

OSCAR WRIGHT AND HIS STORY.

Prisoner in the Havelock Manslaughter Case Tells How McKnight Was Killed.

Hampton, Jan. 16.—In the Wright manslaughter case at Hampton on Saturday afternoon Walter Mitton of Petitedoc, when giving his testimony, had not been on the stand more than twenty minutes when he suddenly collapsed and fell limply to the floor. He soon recovered, restoratives being applied.

"Call Oscar Wright." When the prisoner took the stand, it was 3.15 o'clock. He swore he was thirty-two years of age, that his mother died when he was a boy, and that from his fifteenth year, he had been self-supporting.

"Mrs. Wright," he said to Mr. Currey, "I had been left one-third of the property, and I offered to make a settlement. I offered her $200 and some furniture for her third, but she would not accept."

"Then," said the prisoner, "she threatened to scald me; said Mr. White, the Sussex lawyer, had told me, but I put up a chair to shield myself. The prisoner then described the means taken by Mrs. Wright and others to fasten him in the shop, and he admitted he had called from the window to his brother Ira, to hit McKnight."

"I said 'Give him a slap; it'll do him good.' Wright said it was through no purpose to strike McKnight that he jumped from the window, and approached him. She threw hot water at me, but I put up a chair to shield myself. The prisoner then described the means taken by Mrs. Wright and others to fasten him in the shop, and he admitted he had called from the window to his brother Ira, to hit McKnight."

"I met the crowd again on the street," he said, "and Sam Keith and I clinched. It was after this that clubs were used. The crowd closed right in around Sam and I, but I didn't see Mitton nor Ira, and as I was holding Sam, I was hit by McKnight with a club. He knocked me down and when I got up again, I punched him in the face with my fist. I didn't notice what direction he had come from, nor did I see his sore hand, but I took the stick he had been using on me, away from him. Once more the crowd closed in, and blows were coming so fast that I got away a bit, and struck at some one. I took to Sam Keith. I was dizzy at the time, and believed my life was threatened. I was hampered all right. After that, I thought I'd faint, my head was all over lumps, my body was sore, I had pain in my head for five weeks, and for days couldn't eat anything but spoon food, because my jaws were so sore."

Dr. Pugsley, in his cross examination, questioned the prisoner very closely respecting his conduct in the Guiou store, when between him and the proprietor, the Wright lease was torn in two.

Court adjourned at 5 o'clock.

Toronto Loyalists Think This Should be Canada's Gift to the Empire.

According to the Toronto world of Friday, the United Empire Loyalists of Toronto believe that Canada should contribute toward the expense of maintaining the Imperial army and navy as a return for the protection the Dominion shares with the other parts of the Empire.

"The United Empire Loyalists Association of Ontario, representing a large number of the people of Canada, desire to present to your excellency that they have heretofore at different times concurred with other representative bodies in adopting the principal that, together with some form of inter-imperial preferential trade between the various parts of the British empire, it would be in the interest of Canada and in accordance with the feelings and aspirations of the people of Canada that the government of Canada should in some way contribute towards the expense of imperial responsibilities, which opinion they adhere to and desire again to express."

"And that the said association believes it to be possible for such action, namely, the contributing by Canada towards the cost of imperial responsibilities, to be taken without involving such taxation as would make representation of any greater or other nature than at present exists necessary or desirable."

"That for the purpose of better enlightening and ensuring the sympathies of the people of Canada, it would be desirable that every such ship should bear the name of some place in Canada, it would be desirable that every such ship should bear the name of some place in Canada, especially selecting names to which sentiment or historical associations may be deemed to attach."

Saturday and Yesterday Showed What New Brunswick Can Do In This Line.

Saturday night was a cold one and Sunday morning a "cooler." On Sunday at Rothesay the thermometer registered thirty-three below. At 9 o'clock, in this city, yesterday morning it was 18 below but last night at 11 o'clock it had raised to sixteen above.

PUTTING IT STRONG.

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so.

The trouble with Dyspepsia is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves or going to the opposite extreme or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with biters' "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief.

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy but its success and popularity leave no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach. The sufferer from Dyspepsia according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be.

The stomach may be ever so weak yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much abused stomach will be given rest.

One Million Dollars

Have Been Spent to Give Liquezone Free to the Sick.

When we purchased the rights to Liquezone, we decided to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one we learned of. We published the offer in nearly every newspaper in America, and 1,800,000 people have accepted it. In one year it has cost us over one million dollars to announce and fulfill the offer.

Don't you realize that a product must have wonderful merit to make such an offer possible? We have never asked a soul to buy Liquezone. We have published no testimonials, no physician's endorsement. We have simply asked the sick to try it—try it at our expense. And that is all we ask you, if you need it.

Kills Inside Germs.

Liquezone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill.

Two men were found dead in bed in the boarding house kept by Mrs. James B. Kilbride, 124 Wooster St., New York yesterday. The men, one of whom was Alexander Robowski, went there late Saturday night and presumably blew out the gas, which was flowing from an open jet when the bodies were found.

The Ministry of M. Combes, after emerging successfully from its bitter midnight struggle in the Chamber of Deputies, at Paris, has decided to abandon the field while some portion of its prestige still remains, and has signified its intention of resigning.

Official announcement of the resignation has not yet been made, but M. Combes has definitely stated the intention of himself and his colleagues, and the termination of the ministry after a tempestuous career of three years only awaits the formal submission of the letters of retirement.
