WORKED FAITHFULLY

Among the men who worked hardest on the stump in the cause of liberalism was E. H. McAlpine. Mr. McAlpine, who is an old campaigner, stumped parts of Kings, Charlotte, Sunbury, and most of Queens, constituencies in which the fight has been the hottest. Mr. McAlpine has done yeoman service in the liberal cause; his recy style and native wit have made him a most acceptable speaker, and he has been listened to with the greatest attention wherever he has addressed audiences on the political questions of the day. TWO FOOTBALL GAMES TOMORROW.

The foot ball games to-morrow will be full of interest for spectators and if the weather is fine no doubt a large number will be present to witness the game. The U. N. B. team will play the Senior Neptunes on the Shamrock grounds at 3 o'clock sharp.

Table with columns: Full back, Quarter back, Forward. Rows include Hayward, Dunphy, Wood, Nalder, Squires, MacBeath, Maxon, Bolyea, Thorne, Gregory, Wood, Clark, Barker, Titus.

When these teams last met in Fredericton, the U. N. B. were victorious but the Neptunes have a stronger team now and feel very confident. Immediately after this match a game in the intermediate league will be started between Fairville and the intermediate Neptunes, so lovers of the game will have plenty to see.

Fairville started the season at a disadvantage as the majority of the team were not familiar with the game, but by hard work in practice they have stopped the defeats and are now playing evenly with the best in the league. Tomorrow's game should be a great one, and there should be a large crowd of spectators.

SAM OGDEN,

The Colored Fiddler of Hampton, Found Dead.

A telephone message was sent to the central police station, this morning, about 7:30 o'clock, from the Bullock Oil Works, near Courtenay Bay, stating that a negro had been found lying on the beach, who appeared to be dying.

Sergeant Campbell at once started for the oil works, and found that the negro was dead. Dr. Berryman was at once summoned, and ordered the body to be removed to the morgue, where it was taken in the ambulance. Later it was found that the victim was Samuel Ogden, of Hampton, N. B. He had come down to the city yesterday, and the last seen of him was on Brittain street, where, according to Wm. Ritchie's story, he was very drunk. It is supposed that Ogden wandered around and fell over the low embankment, at the foot of the hotel street, and being drunk, was unable to get up again. He was not drowned, as the tide was out, but being very old, the exposure in the rain and cold had caused his death. Deceased was known as a fiddler, and was seldom seen without his fiddle under his arm. He has two sons, in Hampton, who will likely look after the burial.

HUNDREDS LEARNED RESULT FROM TIMES STEREOPTICON.

A Dast and Enthusiastic Crowd Blocked the Street and Cheered Lustily as the Bulletins Were Flashed on the Screen.

The intense interest evinced in yesterday's election was plainly shown by the large throng of people which blocked Canterbury and Church streets last night waiting for the announcement of the returns through the Times stereopticon. Even the wet weather did not have any effect in dampening their interest. Those who had umbrellas produced them when the shower got too heavy while those who had not, turned up their coat collars and hung on with a dogged determination to learn the results.

The first bulletin flashed on the screen announced the election of Dr. Daniel and Dr. Stockton for St. John. Whether the conservatives were in the majority in the great crowd in front of the Times office they at any rate seemed to have the better vocal power for the return of the conservative candidates-signifying as it did St. John's deep opposition to the G. T. P. project was received with a chorus of enthusiastic cheers that could be heard blocks away. In the height of the uproar some one on the outskirts of the crowd shouted "Where is O'Brien?" There was no answer.

Following the announcement from St. John came the word that Mr. Fowler's election in Kings was practically certain, while partial returns gave Mr. Ganong a good substantial majority in Charlotte. These had the effect of raising the hopes of conservatives in the crowd and when a report came from Kent that George V. McInerney was practically elected the crowd went wild.

Then came word that Crockett had captured York and Wilmot had defeated Hay in Queens-Sunbury.

By this time there were predictions of a clean sweep in New Brunswick but they were soon to be proved unfounded. In quick succession came the tidings of Mr. Emmerson's victory in Westmorland, Mr. Turgeon's in Gloucester, Mr. Reid's in Restigouche, Hon. John Costigan's in Victoria-Madawaska, Mr. Loggie's in Northumberland and Mr. Carvell's in Carleton.

Suddenly a bulletin announced that Kent county was doubtful and that so far both parties divided honors in this province. Meanwhile the tidings from Nova Scotia had sent conservative hopes to zero, but they were buoyed up again to some extent by news of gains in Quebec. The liberals of course, were correspondingly elated when it was shown that Premier Laurier had secured a majority of the seats from which returns had been received.

Mr. McInerney's defeat in Kent was next announced and a liberal majority from New Brunswick thus assured. By this time the crowd had increased until the street was completely blocked. On every side was a sea of faces with eyes eagerly glued upon the disc of light where the announcements were made. Interest ran high for peculiarly during the first part of the evening the returns came in such order as to indicate an almost equal division.

The announcement of George E. Foster's victory was a most popular one, and was received with prolonged acclamations.

By degrees, however, the fact that the government had been returned by a large majority, was established beyond any possible doubt. Then, and not until then, did the crowd commence to thin out, and the tired but enthusiastic watchers turned their steps homeward.

The Evening Times' despatches were also announced from the stage of the York Theatre, and were enthusiastically received.

The liberals announced the results in the opera house where the conservatives utilized St. Andrew's rink for the same purpose. In both places there were large crowds.

LIBERALS AND THE SUN.

Party Stalwarts Talk of Buying It For Government Paper.

An interesting phase of the political situation, particularly since the county has sustained the Laurier government, is that regarding newspapers in St. John. There have been undefined rumors during the last few weeks that the liberal stalwarts of the city, finding the loss of the Telegraph's active support very keenly, has been casting about to see what could be done.

In fact, things went so far, it is said, that the purchase of the Sun by the Government party--astounding and all as that may seem--was actually discussed; and something of a proposition along those lines was laid before the publishers of that paper.

Nothing came of it, the story goes, but it was said today that the talk was being revived among the government supporters here. The campaign Liberal News is no more. This morning's was its last issue and in bidding farewell to its readers it announced that a liberal morning organ was needed and that there would be one soon. Perhaps this will lend color to the talk of the Sun's purchase by the government.

But whether anything comes of the matter or not it is pretty well understood that the Liberal lines were out for the purchase of the Sun some days ago.

D. L. HUTCHINSON, Director. The Man Who Own It--What do they say about my new hat? Neighbor--Why, they all say it is fitted up in line shape, only its accoutres are no good.

The Man Who Owns It--I don't see how that could be. I paid for the best of everything. However, if the accoutres, as you call 'em, ain't what they ought to be, we'll take 'em out and put in some other ones.--Boston Transcript.

THE TRAWLER INCIDENT.

Russian Naval Officers Scandalously Ignorant of the Code.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 4.--The possibility that there may have been some misunderstanding of signals during the trawler accident, in the North Sea, is suggested by a fact made public in an order of the day issued by Vice Admiral Choukkin, commander of the Black Sea fleet, which records the fact that officers of the latter fleet are so unfamiliar with the new code system adopted by the admiralty that during the recent manoeuvres not a single ship acknowledged or obeyed the admiral's signals.

OUTLAWS SURROUNDED.

At Least the Sheriff Thinks He Has Them.

Thermopolis, Wyo. Nov. 3.--Sheriff Foster of Big Horn County came in tonight from the chase after the outlaws who attempted to rob the First National Bank of Cody and killed cashier Midaugh, on last Tuesday. He had a conference with Sheriff Stough of Fremont county, and the two officials will leave again in the morning for the Bad Lands in the vicinity of Tarby Creek, east of the Big Horn river, where Fenton believes he has the outlaws surrounded. The officers will endeavor to prevent the robbers from penetrating the interior of the Bad Lands, for once inside their capture would become extremely hazardous.

ROBBED OF JEWELRY.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.--Arnold Gundelfinger, a retired merchant, and his wife, were held up in their apartments at the Hotel Dorchester, and robbed of jewelry valued at $3,500. According to Mr. Gundelfinger's story, a former bell boy of the hotel, James Gates, was admitted to his apartments to look at the plumbing. Gates then drew a revolver and compelled Mrs. Gundelfinger to surrender her jewels. Gates made his escape.

HE PAID THE FREIGHT. Wife (at breakfast)--Here's a letter for you, dear. I paid for the best of my Husband--But it's addressed to you. Wife--Yes, but it's for you, just the same. It's from my dressmaker.--Chicago Tribune.
