UNEQUALLED QUALITIES OF THE

DOHERTY ORGAN,
As the following testimonial will show.
Messrs. THOMPSON & Co.

Gentlemen:—After a thorough examination of several organs manufactured by Messrs. Doherty & Co., for which you are the General Agent, I have much pleasure in stating that the result has been most satisfactory. The tone is good and the touch faultless, and I have no hesitation in saying that they are deserving of the high reputation they have already attained.

THEY PRAYED FOR HIM.

A YANKEE WHO TOLD MORE THAN HIS HEARERS COULD STAND.

One afternoon in September, as I was toiling over a rocky trail in the Smoky Mountains, which range on the Blue Ridge separates Tennessee and North Carolina for many miles, a girl about 13 years of age, bareheaded, barefooted and having on a single garment made of cheap stuff, suddenly jumped into the road a few feet ahead of me, fell down, rolled over, lost her hold on a bundle of roots and barks, and was up and off like a shot. She passed me without seeming to see me, and next minute a bear came rolling out of the bushes upon the spot she had covered. I had a big revolver handy, and Bruin was dead before he could suspect how my hair stood on end and my legs wobbled. He wasn't 15 feet away, and he looked as big as a yearling calf, and even if I did shoot with my eyes shut he would have been ashamed of me if I had failed to kill him with six bullets. He was kicking his last when the girl came back, regarded him a moment with bulging eyes, and then said:—

Lordy! but I thought I was a goner! Who be you 'un?
Oh, I happened along here. Why didn't you scream?
Could'nt. Hadn't wind 'nuff.
How far did he chase you?
A right smart.
Well, who are you?
Susan. Come up to the house.

She picked up the lost bundle and started on ahead, and a quarter of a mile above we came to a cove and the inevitable mountaineer's cabin. The cove was the same, cabin the same, surroundings the same as a score of others. Aye! The gaunt, miserably dressed woman stood in the door, two children rolled on the ground and a big dog slouched out of the cabin and growled fiercely at the approach of a stranger. Susan led me straight to the door, and as we halted at the threshold she explained:—

He killed the b'ar.
B'ar was chasin' me. He 'un killed it with his popper.

As soon as the matter was understood the three of us went back and made a litter and after a hard tug got the bear to the cabin. We had just arrived when the husband came home, having been off on a hunt, and the girl braced up, got a rest for her back against the house and told the story as follows:

Got my roots tied up. B'ar come for me. Took a run. Met he 'un. He 'un never run 'tall. Heard him shoot—pop! pop! Went back. B'ar war dead. Told he 'un to come back and see we 'un. Give him yer paw, pap.

Stranger, said the man, as he came to me with outstretched hand, put it thar! Reckon you saved the gal's life, for suah. Mam, give him your paw.

I se thankful, shore I am, she said, as we shook hands.

I wanted to go five miles further up the trail to Uncle Joe Billings' place, but there was a general protest on the instant and the mountaineer exclaimed:

Stranger, do you 'un think we 'uns are heathens? We's pere an' forlorn an' shuckless, but we's got feeling's. You's got to stop right here till to-morrow.

'Deed he has! added the wife. Nobody as saves our Suse from a b'ar is gwine to walk off like that.

I thought I was done gone when I heard him go pop! pop! said Susan, and the b'ar fell down in a heap.

Then there came a period of silence, with every one looking full at me. I knew what was coming. It had come a dozen times in a fortnight. The man was uneasy, while the wife looked puzzled. By and by the husband hesitatingly began:

Who are you, anyhow?
Stranger, we 'uns is thankful to you 'uns, but—but—

It don't make no difference, I say! exclaimed Susan.

Yes her do, replied the father, as he pulled a piece of bark from the log. Stranger, we 'uns want to know if—if—

He couldn't get it out.
You want to know what I am doing here, I suggested.

That's it.
Well, I'm travelling for health and to see how you people live.

Whar from?
Michigan.

Then you 'un is a Yankee.
Yes.

And you fit into the war?
Yes.

And you walloped us?
Yes.

And you hain't no spy?
Never!

Stranger, I believe you! Put it thar! Nobody who fit in the war would be mean 'nuff to come spyin'. Jist feel right to home. All we've got belongs to you.

In the evening three or four mountaineers dropped in, one of whom was accompanied by his wife. The women used their snuff sticks and the men lighted their pipes, and as a starter the host turned to me with:

Stranger, whar is that Michigan?
North of Ohio.

Many people up thar?
Plenty.

Twenty thousand?
Detroit alone has ten times that number.

He winked at each man in turn, and I heard the visiting female exclaim to herself:

Oh, Lord! please forgive him for lyin'. Been on a steamboat?

Yes.
More'n one?
Fifty, I presume.

He winked again and the visiting female sighed:

Oh, my soul! but what a dreadful liar! Mebbe you hev seen the ocean? remarked one of the men after a signal to the rest that he would draw me out.

I have.
Reg'lar ocean?
Yes.

There were three whistles of astonishment, and the female visitor clasped her hands and appealed:

Oh, Lord! don't lay it up agin him this time, fur he killed the b'ar!

It was now the turn of an old man who had thus far preserved the strictest silence. He cleared his throat, uncrossed his legs and observed:

And I reckon you may hev' sawn the President?

Yes, sir.
What! You hev? exclaimed all in chorus.

Certainly, and shaken hands with him. Oh, Lordy! Oh, my soul! but how has he got the narve to lie so? whispered the woman, while the others uttered a sort of a groan over my wickedness.

There was a deep silence for several minutes, and then the visiting female leaned forward and said to her husband across the room:

Joseph, ax him about balloons and telephones.

I have seen a balloon, I replied.
Lands! but listen to him!

And I have talked through a telephone.

How many times?
Five hundred.

The women dropped their snuff sticks and each man started up. They looked from one to the other and then at me, and by and by the visiting female slipped off her chair with the words:

Pore ax' needy feller sinner sinner, let us pray fur him!

And I'm writing you the solemn truth when I tell you that prayer went clean around the room, and it was all for my benefit.

Next day, when I was ready to go, the mountaineer gave me a hearty shake of the hand, called the children up to bid me goodby, and as I started off he whispered:

If ye stop with any of the boys to-night, cut it off short whar ye saw the ocean. The hull of it is too much for one dose!

Household Hints.

To cure a felon, fill a tumbler with equal parts of fine salt and ice; mix well. Sink the finger in the center and allow it to remain until it is nearly frozen and numb, then withdraw it, and when sensation is restored renew the operation four or five times, when it will be found the disease is destroyed. This must be done before pus is formed.

To make sealing wax for fruit cans, take eight ounces of resin, two ounces gum shellac and a half ounce of beeswax. Melt all together. This will make a quantity and may be melted for use when wanted.

For ordinary woodwork use whiting and ammonia to rub the dirt off.

Thick brown paper should be laid under carpets if the patent lining is not to be had.

Ceilings that have been smoked with a kerosene lamp should be washed off with soda water.

An excellent furniture polish is of equal parts of shellac varnish, linseed oil and spirits of wine.

Dip a sponge in sweetened water and place it where the ants "do congregat." When it is filled, scald and thoroughly rinse. Repeat until they are gone.

For chapped lips mix two tablespoonful of clarified honey with a few drops of lavender water, or any other perfume, and anoint the lips frequently.

It may be useful to know that hoarseness may be relieved by using the white of an egg, thoroughly beaten, mixed with lemon juice and sugar. A teaspoonful taken occasionally is the dose.

Grease spots can be removed from marble by the application of a paste made of crude potash and whiting. Brush it all over the surface to be cleansed and polish off.

Sault Ste. Marie Canal.

Notice to Contractors.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tenders for the Sault Ste. Marie Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the eastern and western mails on TUESDAY, the 23rd day of October next, for the formation and construction of a Canal on the Canadian side of the river, through the Island of St. Mary.

The works will be let in two sections, one of which will embrace the formation of the canal through the Island; the construction of locks, &c. The other, the deepening and widening of the channel-way at both ends of the canal; construction of piers, &c.

A map of the locality, together with plans and specifications of the works can be seen at this office on and after TUESDAY, the 9th day of October, next, where printed forms of tender can also be obtained. A like class of information, relative to the works, can be seen at the office of the Local Officer in the Town of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Intending contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms and be accompanied by a letter stating that the person or persons tendering have carefully examined the locality and the nature of the material found in the trial pits.

In the case of firms, there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same; and further, a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $20,000 must accompany the tender for the canal and locks; and a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $7,500 must accompany the tender for the deepening and widening of the channel way at both ends, piers, &c.

The respective deposit receipts—cheques will not be accepted—must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works, at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The deposit receipt thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tenders.

A. P. BRADLEY,

How Lost How Restored.

JUST published, a new edition of Dr. Cullerwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure of Spermatorrhea or incapacity induced by excess or early indiscretion.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of early error may be radically cured pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself chiefly, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hand every youth and every man in the land.
