OUT OF THE CLOUDS.

To come down from the dizzy heights of political combat to the sober atmosphere of every-day life and to lay aside the mantle of political prophecy for that of philosophical disquisition, is no light task.

left South Africa at a critical time, after involving his country in war, deprived him and his cause of much sympathy they might otherwise have commanded.

AGAINST CONFEDERATION.

The Newfoundland government has been returned to power by a large majority. The campaign was waged with bitterness, on both sides, and personalities were indulged in to an extent not known in Canadian politics.

The election campaign in the United States does not present any exciting features. The re-election of President Roosevelt appears to be taken for granted.

WAITING FOR ACTION.

The despatches for some days past have pointed to the probability of further desperate fighting between the Japanese and Russian armies near Mukden, and also of another and perhaps final assault upon Port Arthur.

The war has been marked by great bravery on the part of the soldiers of both armies, and each succeeding encounter means a further great sacrifice of life.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

A committee of the University of Maine has arranged a course of lectures by representatives of six prominent educational institutions, the first to be given tonight in the college chapel at Orono.

Referring to the course the Bangor Commercial says: "The University of Maine, in offering such a course of popular and scientific lectures, which is free to its students and open to the public at a nominal cost, is performing a most commendable work in popular education, or in other words in the line of university extension, and one which should receive generous support.

The announcement that the remains of Paul Kruger are being transferred to South Africa has excited scarcely any general comment. He represented not only a lost but a wrong cause, and the fact that he

BISHOP POTTER ON POLITICS

Arraigns Careless Citizens and Urges Their Attendance at Polls For Good of Country.

Every American who is a citizen, and who, if by any possibility he can do so, fails to vote at this coming national election, is a traitor to his country and should be treated as such.

Bishop Potter made a vigorous plea for the better educated class of Americans to exercise their suffrages more consistently, declaring that if they neglected to do their full duty at the polls they were committing an immeasurably grave offense against the nation at large, and one that in time would work untold harm to the country.

He took for his subject, "The Duty of the Citizen to the Municipality, the State and the Nation," and in a sermon in which he carefully avoided discussion of either the candidates or the issues at stake he urged his hearers to go to the polls.

Just how well this is done; just how well the ideal of the great Republic is adhered to depends wholly upon the stamina of the men who are servants of the people rule the Republic. One man, nor hundreds of this class of voters, can keep this standard up alone.

Rockefeller On Riches. Before Bible Class Deplores Tendency of Age to Attain Wealth in Overnight Bound.

In discussing Christ's parable of the mustard seed John D. Rockefeller, Jr., spoke Sunday morning to his Bible class in the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, New York, of the dignity of little things, deploring the tendency of the age to attain wealth or greatness at a bound.

When we stop to look and take note of the failure of so many young men of today, we will at once see the explanation in the fact that they pay such little attention to the little things of life. This reminds me of the quotation which consists in doing the common things of life uncommonly well.

PROFITS FROM TRASH PREVENT BANKRUPTCY

How Judicious Disposal of the Waste in Factories Affects Business - Use for Everything - Wood from Sawdust - Potash from Wool - Packing House By-Products.

How to find a place and price for the wastes of a great manufacturing plant may make the difference between dividends and bankruptcy. It is the tendency of the age to save in small things and the man who is not availing himself to the last crumb of profit in his output is competing with men who have solved the matter on the right side of the account.

It is not so long ago that an idea for the profitable disposition of a city's garbage would have been looked upon as the vagary of a dreamer. To-day this refuse gives employment to armies of workers. Bones, rags, glass, iron and paper are sorted over and collected. Old tin cans are worked over for the tin, the solder from the joints and finally go to the blast furnace for melting into pig iron.

In Glasgow are reduction plants for the inflammable residue which turns out for the city 9,000 horse power in a 24-hour day, this power given for manufacturing.

Wood from Sawdust. From the sawdust of the mills an artificial wood has been made by a combination of heat and hydraulic pressure which promises an era of artificial woods.

Paper from the waste woods and waste products of wood leads also in value of the products from lumber residue. Once only the white woods were regarded as of value for white paper, but with the bleaching process of the present there is no limitation of color. Trees of the pine family, however work up more economically. From these papers paper box material is made and chemical elements resulting from the making of paper from wood are turned to account.

EVA BOOTH FOR THE U. S. Commissioner Coombs Will Succeed Her in Command of the Salvation Army in Canada.

After Nov. 29, Eva Booth, head of the Salvation Army in Canada, will be commander of the forces in the United States with headquarters at New York. Col. John D. Sharp, commander of the army here received word to that effect last night, also announcing the appointment of Commissioner Thos. B. Coombs to the Canadian field.

Potash from Wool. One of the interesting sources of valuable by-products is the wool of commerce as taken from the sheep's back. In pasturing close to the ground the sheep absorbs into his system considerable potash from the soil. This element is excreted with other matter through the skin and attaches to the wool.

WAS BURNED TO DEATH. Fell Into Fireplace While in an Epileptic Fit.

Bridgeton, Mo., Nov. 3.—Ella M. Thompson, aged 19, daughter of Walter P. Thompson of New Linington, while sitting in front of a fireplace Tuesday night, was stricken with an epileptic fit and falling upon the burning wood was burned to death. She was alone at the time except for the presence in an adjoining room of her mother, Mrs. Thompson heard the girl fall but was too late to prevent the fatal accident.

SEARCH FOR LOST GOLD.

Boston Man Organizing an Expedition to Hunt For Treasure in the Pacific.

Boston, Nov. 3.—To find treasure valued at $400,000, which was lost in the wreck of the steamer Golden Gate 40 years ago, Capt. Charles W. Johnson, a dynamite expert, is organizing an expedition.

The Golden Gate left San Francisco for Panama in 1862 with 300 passengers and $4,400,000 in gold coin and bullion for New York and London bankers. When off the Mexican coast she caught fire and the captain ran the vessel aground.

On his next visit to the scene he will carry out a large pump, probably a 10-inch rotary. The start will be made from San Francisco.
