Journal.

THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1886.

HOW DO YOU VOTE?

How do you vote? That is the question.

We ask not your party or creed
We ask not your race or complexion,
Or how have you voted before—
But how will you vote next election?

You say you're a temperance man, 'That drink never tickles your palate; We're glad, but we measure, you know, Our friends by their acts at the ballot.

rriend James is a "temperance man." And so is our good neighbor Weller— Both talk of strong drink as a curse, But keep it themselves in the cellar.

Friend Jones represents well the men Who pity the drunkard's condition; But none of the three ever vote For strict, unreserved Prohibition.

How do you stand? That is the question.

Prohibition, or else the Drink-traffic' You are voting for one or the other, There is no half measure between— Which side have you taken, my brother? The question is pointed and clear You vote for salvation or ruin —
For life of the nation at large,
Or death through distilling and brewing,
