

GILBERT L. PURDY REMEMBERED.

Dined at the Dufferin Last Evening—Gifts From Friends on Eve of Marriage.

In anticipation of a pleasant event to take place on Wednesday in which he is interested, Gilbert L. Purdy, the popular and capable accountant for Andre Cushing & Co., has been made happy by receiving the following beautiful pieces of furniture: a quartered oak hat-rack, a mahogany parlor cabinet and a brass bedstead.

Last evening at the Dufferin Hotel, about thirty of Mr. Purdy's personal friends entertained him at dinner. Scott E. Morrill presided, and Kent Scovill occupied the vice-chair. Manager Campbell of the Dufferin provided an elegant repast, served in the most satisfactory manner, and several hours were very happily spent.

Mr. Purdy will be married tomorrow to Miss Mae Bookhout youngest daughter of William Bookhout of this city. The bride and groom will take a honeymoon trip to Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington, and on their return will reside at 21 Queen street.

OPERATIONS NOT ALWAYS NECESSARY.

Doctors Frequently Mistaken.

"I suffered untold agony with piles for over three years. Two doctors told me nothing but an operation would cure me. I tried different remedies, but nothing did me any good until I used Pyramid Pile Cure.

I bought six fifty cent boxes at the drug store, and now I can do my work and go out, where, before I spent most of my time lying down. I thank God for giving the discoverer the knowledge to make such a cure. I recommend it to all my friends, and if I ever have piles again will certainly use this remarkable remedy.

You can use this in any way you wish to make known the wonderful merit of Pyramid Pile Cure." Mrs. Wm. Mucky, 81 Marshall Street, Elizabeth, N. J.

The experience of this lady is that of thousands of others who have been assured that nothing short of an operation would rid them of this distressing complaint. On the face of it, it appears as if too many surgeons operate in order that they may keep their hand in, and lose no portion of their skill; then, again, too many surgeons are anxious to experiment (like the scientific man in Mark Twain's pathetic story of the dog and her little puppy), and do not have proper regard for a patient's physical welfare or condition.

We advise every sufferer to think twice before submitting to an operation for piles, and suggest that those interested write to the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the causes and cures of piles, which is sent free for the asking.

Mrs. Smarte. "The fact of the matter is, there are no plays worth seeing nowadays."

Mrs. Traylor. "Guess that's so; they tell me, for instance, that the new piece at the Planet, a problem play, you know, isn't fit to be seen."

Mrs. Smarte. "You don't say! I'll telephone for tickets right away."

THE BEST YET AT THE YORK.

This Week's Show By the Hyde Company is Ahead of All Previous Efforts.

The S. R. O. sign was out at the York Theatre, last night, when the best entertainment that the Hyde vaudeville company has yet put on was enjoyed. All the acts were enthusiastically received, and encores were frequent. "Under the Cocoon tree," by Prof. Brian was funny.

Miss Mae Russell, at once caught the crowd, and became a prime favorite, with her singing, and conversational ability.

The act by Orville and Frank, equilibrist is one of the best ever seen here. Balancing a heavy steel ladder on his feet, while lying on his back, one of the performers held this cumbersome object perpendicularly while his companion did all sorts of muscular and acrobatic feats on the crossbar which reached above the top of the stage and in view of the audience. Well merited applause followed these hazardous feats, the work of the younger performer, who is but a mere boy, seeming wonderful.

When, however, his companion, lying on her back, tossed the younger one about with his feet, much as one would a big ball, the audience let out, and this excellent couple departed amid thunders of applause.

O'Brien and West in their funny act were most amusing. Both are exceptionally clever.

Perry and Randall, presented an excellent act. The recitation of "The Artist's Hidden Face," deserves special mention, and the buck wing dancing was good. This act is something out of the usual and is alone worth the price of admission.

The cycling and barrel act of Stirk and London was a good feature of the show. Their jumping in, and out, of barrels was wonderful.

Aggie with her trained lions closed the bill. This lady seems to have perfect control over the beasts and she put them through their paces in a manner which won much applause.

The York Theatre will be open every night, and the Hyde Company will, no doubt, receive good support. They certainly merit it as they are presenting the best article of vaudeville ever seen in St. John.

CHARGED WITH SWINDLING

A Millionaire Who is Alleged to Have Fleeced Ontario Business Men

(Toronto Telegram.) Inspector John W. Murray, of the Ontario provincial detective force, has returned from New York, where he has been investigating the doings of one Thomas McCauley, a millionaire, who is wanted on several charges of obtaining money under false pretences, and by fraud. McCauley's scheme is unique in commercial circles, and his angling was done in sections where the "best business men" are established, and among them he found many who bit at his bait eagerly.

During his career as a promoter he is alleged to have secured by fraud from business men in Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton, and London about $1,300,000 in cold cash. Inspector Murray is anxiously awaiting the arrival of McCauley on Canadian soil, where he will execute a warrant for his arrest on the ground stated.

It is alleged that McCauley purchased the assets of the Erastus Wiman concern for $5,000, and later took as a partner one Sylvester, of New Jersey, whose assets were also combined with those secured from the Wiman house. The assets, something less than $12,000, formed the basis of an advertising company, duly formed, in which the clerks in McCauley's office are alleged to have played a prominent part, and it is said that the first hard work performed by the directors was to vote President McCauley $1,200,000 stock in the new company. It is alleged that McCauley, after securing this "windfall," started out in the role of promoter, scooping in business men in the principal business centers in Canada, and many in New York. He was asked by one of the victims in Toronto what he expected to make out of the concern. McCauley replied "that he considered the company should reward him with stock to the amount of $200,000 or thereabouts, but that it depended solely on the shareholders, for whom the new proposition was to be a veritable gold mine."

A few days ago McCauley was charged in the New York court, through the information of a New York victim, with having received money by fraud. The preliminary hearing was short and McCauley allowed out on $5,000 bail, to appear later. When the time came the bail bond was confiscated, and the authorities are now looking for President McCauley, whom the secretary of the advertising company says a short time ago asserted that he was worth $5,000,000.

Inspector Murray says McCauley has a palatial residence in Chicago, and that so clever a business man is he that in some instances country clergymen were induced to canvass for stock.

HEROES.

The catcher brushed an intrusive fly off his mask. Whereupon the pitcher mistaking the motion for a signal, delivered an inshoot with such a marvellous trajectory that the ball hit the best batsman of the opposing line squarely on the nose and put him out of business, resulting in winning the game by the score of 1 to 0.

The crowd in the grand stand went wild. The victorious pitcher and catcher were lifted on the shoulders of strutting men and carried in triumph over the field.

"Of such material, beloved, do we make our heroes."—Chicago Tribune.

SPECKS BEFORE THE EYES.

Seeing Things In The Day Time.

There are Thousands of Persons Afflicted This Way. Ninety-Nine Times Out of One Hundred It Is Caused by Either the Liver, Stomach, Bowels or Digestive Organs.

In no part of the body are the effects of constipation more quickly noticed than in the condition of the eyes. They quickly respond to the poisonous elements which are absorbed into the blood in chronic cases of liver torpidity and sluggish bowel action. When you see a yellowish tinge in the whites of the eyes it shows quickly the biliousness which pervades the whole system; but it is the specks and flitting objects in the vision itself that are even more quickly apparent. Thousands of people see things in the daytime; their vision is blurred, spots come between them and other objects which seem quite intangible, almost imaginary, and as they turn their heads they vanish as with a flash. Such conditions can always be traced to a torpid liver and a congested condition of the bowels, yet can always be cured by the well-advised use of Smith's Pile and Butternut Pills, which cure constipation as if by magic. They regulate the functions of the liver, cleanse the poisons from the blood, remove the bilious elements from the circulation and strengthen the nerves. If your eyes are clouded without an appreciable cause, if you have specks and flitting objects before your vision, use Smith's Pile and Butternut Pills and get the poisonous elements out of your blood. Remember they always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents, all dealers. All genuine signed by W. F. Smith.

REVERIES OF A BACHELOR.

Family history is recorded on the clothes line. The trouble with a fat woman is she is in every direction. A married man is all sympathy when he goes to a friend's wedding. After a man has run for office, being mangled by an express train does not seem all brutal to him. Generally a woman is built to her own satisfaction when she has no notions about wearing common sense clothes. —New York Press.
