

Local News.

The Evening Times will be delivered to any address in the city for 25 cents per month, paid in advance.

Captain William Farren and his wife will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday evening at their home at Peters Street.

Tomorrow will be an all day Sunday School rally in the Coburn street Christian church, and beginning of revival meetings to continue every evening for some time.

Three surveying parties for the Grand Trunk Pacific have already been sent out from Chipman and are working through the county on the preliminary surveys for the new line.

Ensign Leadley, Travelling Financial Secretary, will illustrate Ten Nights in a Bar Room by stereoscopic views, in the Charlotte street A. A. Barracks tonight, 8 p. m.

Preparations will soon be commenced for stripping the salmon in the Charlton pond. There are about 800 salmon from which the spawn will be taken. Last season there were more than 1200.

J. N. Harvey will give his lecture on the World's Fair in the Tabernacle Baptist church on Tuesday evening. It will be illustrated by excellent line-light views of the principal buildings, and will be of great interest.

The McCormick Manufacturing Co., Dock street, will be unloading two carloads of their celebrated biscuits, confectionery and other goods, in a few days, for the Christmas trade. McCormick's Jersey cream sodas are delicious. Ask your grocer for them.

The Natural History Society of New Brunswick will resume work for the year 1904-1905 on Tuesday evening, 4th inst., in their rooms, Market Building when Dr. G. L. Hay will read a paper upon Mushrooms and Toadstools. How to know them. There will be a meeting of Council at 7.30 p. m.

The police found a man on Dock street this morning drunk and covered with mud having the appearance of having fallen over one of the wharves. He refused to give his name, but said he was from Sussex. He was allowed to dry out in Water street lock up.

But little definite information can be obtained regarding the river steamer May Queen which was recently grounded on Bailey's point near Newcastle. Rumor says, however, that she has been pumped out and floated. Her place is still being taken by the Beatrice E. Waring.

One of the busiest spots in the city today is St. Malachi's Hall where the F. M. A. are preparing to present a performance. They have had a complete set of scenery painted, and a new curtain with a very pretty design. As this society is renowned for the excellence of its performances, no doubt a large crowd will greet them on Wednesday, Oct. 19.

The Times staff are greatly indebted to E. W. McCready, editor of the Telegraph, and to Frank McCafferty, Harry Ervin and W. J. Raymond of the writing staff of that paper, for invaluable aid in getting through with the troubles of a first day in issuing a new paper. William Kelly, foreman of the Telegraph composing room, also gave great assistance. But for these gentlemen the woes of the local staff would have been many, in the task of getting everything in good shape.

Fish Aplenty.

So Many they Get the Fishermen into the Police Court.

The sardine fishing in the harbor is particularly good at present both in quantity and quality of the fish. The fishermen are receiving about $4 a hoghead. It is shown that at times, the catch is much larger than the demand, with the result that millions of these small herring are destroyed.

A large number of west side, and Pisanico fishermen are engaged in the harbor fishing and last night's catch was a large one, the fishermen capturing as many sardines as they could handle. There are about a half dozen fishing schooners in port from the coast and as fast as they are landed they sail for the border city where the fish are cured. Other buyers are using the fish for lobster bait.

Fishery Inspector Fred Belyea reported Edmund Howard, and Fred Gosline for dumping fish in the slip King street extension, instead of the proper place. Howard answered to the charge before Judge Ritchie this morning and explained that he had two boat loads of the fish which he could not sell, and to save the boats from damage, they having grounded on the rocks, he was forced to dump the fish in the slip. The judge pointed out that the penalty was $100 for the offence, but it was allowed to stand, providing Howard removes the dead fish.

BAD MONEY

Sydney Man Arrested At Union Depot—Had Bought

Edward McNeil, aged about 30 years, who claims Sydney, (C. B.), as his home, is in jail on charge of attempting to pass counterfeit money. Policemen Finlay and Lee made the arrest at the Union Depot about nine o'clock last night and the prisoner did not deny the charge, but requested the officers to be lenient with him.

He says he purchased from a Jew's store in Mill street, one fifty, two tens and two five dollar Confederate bills giving in payment 50 cents. One of the $5 bills he gave to Allan Logan, a Pond street boy, with the request that Logan purchase two tens of sardines and bring back the change. The purchase was attempted in Mrs. Travis' store, Smythe street, but she detected the bad money, and the boy said, threatened to have him arrested. Logan returned the bill to McNeil and then informed the policemen, and the arrest was made.

McNeil, when arrested, had a ticket for North Sydney. The evidence of young Logan and Policeman Finlay was taken this morning and McNeil did not put up any defence. He was remanded to jail, and Policeman Finlay bound over to appear and give evidence if necessary on the case in the county court on the first Tuesday in November.

The only reason that McNeil gave for having the money, was that he wished to "bluff" the boys at his home.

SCHOONER WATERLOGGED.

The Walter Miller Towed Into Port Last Night in Badly Damaged Condition.

The schooner Walter Miller, Captain Sabean, bound from Hantsport, N. S., to New York with a cargo of lumber and laths was towed into the harbor last night by the tug Neptune, waterlogged and in distress. The schooner's pumps became choked during a heavy sea Thursday night in the Bay of Fundy. Signal of distress was seen by Captain Clarke of the tug Neptune who went to her assistance. At the time the vessel was some distance off Port-ridge Island. The tug took her in tow and arrived safe in port between six and seven last night.

The Miller lost her deckload, and is badly damaged. Her cabin is destroyed and the masts were torn into ribbons. The schooner belongs to N. C. Scott of this city and registered about 95 tons.

The Price and Shaw property sale was postponed for a fortnight.

ST. JOHN NOW GIVES HALIFAX THE TIME

D. L. Hutchinson Home Today After Establishing Time Ball System in Sister City—Will be Operated From Prince William Street.

Halifax now gets the time from St. John. A time-ball service the same as St. John was begun today. D. L. Hutchinson, Director of the meteorological observatory here returned this morning from Halifax where he has been superintending the arrangements and at 1 o'clock today the ball above the new citadel was lowered and the correct time was given Halifax people.

The process is interesting and described to-day's operations will explain that of every day. At 10 o'clock the St. John observatory set by electricity, an electric clock in the Western Union office in Halifax. Then, by electricity also, a secondary clock placed in the citadel was corrected every hour from the Western Union clock. At 12.45 the time ball was hoisted to half-mast, and at 12.59 was run to the top of the pole and as the hands of the Western Union clock reached the hour of 1, an electric attachment released the time ball and it dropped publicly announcing the correct time to Halifax people.

The ball is on a staff with base and protecting house, a little north of the main signal station. The ball will be hoisted by hand, the Royal Engineers attending to this, but will be dropped by electricity. This time ball service is designed to furnish the correct time to mariners to whom that is a matter of great importance. The electric clock which operates it is designed by the meteorological department and is a tribute to the skill of the designer. Halifax people had wanted the time ball to be lowered at 12 instead of 1 o'clock but the latter hour was decided on so as to be more useful to mariners using both St. John and Halifax ports as many do, especially in the winter season.

CITY'S TENDER FOR PULP MILL IN.

Several Others Make Offer for Mispic Property—Open for Bids Till Midnight.

The city council met in secret session this morning and after confirming the recommendation of the general committee that the city extend the water mains to Loch Lomond, decided to tender for the purchase of the Mispic pulp mill, and notify the pulp people their lease will terminate in six months. They then proceeded to consider what figure should be offered for the pulp property.

After the meeting none of the aldermen were willing to talk as to what had been accomplished but it is known that the report was confirmed and the submission of the tender followed.

Already there are a number of other tenderers. It was the intention to close the tenders at noon but in the notice calling for tenders no closing hour was mentioned. Consequently the liquidators of the company feel obliged to receive tenders up to midnight if all the other formalities and requirements are complied with.

The result, one liquidator said today, will not be known until Monday.
