WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO?

What are we going to do, sweet friends,
In the year that is to come,
To battle that frightful fiend of death
Whose messenger is rum?
Shall we fold our hands and bid him pass
As he has passed before,
Leaving his deadly-poisoned draught
At every unbarred door?

What are we going to do, sweet friends,
Still wait for crime and pain,
Then bind the bruises, and heal the wound,
And soothe the woe again?
Let the fiend still torture the weary wife,
Still poison the coming child,
Still break the suffering mother's heart,
Still drive the sister wild?

Still bring to the grave the gray-haired sire,
Still martyr the brave young soul,
Till the waters of death, like a burning stream,
O'er the whole great nation roll;
And poverty take the place of wealth,
And sin and crime and shame
Drag down to the very depths of hell
The highest and proudest name?

Is this our mission on earth, sweet friends,
In the years that are to come?
If not, let us rouse and do the work
Against this spirit of rum.
There is not a soul so poor and weak,
In all this godly land,
But against this evil a word may speak,
And lift a warning hand.

And lift a warning hand, sweet friends,
With a cry for home and hearth,
Adding voice to voice, till the sound shall sweep,
Like rum's death-knell, o'er the earth.
And the weak and wavering shall hear,
And the faint grow brave and strong,
And the true and good and great and wise
Join hands to right this wrong.

—Good Times.

GIVE ME BACK MY HUSBAND.

Not many years since, a young married couple, from the fair, "fast anchored isle," sought our shores with the most sanguine anticipations of prosperity and happiness. They had begun to realize more than they had seen in the visions of hope, when, in an evil hour the husband was tempted 'to look upon the wine when it is red' and to taste it 'when it gives its color in the cup.' The charmer fastened round its victim the serpent spells of its sorcery, and he fell; and at every step of his degradation the man to the brute, and downward, a heart string broke in the bosom of his companion.

Finally, with the last spark of hope flickering on the altar of her heart, she treaded her way into one of those shambles where man is made such a thing as the beasts of the field would bellow at. She pressed her way through the bacchanalian crowd who were revelling there in their own ruin. With her bosom full of 'that perilous stuff that preys upon the heart,' she stood before the plunderer of her husband's destiny, and exclaimed in tones of startling anguish, 'Give me back my husband!'

'There's your husband,' said the man, as he pointed toward the prostrate wretch.

'That my husband! What have you done with him? That my husband! What have you done to that noble form that once, like the giant oak, held its protecting shade over the fragile vine that clung to it for support and shelter? That my husband! With what torpedo chill have you touched the sinews of that manly arm? That my husband! What have you done to that once noble brow, which he once wore high among his fellows, as if he bore the superscription of the God-head? That my husband! What have you done to that eye, with which he was wont to look erect on heaven, and see in his mirror the image of his God? What Egyptian drug have you poured into his veins, and turned the ambling fountains of the heart into black and burning pitch? Give me back my husband! Undo your basilisk spells, and give me back the man that stood with me at the altar?'

The ears of the rumseller, ever since the first demijohn of that burning liquid was opened on our shores, have been saluted at every stage of the traffic, with just such appeals as this. Such wives, such widows, and mothers, such fatherless children, as never mourned in Israel at the massacre of Bethlehem; or at the burning of the temple, have cried in his ears, morning, night and evening: Give me back my husband! Give me back my boy! Give me back my brother!

But has the rumseller been confounded or speechless at these appeals? No! not he. He could show his credentials at a moment's notice, with proud defiance. He always carried in his pocket a written absolution for all he had done and could do in his work of destruction.—He had bought a letter of indulgence. I mean a license! precious instrument, signed and sealed by the authorities.—He confounded! Why, the whole artillery of civil power was ready to open in his defence and support. Thus shielded by the Aegis of the law, he had nothing to fear from the enemies of the traffic. He had the image and superscription of Cæsar on his credentials, and unto Cæsar, he appealed, and unto Cæsar, too, victims appealed, and appealed in vain.

RIGHT HERE IN CANADA!

What Your Friends and Neighbors Say on a Matter of Vital Importance.

Below will be found a sample of the multitude of letters of encouragement Messrs. H. H. Warner & Co., of Rochester, N. Y., daily receive. The subjoined unsolicited testimonials are from your friends and neighbors, ladies and gentlemen you know and esteem for their honor and straightforwardness, and who would scorn to be a party to any deception. What has been done for others can be done for you, and it is folly, nay suicidal, to longer suffer when the means of recovery lie at your door.

International K. R. Dining Saloon, AMBERST, Nova Scotia, Jan., 1887.

—In October, 1884, I was taken down with bleeding from the kidneys, or some of the arteries leading from them. One day, while lifting, I felt something giving away in the region of my left kidney and immediately after I commenced to pass blood in matterly water. Three doctors could not stop the flow of blood. I got 'Warner's Safe Cure,' and began taking it unknown to the doctors, and about the 10th of December the bleeding began to get less, and in two or three days the dropsy began to set in my legs and feet. By this time I was reduced to a mere skeleton, suffering from cramps in my legs, feet and hands, also the hiccoughs. My flesh became like a piece of white unpolished marble, cold and no signs of any moisture. I here wish to say that I did not take any of 'Warner's Safe Cure' from the 20th of December until March following. They tried all they could to check the dropsy, but had to resort to tapping at last, which was done every thirteen or fourteen days until the 23rd of March. Then I was given up as hopeless, my spiritual director, giving me the last dying rites of my church. I told them, fear not, I would, with the help of God and 'Warner's Safe Cure' come out all right. I then began taking 'Warner's Safe Cure' every two or three hours night and day, and 'Warner's Safe Pills' also, and dieted as directed, and to the surprise of the doctors, my family, friends and the public, I was able to get out by the 1st of May for a short walk or a drive. I still continued to take 'Warner's Safe Cure' and now I feel as well in health as I ever did. No more trouble with dropsy, cramps, hiccoughing, or kidneys, and consider myself a sound man again. The catarrh in the head, of which I was badly affected, also disappeared. These are all the facts of my case, as hundreds can tell who know how low I was. As a reference I will mention the name of Mr. J. Rogers, with the firm of Evanson & Mason, of Montreal, who knows my case in full.

TORONTO, Ont., (166 Wilton Ave.) Jan. 31st, 1887.—For ten years I suffered from quinsy and relaxed throat, being confined to my room for weeks at a time. I was at last induced to try 'Warner's Safe Cure,' and with a most beneficial result. I may say I have not suffered in the slightest from quinsy since.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 19th, 1887.—I suffered severely with lame back, at different times, for three years. My physicians said that my kidneys were affected, and treated me for Bright's disease. I obtained no relief however, until I commenced taking 'Warner's Safe Cure.'

Supt. Protection Police and Fire Patrol Co. of Canada.

HAWKSBURY, Ont., March 27, 1887.—I have been terribly afflicted with chronic Bright's disease. My body swelled so I could scarcely move about and my eyesight was affected so that I could hardly distinguish objects across the room. I had a distressing cough from the pressure of water on my lungs, and was in danger of suffocation whenever I attempted to lie down. My limbs were so swollen that I could not bend my joints or sit on a chair. The valves of my heart refused their office. At times circulation seemed entirely suspended so that I was incapable of moving a limb, and at others the increased action of my heart would cause such a pain in my head as words are inadequate to describe. Then again my stomach refused all nourishment and I was growing weaker every day. The physician who attended me said there was no hope; he could do no more for me and that a few days would see the end. At this stage I resorted to 'Warner's Safe Cure' and 'Warner's Safe Pills,' and with most satisfactory results, although it was some two or three weeks after I commenced their use before much decided improvement was manifested. My recovery then was very rapid. My weight from dropsical swelling was then 132 lbs., and is now reduced to 107, about my normal weight. Analysis showed 90 per cent. albumen with a quantity of tube casts, and is now reduced to 10 per cent. I am so far recovered as to be able to attend my domestic duties, taking moderately long walks and visit friends as formerly. 'Warner's Safe Nervine' has so far corrected the action of my heart that the severe pain in my head has entirely left.

What is a Crank.

There are two kinds of cranks: One kind is a narrow-minded man who thinks he has the only right ideas in his head and he can hardly bear to listen to the thoughts of others, if they differ with him. The Prohibition party have too many of this class holding position within its ranks and it would have been a blessing for them and the community at large if they could have had a little training in a Junior Prohibition Club when young. The Junior Clubs have a tendency to broaden the minds of those who belong to them. The other kind of crank is the kind that turns. When the writer is called a crank he takes it as a compliment. The remainder of the Prohibition party is made up of this latter kind of cranks. They turn and turn. Each new evolution brings out a groan from old party-bosses. It is of these that the Silver Lake Quarettie sing: 'A crank is what you turn things with, and it gets there all the same.'

The masses are poor not specially because they drink rum, but because they have to pay for the rum drunk by the wealthy, and for the other things consumed by them.
