coburg street, at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.—Sun.
