

GOU. BATES IS HOPEFUL. Predicts Annexation of the British Provinces UNDER ONE FLAG.

1895 There Were 73,000 Provincialists in Massachusetts Who Might Have Been Voters if Naturalized—But Fifty Per Cent Were Not.

Both Governor Bates and Lieutenant Governor Guild were guests at the second annual dinner of the Intercolonial Club, at Hotel Lenox, last evening.

At the meeting Premier Tisza in a vigorous speech ridiculed the charge that a breach of the constitution had been committed, and said that the nation must decide whether parliament was to be ruined by factions of the minority.

At the hour of half past three o'clock in the afternoon, for the organization of the said company, adoption of by-laws, election of directors and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the said meeting.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE RECORD. Cincinnati Has a $700,000 Blaze—Some Other Losses.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 20.—Fire caused a loss today in the central part of the city on the south side of Fourth between Walnut and Main streets, and also on Main street near Fourth, approximating $700,000. It started about noon in an abandoned building in the rear of Punsford Stationery Company. There was a strong breeze that caused the flames to spread rapidly, so that with the whole fire department at work it required several hours to get the conflagration under control. The loss on the buildings was $140,000. The heaviest losses were on stocks and merchandise as follows:

The Rudolph Wurlitzer Company, pianos and musical instruments, $200,000; insurance $220,000. The Punsford Stationery Co., $60,000; F. A. Schwartz & Sons, manufacturers of glassware and bottles, $55,000; Queen City Window Glass Works, $40,000; the Loring Andrews Company, jewelry manufacturers, $45,000.

St. Louis, Nov. 20.—The loss from the fire in the Missouri building at the world's fair, last evening, was not so great as at first supposed. A great deal of the furniture was saved together with most of the paintings and practically all the books.

ACUTE HEARING. The Atmosphere Not the Only Medium of Sound.

Nature: The atmosphere is the grand medium by which sound is conveyed, the recent discoveries prove that other bodies conduct it with greater expedition, as in the instance of vibrating a tuning fork, to the stem of which is attached a pack-thread string. On the other end being wrapped around the little finger and placed in the chamber of the ear, the sound will be audibly conveyed to the distance of 200 yards, though not perceptible to any bystander. Miners, in boring for coal, can tell by the sound what substance they are penetrating, and a recent discovery is that of applying a listening tube to the breast to detect the motion of the heart. The quickness which some persons possess in distinguishing the smaller sounds is very remarkable. A friend of the writer has declared he could readily perceive the motion of a flea, when on his night cap, by the sound emitted by the machinery of his looping powers. However extraordinary this may appear, we find a similar statement given in the ingenious work upon insects by Kirby and Spence, who say "I know of no other insect, the tread of which is accompanied by sound, except, indeed, the flea, whose steps a woman assured me she always hears when it passes over her nightcap, and that it clacks as if it were walking in patterns." If we can suppose the ear to be alive to such delicate vibrations, certainly there is nothing in the way of sound too difficult for it to achieve.

Cats and dogs can hear the movements of their prey at incredible distances, and that even in the midst of noise which we would have thought would have overpowered such effects. Rabbits, when alarmed, forcibly strike the earth with their feet, by the vibration of which they communicate their apprehensions to burrows very remote.

A KITCHENER STORY. How He Discovered Two Spies in the Suakim Campaign.

Lord Kitchener, who is now commanding the British Army in India, has a remarkable knack of picking up foreign languages, and native dialects. In Egypt he proved himself able to learn the local dialects of the fellahen within a few months. He was fond of disguising himself in native costume and mixing with the people, much as Kipling's Strickland Sahib did in India.

Veterans of the Suakim campaign tell of an incident which illustrates this rare gift of Kitchener, and also his unrelenting discipline. The British were throwing up earthworks, on which many of the natives were employed. One day two strange fellahen came into camp and offered their services. This was considered suspicious, but in answer to inquiries they protested their loyalty to the British cause. They were set to work with shovels. Presently they were joined by another native, with whom they became intimate during the day. Toward evening the third native disappeared.

Soon afterwards the two strangers were summoned to headquarters, where General Kitchener received them. "You are spies," he said briefly. They were about to deny the accusation, but they looked at him and gasped. The British general was the native trench digger with whom they had been plotting treason during the day. "Take them out," said Kitchener to the guards, "and set them to work to dig a hole big enough for two."

This was done. When they had completed their work the two spies were shot and buried in the grave they had themselves dug.

A HOT TIME IN HUNGARY. The Premier Denounced, and Memorial Sent to the King.

Budapest, Nov. 20.—As Premier Tisza was leaving a meeting of his political supporters today he encountered a hostile demonstration. He was greeted with shouts of "resign" and was pelted with snowballs. The police dispersed the crowd by a discharge of blank cartridges. Forty arrests were made.

The situation is regarded as critical. Out of a total of 400 members, 160 members of the opposition parties have coalesced against the government whose party has been weakened by the secession of the aristocratic group under Count Andrássy.

The press is equally divided for and against Premier Tisza and his enemies are actively intriguing at court in the hope of influencing the king against him. A memorial of the united opposition demanding of the king the dismissal of Premier Tisza on account of his measure to defeat obstruction has been drawn up by Count Apponyi and signed by leaders, representing all sections of the opposition. In menacing tone it accuses Premier Tisza of violating the constitutional law by summary reform of parliamentary rules and threatens the king with a conflict of incalculable dimensions if he breaks his oath by sanctioning laws passed under summary procedure.
