RELIEF OF LADYSMITH.

Buller's Operations Crowned with Success.

A REPORT THAT MAPEKING HAS BEEN RELIEVED

LADYSMITH, by heliograph to Colenso, March 1.—A portion of the forces of General Buller, headed by General Donaldson's cavalry, the full force of the Natal Carbineers and seven companies of infantry, among them some Dublin Fusiliers and Lancashires, reached this city and raised the siege. They came via the road across Klip river and east of Caesar's Hill. Rumors yesterday morning brought information that Buller expected to relieve the garrison within twenty-four hours and the consequent rejoicing was great. White made preparations to sally out and aid the advance of the British if it became necessary. Donaldson reports that when the Lancashires charged on Pieter's Hill on Tuesday they overtook Boers lying from the trenches and bayoneted them. Sixteen of the fleeing men were killed and twenty-three were wounded. The Boers after the capture of Pieter's Hill on Tuesday by Barton with the Dublin Fusiliers and two battalions of the Sixth Brigade seemed to fade away. There was no general retiring movement observable, but they simply disappeared as the British advanced. Grobler's Kloof was also abandoned, and as Lyttleton pushed forward his men the road seemed to be entirely clear. Donaldson with his troop of horse was sent on a scouting expedition to Weston on Tuesday night and reconnoitered all last night. On Wednesday morning he reported he could reach Ladysmith, and the Natal Carbineers, with the Fusiliers and Lancashires, with several other companies, were placed under his command. They had little difficulty in making their way through the ravines and around the hills to the southwest of the city and last evening crossed the plain following the railroad track and entered the city. Their arrival was hailed with frantic joy by the besieged. At first it was thought they were the advance of Buller's main force, but this was not so. Buller, according to the relieving force is rapidly moving north along the railroad from Pieter's Station and expects to occupy Nulthorpe, four miles south of here, by to-night. It is expected Buller's main column will reach here to-night or to-morrow. The Boers have not made any demonstration from Bulwana this morning, and it is doubtful if they are aware of the entrance of Donaldson into Ladysmith. They have unquestionably retired in great numbers from the country surrounding Ladysmith, for according to Donaldson's reports the hills that had been occupied by the enemy to the southwest were bare of Boers yesterday. Donaldson came first in line. We were in desperate straits for water to drink and fevers of various kinds were making sad havoc among the members of the brave garrison.

RENSBERG, Feb. 28.—General Clements, escorted by a squadron of Inniskillings entered Colenso this morning and received an enthusiastic reception. The Boers are in full retreat. A number of leading men have been arrested. The inhabitants are well and not starving. They have suffered many indignities at the hands of the Boers, but no violence.

LONDON, March 1.—The Pietromaritzberg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, under date of Tuesday, says: "Mr. Cutridge, a contractor, who resides at Dundee, after being kept in imprisonment at Pretoria for five weeks, was put beyond the Portuguese border. He describes the treatment of the British prisoners as disgraceful. Fever had broken out before he left, and the Boer government would not allow adequate medical supplies."

LADYSMITH Thursday March 1.—Surrounded by cheering soldiers, townspeople and coolies, celebrating the relief of the town, Sir George White, at the postoffice, addressed the throng. He said: "People of Ladysmith, I thank you for the heroic and patient manner in which you assisted me during the siege. It hurt me terribly to cut down the rations; thank God we kept the flag flying." Then profoundly moved, General White led the assembly in singing God Save the Queen.

A later Ladysmith despatch says that the country to the westward is dotted with bolting Boers, the groups sometimes numbering 500. A general flight is evident.

A despatch to the Standard from Ladysmith, dated Wednesday, says: "The advance guard of the relief column consisting of a body of cavalry under Gen. Donaldson, entered Ladysmith at six this evening. Our hopes of success were sunk to the lowest point yesterday, when we were left wholly without news of the movements of Gen. Buller, and his guns could no longer be heard. This morning however, brought renewed confidence, as we watched the enemy in full flight to the northward, driving before them long lines of cattle and wagons. Still we did not dare believe that the relief was immediately at hand, but of a sudden, while the Boers were straining every nerve to dismount their Long Tom on Bulwana Hill, two squadrons of the Imperial Light Horse and Natal Carbineers were seen approaching at full gallop across the plain from the south. The news spread like wildfire. Everybody, officers, soldiers and civilians poured out to greet the horsemen. Then the sick and wounded crawled out of their tents to join the cheering. The troopers came on with a loose rein, for the very horses seemed to know the welcome awaiting them. Almost before they reached the drift over the Klip River they were met by the comrades whom they had come to release. Amid cheers and handclapping they made their way into the city, where ensued a scene of uncontrollable enthusiasm and excitement. But their work was not at an end. They were sent in pursuit of the Boers. Our men were too exhausted to join them. With the idea of capturing the Boers' Long Tom, our naval guns have been shelling its position throughout the night in order to prevent its removal, and even if it had been got away, the recent heavy rains were certain to impede the enemy's movements.

The garrison which had for four months defended Ladysmith with such staunchness and devotion, is only a shadow of the force that was compelled to retire before the Boers after the battle of Lombard's Kop on October 3. Hardly a man in it but wears evidence of the physical sufferings and mental torture of these weary, wasted weeks. On Oct. 30, Gen. White commanded 558 officers and 13,760 men. Ten days later his force had shrunk to 493 officers and 12,556 men. The rest were either killed or had been missing since the investment. The British have lost in action 16 officers and 162 men. Casual bombardment killed 35 officers and men, wounded 20 officers and 168 men, 47 officers and 560 men of whom 94 have since died, have been wounded in action. Disease has accounted for 476 more, a figure that implies a greater loss of life and permanent injury to health than in all the battles, assaults and sorties from Talana Hill to the date of the relief. The greatest danger indeed has not been the enemy's shells, but the ever present menace of disease. Enteric fever, low fever, and dysentery have been rampant, the direct outcome of bad water, privation and the fetid dust arising from a town crowded with 21,000 half starved inhabitants. The repulse at Colenso was followed by a reduction of rations, and when the relief column recrossed the river after the battle of Spion Kop and the prospect of success seemed more than ever remote, the inhabitants were placed on still shorter commons. From three quarters of a pound of trex or tea they were reduced to half a pound of horse-flesh and a half a pound of bread to half a pound of biscuits, supplemented by one ounce of sugar and a third of an ounce of tea. Such fare was barely enough to keep body and soul together. It was pitiful to see the pale, listless, shabby men of the garrison, the wrecks of the splendid force that took the field in the latter weeks of October. Some of the regiments indeed can muster only a quarter their former strength, and some time must elapse, with careful nursing and proper feeding, before they can be considered fit for active work. The once dashing cavalry brigade has practically ceased to exist. At the beginning of the year we had 5,500 horses and 4,600 mules; before the end of January we could feed only 1,100. The remainder had either been converted into joint soups or have been left to forage for themselves."

NEW YORK, March 9.—A cable from Brussels says that a report received there from Boer sources announces that the siege of Mafeking has been raised, the Boers abandoning the attack for strategic reasons. London, it is reported, believes the despatch to be true and is again elated, this being the third point where the British were besieged to be opened up.

They Dye for the World.

DIAMOND DYES Are Imitated But Never Equalled.

For over a quarter of a century Diamond Dyes have stood the severest tests in millions of homes, and have won a fame and popularity that has made them the world's standard home dyes.

Speculators, for the sake of large profits have endeavored to imitate the Diamond Dyes, but their productions have always proved miserable failures and deceptions. There is as much difference between the genuine Diamond Dyes and the imitations as there is between a genuine bank note and a counterfeit.

If you wish to dye successfully, profitably and well, avoid all imitation package dyes. Ask for the "Diamond" and see that you get them.

How It Excels.

Paine's Celery Compound Has Virtues That Meet the Most Obstinate Cases.

Its Virtues and Powers Act Directly On the Nerves and Blood.

The Great Spring Medi- cine for Every Home.

Paine's Celery Compound excels all other combinations and preparations as a spring medicine because it works directly on the shattered and unstrung nerves and impure and poisoned blood, from which so many diseases have their origin.

Paine's Celery Compound must not be confounded with deceptive, worthless and short-lived remedies such as sarsaparillas, nergines, tonics and pills that have little or no power over disease.

Paine's Celery Compound has virtues and strengthening powers that quickly brace the nerves, cleanse the blood and restore perfect circulation and digestive vigor. The special mission of Paine's Celery Compound is to accomplish what thousands of doctors fail in—the banishment of old and obstinate disorders from the system, such as kidney and liver troubles, neuralgia, rheumatism and dyspepsia. All these serious afflictions rapidly disappear under the cleansing and regulating action of Paine's Celery Compound.

If you desire renewed health and true life in the early spring season take Paine's Celery Compound. Firmly and decidedly refuse the SOMETHING JUST AS GOOD that may be offered you by some dealers. Paine's Celery Compound "makes sick people well."

March 3.—Beginning with a weather report to-day: We had the hardest freezing of the season on Tuesday night, and a very severe snow storm on Thursday which has blocked the roads, especially Headline Hill.

Miss May Corbett of St. John is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn.

Our young ladies should look closely at their escorts in future, otherwise they might be deceived, and make as ludicrous a mistake as a young lady from this place did while returning from a revival meeting at Coothe Hill Methodist Church a short time ago.

Miss Beatrice Wilson has returned from visiting relations in St. John.

Mr. Daniel Palmer has removed his saw mill to Gagetown, a considerable quantity of logs are being hauled to Dunn's Corner to be sawed on his return.

Inclendency of the weather prevented the concert being held in the Presbyterian Church as announced
