DELORME'S LAWYER SAYS PROCEEDINGS

Montreal, Sept. 18-Leopold Houle, acting for Adelard Delorme and his family, filed a written contestation in the superior court today in reply to the amended request made by Adelard Tetrault, brother-in-law of Delorme, who is now incarcerated in the Beauport Anne.

The statement declares emphatically that the superior court in Montreal has no jurisdiction over the matter, as Delorme is now domiciled in Quebec, and the interdiction proceedings should have been heard before a judge of that dis-handling his affairs owing to his mental state, and denies that it is necessary to appoint a curator to administer the imprisoned man's estate. This written contestation will be heard before Mr. Justice Bruneau in the su-perior court of Montreal on Sept. 28, when the case comes up for hearing. As Dr. Brochu, of Beauport asylum, says he is unable to find any trace of insanity in Delorme, the latter may now have to face the murder charge.

MRS. KUHRING AT SALISBURY

A very enthusiastic meeting greeted Mrs. G. A. Kuhring at Salisbury on Monday evening. A large number of citizens gathered at the call of the Red Cross Society of that place in the beautiful little parish hall of the Methodist church, kindly loaned for the occasion. At the conclusion of Mrs. Kuhring's address, Rev. F. C. Francis, of the Baptist church, moved a vote of thanks in a hearty and graceful speech. This was seconded by Mrs. S. H. Taylor very happily and presented by Mrs. A. E. Trites, president of the Red Cross, who was in the chair. All present expressed themselves as ready to push on the membership campaign, and Salisbury, as usual, will, no doubt, do all that should be

NEW CHURCH AT HAMMOND RIVER

Rapid progress is being made on a new Anglican church at Hammond River. The structure is on the western side of the river, and is situated about one-quarter of a mile from the site of the edifice which was destroyed by fire two or three years ago. The rector of Hammond River is Rev. W. B. Waddington, who was ordained priest re-

Mrs. Charlotte M. Nason.
