

MRS. CHADWICK IS GUARDED

And Not Allowed to Have Knife or Fork With Her Meals—She is in Highly Nervous State—No Bail Yet.

New York, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick today said she desired to waive examination, preferring to go direct to Cleveland and meet the charges against her.

New York, Dec. 9.—In her lonely cell in the Tombs prison, isolated even from the other unfortunates whom fate has left behind the prison walls, Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, the former society woman and now the central figure in one of the most mysterious and sensational cases of the century, waited today while her counsel secured the city in an effort to raise the $15,000 bail, which had been fixed as the price of her temporary liberty.

All day yesterday the woman waited anxiously in the office of the United States marshal while one after another of those to whom she turned for assistance, declined to come to her aid. At last the quest for the time was abandoned and the prison doors closed behind her.

Mrs. Chadwick's imprisonment in the Tombs has not tended to her recovery from her nervous attacks of yesterday. This morning she was in a highly nervous state, having passed a night of wakefulness. It was not until nearly 4 o'clock this morning that she fell asleep. With frequent intervals of waking, she slept until shortly after seven o'clock, when the noise of other prisoners preparing for the morning's breakfast aroused her.

The matron in the Tombs saw Mrs. Chadwick about 7.30 o'clock and told her of the routine of the prison. She told Mrs. Chadwick that if she did not care for the prison fare, she could send out for her meals or get them from the restaurant at the prison. Mrs. Chadwick decided to make use of the prison restaurant. She left word that only her counsel should be admitted to see her.

For fear that Mrs. Chadwick might do herself bodily harm, a woman attendant was specially detailed to watch her all night from without the cell, near enough to be at hand on a moment's notice.

To-day Warden Flynn enforced the rule applying only in exceptional cases of not allowing Mrs. Chadwick either knife or fork with which to eat. Consequently the lamb chop which she ordered had to be cut for her and she ate it with a spoon.

It is expected that Receiver Lyon of the Citizen's National Bank of Oberlin, Ohio, will return to Cleveland to-night and that his arrival there will be followed by the issue of additional complaints against Mrs. Chadwick, charging forgery, and based either on the Carnegie notes or other papers given by Mrs. Chadwick as securities for loans. The character of these other papers is carefully guarded from public knowledge, but it is intimated that they are a part of sensational developments anticipated when the financial transactions of Mrs. Chadwick are uncovered to public view.

Up to a late hour this morning, Mrs. Chadwick had not secured bail.
