

THOMAS CAMMACK WENT TO HIS DEATH THIS MORNING.

Just at Five o'clock the Trap Was Sprung and the Murderer of William Doherty Expiated His Crime---Cammack Was Calm in the Face of Death.

Woodstock, N. B., Jan. 12.—Thos. Cammack has paid the penalty on the scaffold for the murder of Wm. Doherty near Glassville on July 17th.

Just as the town clock was striking five, Sheriff Hayward, of Carleton county, sprang the trap which launched Cammack into eternity.

The condemned man, though nervous throughout parts of his last day on earth, walked with firm tread to the scaffold.

When the body shot down the noose worked round somewhat towards his chin, but the execution was not marked by mishap, and in about ten minutes life was extinct.

After being with him until 10 o'clock last night, Rev. F. J. McMurray, who has been most earnest in his care for the condemned man, returned to the jail at 3 o'clock this morning and remained with him until the end.

At 4.47 the awful procession to the gallows was formed, Father McMurphy and Sheriff Hayward accompanying Cammack, who walked quite firmly. Behind them walked Deputy Sheriff Foster and Constable Wolferton. The distance from the cell was about twenty-five or thirty feet, and the way was out the side door to the foot of the enclosed gallows.

Mounting the platform with the priest beside him, the Lord's Prayer was repeated, and as the last words were uttered Sheriff Hayward sprang the trap.

Doctors Rankine, of Woodstock; Commins, of Bath, and Curtis, of Hartland, were present, and also Coroner Hay and his jury and several newspaper men.

The jury was comprised of John E. Kenney, Bruce Vanwart, Ambrose Gibson, Wm. Armstrong, Lorenzo Monahan, E. Belyea, Geo. Hayward, Alex. Bell, John M. Hay, John B. Smith, Fred Smith and Leo. Kearney.

Yesterday afternoon when asked about a statement regarding the crime which the public were well acquainted with Cammack said: "Only I and God knows what happened that night." He said that his son Walter knew nothing about the matter at the time the murder was committed. While talking he always fondled his prayer book in hand and said that he was ready to meet his God. He was feeling quite well.

"I have resigned myself to God and I trust in Him to help me through."

He said that before the fire of seventy-seven he resided at Sand Point. He had been employed in Carman's mill on Rodney wharf, afterwards known as the Gregory mill, near the ferry dock. He also worked in the Brooks pottery in Carleton. He asked about many of the older residents of Sand Point.

The murder for which Cammack paid the extreme penalty of the law was committed on the night of July 17, 1904. On that night Cammack went to the home of Willie Doherty and his brothers, near Glassville, Carleton county, about 12 o'clock. He found entrance through the cellar and stole upstairs to the sleeping apartments, where the unconscious family lived. William Doherty heard the intruder and hastened to ascertain who it was, but Cammack drew a revolver and fired twice at the unfortunate man, killing him almost instantly. He afterwards shot Charles Doherty through the chin, and George Doherty through the left shoulder. Not content with that he attacked his wife, who had left him and returned to the home of her brothers—the Dohertys, hearing her.

The two Dohertys, also Cammack's wife and two children escaped and hid in the bushes. Cammack then fired the house and the murdered man was consumed in the flames.

The criminal fled to the woods and Deputy Sheriff Foster, with a posse of men, soon took up the trail with orders to take Cammack dead or alive. About next noon some of them saw Cammack in the woods and called on him to halt. The sound of a shot was heard, and on the men rushing up they found their prisoner unconscious, with a bullet wound over his right ear. For days the life of the murderer was despaired of, but he was nursed back to health in Woodstock jail to die by the hangman's noose.

At the trial it came out in evidence that Cammack had tied the several doors of the Doherty house before entering the cellar. The reason for the crime was jealousy of his wife.

Hopes For Large Advantage From West India Service---Vigorous Address to Charlottetown Board of Trade.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Jan. 12.—(Special)—At the annual meeting of the Charlottetown board of trade held last night, retiring President Rattenbury's report dealt with the telegraph service, extension of rails along the water front, station site, tourist association, improvement in trade, with West Indies, the sugar beet industry, winter service, mutual trade and transportation.

He advocated extension of the Grand Trunk Pacific to P. E. Island by the construction of terminals at Cape Traverse and Tormentine. The establishment of a car ferry service there, and broadening the gauge of the island road, giving that direct and continuous steam communication with the mainland promised at Confederation.

He urged the building of a third winter steamer to serve the port of Charlottetown exclusively.

The trade with West Indies, if a service were established with Montreal as the summer port, Charlottetown will be a port of call both ways. Its central position in the gulf would make the city a natural distributing point for West Indian produce to near points on the mainland and for the island. Strong objections were made in the report to the freight rates. Between the province and mainland.

MAINE'S BIG GAME IS SAID TO BE DECREASING.

There is too Much Summer Killing---Hunters Also Are Killed Incidentally---The License System ---The Guides---Market Hunting.

Augusta, Jan. 2.—The annual report of the commissioners of inland fisheries and game has been filed with the governor and council. It is an exceedingly interesting document of 82 pages.

Under the head of big game the commissioners say: "There has been a marked decrease in the number of deer during the last two years. Many attempted explanations are given, such as the extensive forest fires in 1903, the extreme cold and deep snows of the last two winters, and the scarcity of food. We are of the opinion, based upon the fullest information possible to obtain from all sources regarded as at all reliable, that the true explanation is that too many have been killed."

"It is an undeniable fact that deer have been killed almost indiscriminately from June to February, and even during the winter months, by various classes. First, by sporting camp proprietors, during the time these camps are open to guests; second, by some lumber camp operators; thirdly and most largely, perhaps, by so-called fishermen, canoeing parties and campers-out in the woods and around the lakes, during the summer months and month of September, who almost invariably are fully supplied with rifles of heavy calibre."

"There is absolutely no excuse for the general practice of carrying rifles into the woods in close time. The purpose is only too plain, and if the deer are to be preserved in any considerable quantity, this practice must be prohibited by law."

"The time has come when the people of the state of Maine are face to face with this proposition. Will they prevent the practical extinction of deer? If so, drastic measures must be at once instituted and more money must be provided in some way for more warden service. How this money may be procured we point out under the title of licenses."

The report gives an account of the illegal killing of 69 moose, mostly during the year. The number killed legally varies but little from last year and recent years.

Attention is called to the demand of the State game as voiced by the resolution adopted at their annual meeting—that there would be absolutely no protection for deer or moose in any town or organized plantation under such a law as is demanded in their resolution, which would mean, of course, indiscriminate slaughter of these animals at all seasons of the year.

Attention is called to the law providing for the posting of a notice by any owner or occupier of cultivated or inclosed land, forbidding hunting on these lands, which notice absolutely prohibits anyone hunting thereon at any time, under very severe penalties.

Over 100 agents were appointed to sell hunting licenses.

The commissioners held 35 hearings up on petitions for fishways and rules and regulations upon various ponds and streams.

An itemized list of expenditures is given, which shows an expenditure of $53,772.28, $25,000 of this was appropriated by the legislature for the operation of the fish hatcheries. The balance of this amount was obtained from license fees and fines.

Recommendations.

"We have but few to make. "First: We would suggest that the non-resident hunters' license law be amended as follows: To require a fee of $5 to hunt ducks, partridges, woodcock, or other game birds in open season during September, and provide for open season during August and $10 during October and November to hunt for any kind of game or birds; that those who pay $5 for a license to hunt birds in August and September, may procure a license to hunt in October and November for $10, and allow the licensee to take to his home 10 partridges, ducks or other game birds."

"Second: Strike off the open season on deer the 15 days in December, and provide that but one of the two deer a person may kill in open season shall be a doe."

"Third: Restore the search clause as it was before the revision."

"There is no question but the general practice of taking firearms into the woods in close season is productive of great slaughter of game. Whether this can be regulated so as to prevent the great damage being done, or whether a gun tax or registration fee earnestly advocated by many interested in game protection would accomplish the desired result is a question that ought to be carefully considered. Something should be done to prevent summer and winter shooting now so prevalent. There are several unimportant minor changes that experience has shown us to be necessary, which will be called to the attention of the legislature."

"The extent of the improvements that have been made in firearms and ammunition in recent years adds greatly to the destruction of game and birds."

"The breach loading shotgun and rifle have followed the muzzle loader; the automatic ejector, the single trigger for double barreled guns; the pump gun (with a pump gun a man can fire six shots in as many seconds), the automatic shotgun, which is capable of firing six shots in two seconds; the Winchester and other repeating rifles have also contributed in a very large degree to the destruction of bird and animal life. This, together with the greatly increasing number of hunters make thoughtful men consider how it is possible to preserve our game."

Licenses.

The report notes that there are several classes of licenses, as follows: First, the taxidermist license, to preserve that business. The fee is $5.00 and the license runs for three years.

Second, the guide license, to engage in the business of guiding. Fee, $1.00 per year.

Third, commission to take birds, their nests and eggs for scientific purposes only. The number cannot exceed 15 at one time. Fee, $5.00 for three years.

Fourth, hunters and trappers of the fur-bearing animals on the wild lands of the state. Fee, $5.00 yearly.

Fifth, license to keep a sporting hunting camp or place of resort for hunting and fishing parties. Fee, $5.00 yearly.

Sixth, license for dealers in deer skins; $5.00 yearly.

Seventh, marketmen who have an established place of business—to retail deer meat. Fee, $5.00 or $3.00 yearly, according to the population of the place where located, or 50 cents for each deer bought by virtue of license.

Eighth, license for non-resident hunters who hunt teal, ducks, sea and shore birds on a few coast counties. Fee, $5.00 yearly.

Nine, non-resident hunters who hunt moose and deer. Fee, $15.00.

We have ceased to hear any complaints on account of any of the licenses except the last—the non-resident hunter's license—and opposition to this, while quite extreme at one time, has ceased to exist practically. We have no hesitancy in saying that it has been an unqualified success and is now so regarded by nearly everybody. There are some few people to anything they have opposed, but after a time such opposition ceases to be of any importance.

Shooting Accidents.

"There have been six fatal 'mistake-for-a-deer' shooting cases during the year, one that did not prove fatal and seven other accidental shootings while hunting."

"No registered guide has in any way been connected with any of these accidents, and no non-resident hunter has met with any accident while in the woods. This certainly speaks well for the guide of Maine."

"It is not the duty of the commissioners to institute prosecution in cases of this kind."

One thousand nine hundred and forty-two were registered during the year. They guided 824 non-residents and 4,583 residents in fishing or hunting.

They guided 87,785 days in all. This at $3.50 per day, would amount to $307,247.50 which they have earned.

1691 non-resident hunting licenses were issued; 30 taxidermist commissions; four commissions to take birds, their nests and eggs for scientific purposes; 116 hunters and trappers' licenses; 165 camp proprietors' licenses; 55 licenses to deal in deer skins; 42 licenses to marketmen.

Medicines Loaded With Alcohol

Think of it! The Danger You Run---Drink Habit is Easily Acquired, but Hard to Cure.

Careful analysis shows that many so-called tonics contain little else but whiskey—the rankest, poorest kind of whiskey.

You may unconsciously be using an alcoholic liquid remedy. Some member of your family may be doing so. Your duty is plain; stop it at once.

The test of a tonic is the permanency of its cure. To become strong, you must build up the blood—alcohol weakens it. You must increase your nerve force—alcohol steadily degrades it.

Give up the liquid tonic before you become its slave. The true medicine for the run-down, depressed and nervous is Ferrozone. It is not a concentrated cure in tablet form. It stimulates the appetite, aids digestion, fills the blood with iron, builds up in nature's way. Never known to fail.

Whether weak from worry, overwork, thin blood or ill-nourished nerves, Ferrozone will quickly make you well. It is safe and harmless, undoubtedly the best tonic and rebuilding medicine made. We recommend you to use Ferrozone if in poor health.

Ferrozone, known as the great food tonic, costs 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.
