The Conservatives Admit, in a convincing way, that the Lib= erals will Carry the Dominion by a most Substantial majority.

Mr. W. S. Barker, Broker, advertises that he has money to place for clients on the result of the election. The best offer on the general result is "$500 that Liberals do not have majority of 30 in the next House." Is that not a practical admission that the Liberals will carry the country and that the only question is how large will be the Liberal majority?

That being so, will the interests of St. John not be better served by the election of McKeown and O'Brien?

Mr. Blair having disappointed the Conservatives, their only hope is in trying to make it appear that the Liberals of St. John are not working in perfect harmony. The wish is father to the thought. The Liberal party was never more united than at present and O'Brien and McKeown will poll vote for vote.

The Liberals are positive that they can elect McKeown and O'Brien. The Conservatives are attempting to prove that the Liberals do not fully understand the meaning of the declaration that in union there is strength. The election of McKeown and O'Brien by large majorities will demonstrate the Tory error.
