As leaders in a reform movement we are exposed to the criticisms of a relentless enemy, and it behooves every Son of Temperance to lead an upright, blameless life, remembering that one unworthy member will bring reproach upon our whole order.

Let us also keep our eyes open to every phase of this great movement. While we should not yield a jot or tittle in our effects to reclaim the inebriate and to strengthen those who have come out from the embrace of the destroyer, neither should we relax our efforts to remove the temptations to drink from the weak and the rising generation. Our weapon for the accomplishment of this has been the Canada Temperance Act, a weapon good in itself but whose force has been broken by the actions of lawyers and judges. Now however the law is being well enforced in some parts of the Province, while the prospects generally are brighter. Let us remember however that apparently through fear or favor of the liquor interest the Dominion Parliament has repeatedly refused to grant us our moderate demands for further legislation, and it will probably hold to this course until temperance people can be led to crystalize their principles into votes. No adherence to party can justify a Son of Temperance in voting for any candidate for public office, whose principles are not clearly defined in favor of the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

In conclusion my brethren, in yielding up the office with which you have honored me during the past year, I desire to express my thanks to all who have given assistance in the work.

Especially do I desire in this connection to mention the Grand Scribe, who has been most prompt and diligent in all the work of his office and to whose acquaintance with its duties and untiring labors, I feel that much of our pros-

The remarks of the G W Patriarch on many points cannot be improved by any words which may be used by your Committee We would recommend that the G W Patriarch' report be read paragraph by paragraph, and and made certain suggestions as to action taken thereon by this Grand Division.

The work which has been done during the past few years under the direction of the propagation Committee of the Grand Division has proved of important value to the order in the jurisdiction, and your Committee believe that more extended operation will lead to even better results.
