

DEAR JOURNAL.—It has been some time since I have had anything to say through your columns, but I assure you it is not from lack of interest in the JOURNAL or of the Order of Sons of Temperance.

Soldiers Division, No. 5, is prospering finely, holding very interesting meetings weekly. We still work under the "Credit System" and Company A furnished the following interesting programme, last Saturday evening.

Interesting readings by the following: Edna Collins, J E Meader, Minnie Sibley, Vesta Morgan, Julia Farnham, Mamie Barker, and Frank Stafford. Recitation by Mertie Barker.

Our young members are thoroughly interested in the Division, and are always prepared to do something for the Good of the Order and we seldom have that worn out recitation well learned by so many "you will have to excuse me to-night," and for this reason our meetings are always interesting.

Company B furnish the entertainment next Saturday evening. Our Division have done a large amount of good in the town, nearly every family, in our locality, is represented in the Division, and the younger portion anxiously wait for their fourteenth birthday, and feel their importance greatly when once they become members of the Division.

Well Brothers and Sisters I will try and write something more interesting next time, and will try and send something oftener in the future.

Yours in L. P. and F.

O C

Cumberland Co. (Maine) District Division.

The annual session of the District Division, S of T of Cumberland Co. was held Thursday, May 23, 1889, at Central Park Hall, Yarmouth. The D W P being absent, the meeting was called to order by G W P Fred Stevens, of Cumberland Mills, Maine. It being a busy time of year and especially so with farmers of which the District Division is mostly composed the attendance was small during the day, but having one quarter of the number of Divisions represented, which have complied with the requirements of the District Division which was required in the by-laws to make a quorum, we at once proceeded to business. The following officers were elected:

E H Dolley, Pine Tree Division, No. 1, D W P; E T Haskell, Central Park, Yarmouth, D W A; J W Kemp, Pine Tree, D R S; C M Stuart, Pine Tree, D Trea; Fred Stevens, Rechab, D Chap; F Sweetser, Central Park, D Con.

After the business had been faithfully performed the meeting was adjourned to the second Thursday in August, to be held at Pine Tree Division, No. 1, East Windham Maine.

It would hardly be doing justice to the members of Central Park Division to close with out speaking of the hospitality shown us by both ladies and gentlemen. We were taken to Summit Spring, near the Royals River, in teams at their expense, and back to the hall where supper was served, and here I will say, for the benefit of the ladies, that their supper could not have been beaten, unless there has been some new kind of food patented very recently, with new cooks that have recently graduated from some cooking college, and if all these things have mysteriously taken place, allow me to still have explicit confidence, in the ability and generosity of the ladies of No. Yarmouth.

At 7.30, p. m., the hall was opened to the public and we listened with pleasure to singing, speeches and recitations and reports of the different Divisions, which in all, made a very enjoyable and profitable season, showing that the interest in the temperance cause is still progressing in the old Pine Tree State, and that we are slowly but surely following the evil towards its setting sun, which will some day go down behind the darkened west, and set to rise no more.

C. M. STUART.

San Francisco, with its one criminal to every twenty-three citizens, one liquor saloon to every sixteen voters, four thousand grog-shops, and ten thousand women of ill-repute, is a sorry advertisement of the wine and liquor business.

The Object of the Fight.

There is no doubt about the object of the temperance movement. The temperance men intend to destroy the drunkard-making system of America, root and branch. There is no such thing as compromise upon the issue. In the end the liquor traffic of this country will abolish temperance, or temperance will abolish the liquor traffic. The issue is squarely made and squarely joined before the people; hence I say I would not lead any man into the temperance ranks unless he comes because he believes it is right, and comes to stay. I would have you take the facts to your home, to your office, to your store or place of business; and when you are alone, and away from all exciting influences, sit down calmly and honestly, and having examined the liquor side and the temperance side of the question with equal care, make up your verdict in accordance with your honest judgement. If I should succeed in convincing you that I am right, if your judgement, reason, intelligence lead you to that conclusion, and then you refuse to work up to the full measure of your convictions, you are guilty of injustice, or cowardice, of which I could not believe you capable.

The whole issue involved is simply a question of fact. If the dram-shop of this country is a blessing; if it makes honest voters, honest citizens, kind husbands, and loving fathers; if it leads to an observance of the Christian Sabbath; if it leads to morality, manhood and intelligence; if it discourages crime, vice, pauperism, illegal voting, and false swearing, then there can be but one position for you and for me upon the question. If the liquor traffic is a blessing, every patriotic American, every man who loves his country, owes to its citizenship, to his own sense of honor, to stand by that traffic, talk for it, work for it, vote for it, if he is a praying man, to pray for it; if he is a preacher, he is a humbug, if he will not preach for it.

If the reverse is true—if the liquor traffic of this country makes drunkards, cruel husbands, and unkind fathers; if it breaks women's hearts and degrades children; if it fills our penitentiaries, our almshouses, and our jails; if it stimulates riot in our great cities; if it stands and laughs at the stuffing of the ballot box; if it causes men to swear falsely on the witness-stand or in the jury-box; in other words, if it is an enemy to this Government, if it is an enemy of the law, and civilization, then will you give me a single reason why you and I, as honest men, should vote "not guilty," and sustain it, in the face of such a record?—J. B. Finch.

Questions For Thoughtful Workingmen

- 1. What have the saloon keepers done to improve the condition of the working classes?
2. Have you more comfortable homes through supporting the drink sellers?
3. Have you fewer jailers and magistrates through supporting the saloon keepers?
4. Are your taxes less because drink sellers are kept busy?
5. Is bread cheaper because nearly forty millions of bushels of grain go to the malster instead of the miller?
6. Is trade improved because money is spent at saloons instead of in clothes, furniture and food?
7. Are the articles manufactured by brewers and distillers worth the money that is paid for them?
8. If drink sellers had to keep all the paupers, lunatics, and criminals they make, how many of them would be able to keep out of bankruptcy?
9. Is the health of the drinkers of intoxicants better than that of people that don't drink?
10. Are the neighborhoods most orderly and prosperous where saloons are the most numerous?
11. Would your sons and daughters be improved if they were trained up behind saloon-bars?
12. Don't saloon-keepers generally vote for those candidates who promise to protect their trade, regardless of every other trade?
13. Could any class be better spared than the liquor-sellers?
14. If one law authorizes bishops and clergy to preach the sanctity of the Sabbath, is it right that another law should authorize malsters and drink-sellers to violate the Sabbath?
15. If a church were composed of nothing but malsters, brewers, distillers, saloon-keepers and their assistants, what influence would it exert on the drunkenness of the country?—The Voice.

Drink in Ireland.

"Why will so many who claim to be friends of Ireland keep studiously out of sight the truth that drunkenness and the drink traffic have much to do with the present misery of Ireland? Let us listen to the Irish bishops. Assembled in national synod, these prelates have said: 'To drunkenness we may refer, as to their baneful cause, almost all the crimes by which the country is disgraced, and much of the poverty from which it suffers. Drunkenness has wrecked more homes—once happy—than ever fell beneath the crowbar brigade in the worst days of the eviction; it has filled more graves and made more widows and orphans than did the famine, it has broken more hearts, blighted more hopes, and rent asunder family ties more recklessly than the forced exile to which their misery has condemned emigrants.'

This is a public, permanent, and ubiquitous agency of degradation to the people of these realms.

The whole land is suffering from the direct or indirect power of the drink trade. In times of depression one only interest still prospers—its profits may be slightly lessened, but its gains are always large and safe—that is, the great trade in drink, which enriches half a million of brewers, distillers, and publicans, with the trades depending on them, and wrecks millions of men, women and children. This one traffic more than any other destroys the domestic life of the people."

—CARDINAL MANNING.

"Where are the young men?" Some startling facts in answer to this question were recently presented in the Christian Standard. There are about 30,000 young men in the nation's capital. Of these not quite ten per cent. are communicants in churches. On one prayer-meeting evening 168 young men, all told attended religious service in ten leading churches and ten of the larger young people's meetings. The same evening 365 young men were seen entering ten of the 1,000 saloons during a single hour; 818 were present at two of the lowest theatres, at one of which there was an estimated attendance of 100 boys under sixteen
