WINTER PORT.

The Ramp Finished--Still Dump ing Rubbish--The Steamers.

Business at Sand Point was quiet this morning. Only two steamers are there at present, the Allan liner Corinthian, loading for Liverpool, and the Donaldson liner Concordia for Glasgow.

The ramp, which contractor G. S. Mayes has been building, is finished and painted. Large doors, swinging outward, have been placed in the end of the immigration quarters, leading out onto the ramp. This structure is certainly massive enough to accommodate all the immigrants that can pile onto it. It is 20 feet wide and 100 feet long, extending from the upper floor of the wharf to Union St. The steamers still continue to dump their refuse on the wharves, in spite of the accidents that have occurred. It is time this matter was looked into by some of the city officials, otherwise more serious accidents are liable to occur.

AGAIN IN THE TOILS.

Burglars Who Broke Jail at Grand Falls Recaptured Yesterday.

Grand Falls, Dec. 7.—(Special)—James and Alexander Boulangers the Maine burglars who escaped from the jail here, Sunday night, were recaptured at an early hour this morning in a small woods near their home in Fort Fairfield. After breaking into the first store, a C. P. R. handcar, and the night watchman at the Rapide de Femme bridge, a few miles below town, saw them passing there at about midnight at a fast clip of speed. Abandoning the hand-car at Aroostook Junction, they walked to Fort Fairfield, a distance of five miles, which they could easily reach before daylight. Since then they have no doubt been concealed in the house by their wives. Their recapture was a lucky accident, since no one would imagine that they would return to the immediate scene of their crimes. The Maine officials are elated at having arrested fugitives across the border since the question of extradition cannot now arise. When arrested in the hotel, here, in the first instance, the Maine officers were determined to forthwith take them across the border, but the prisoners strenuously resisted the attempt. Declaring they were British subjects, they called on the Grand Falls constables present for protection. They knew enough to assert their rights, and told the Maine officer they had no authority to take them to Fort Fairfield without an extradition warrant. Considering the doubtful evidence and the expense attached to extradition proceedings, the Maine police are undoubtedly satisfied with the present outcome of the affair.

The Boulangers were held at Grand Falls on suspicion of stealing $700 in cash and checks from a Fort Fairfield store, and since their escape two posses have been searching for them. They were captured without a struggle by the posse of Sheriff Tibbets of Andover, N. B., in an old building on the road to Tonawanda lake in Andover parish, and about four miles from this village. At the boundary line about midnight the prisoners were delivered to Deputy Sheriff Dinsmore of Fort Fairfield. One of the prisoners was half dead with a cold brought on by breaking through the ice several times while attempting to cross the St. John river Tuesday morning.

The following St. John commercial men are at the Curriers house today. R. W. Tilton, Geo. E. Davis, A. A. McClenkey, Geo. D. Ellis, and Harry W. DeForest.

A parish Sunday school convention will be held in the Mission church here on Dec. 18th.

H. Z. Powers, Counsellor-at-Law, Fort Fairfield, Me., was in town yesterday in connection with the Maine burglary case.

L. W. Wilson has almost recovered from his recent illness, and is now able to be out.
