THRILLING EXPERIENCE Of Forty Members of the Rodal Arcanum. MANY INJURED.

The Trolley Car Jumped the Track, Fell on Its Side, and Dumped Them Into Water and Slush.

New York, Jan. 7.—A trolley car of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, carrying forty members of the Rodal Arcanum of the Royal Arcanum, jumped the track on a curve at the foot of a steep hill in Douglas street, Brooklyn, early today, turned on its side and was smashed, injuring sixteen of the occupants and dumping them into slush and water two feet deep.

None of the passengers were fatally injured. Several were temporarily pinned under the wreckage of the car and help was summoned in the fear that they would be drowned before they could be released.

The party were returning to Bay Ridge from Canarsie, where they had installed a new lodge of the Royal Arcanum last night, and the streets at the foot of Douglas street hill was flooded by the pouring rain that blinded the motorman and hid the curve from his sight. Fearing that the water would stop the car, the motorman drove his car into it at high speed. When it struck the curve, it jumped the track and rolled over.

The police reserves from two stations, a hook and ladder company, a wrecking car and two doctors with hospital ambulances soon arrived. The wreckage was piled up and the unconscious men taken out in time to prevent drowning. Several suffered the fracture of legs or arms, and nearly all of those injured were painfully battered and bruised and suffered the dislocation of ankles, shoulders or wrists.

As fast as the injured were removed they were placed in rows on the slushy sidewalk and in the darkness and driving rain, the hospital attendants gave them first aids and then hastened them to the hospitals. A number of others besides the sixteen most badly hurt were able to go home in carriages.

SHOT WHILE DUCK HUNTING.

Citra, Fla., Jan. 7.—M. Percy Lawrence the 17 year old son of M. J. Lawrence, a wealthy newspaper man of Cleveland, Ohio, was accidentally shot and killed on Orange Lake near here today. Young Lawrence with Steward B. Harris, a schoolmate, and Frank Evans, a negro, were duck hunting. According to the negro's story, a bird was seen on the water directly in front of the party's boat and Evans and Harris prepared to shoot. Lawrence asked them to wait for him, at the same time rising to his feet and causing the boat to careen. Both guns were discharged and the entire load from Harris' gun entered the back of Lawrence's head. The coroner decided an investigation was unnecessary.

Sad Christmas for Russia.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 7.—With a heavy heart, Russia to-day celebrated Christmas. The day was peculiarly a family fete. The trials of the war and losses at the front had brought sorrow and mourning to countless homes, and the usual rejoicing was absent. In St. Petersburg, all the departments of the government were closed until Tuesday and intense cold kept the people indoors. All the ordinary public festivities and private entertainments were postponed. The imperial family observed the day at the palace of the Sarakoe, Solovki. There was a large Christmas tree for the children, but there was no elaborate celebration such as generally marks the day there.

London, Jan. 7.—The Times says: It is still more significant that the Russian government has cancelled contracts for two large ships loaded with arms and ammunition from Libau to the East Indian archipelago and Saigon. The only inference, the Times concludes, is that the squadron will not go beyond Diego Suarez Bay.

Tokio, Jan. 7: A naval officer said to the Associated Press correspondent to-day; Japan has confidently awaited the arrival of the second Pacific squadron.

THE MONCTON CITY COUNCIL.

Some People Want More Members and Annual Elections.

Moncton, Jan. 7.—(Special)—Some radical changes are proposed by some aldermen in the city council as at present constituted. The council now consists of the mayor and eight aldermen. It is proposed to enlarge the number of aldermen to twelve, dividing the city into six wards. Two years ago the law was changed, providing for the election of half the council for a term of two years. The system is not satisfactory to some, and a movement is being made to go back to the old custom of electing the whole council annually.

A New Way to Celebrate.

General Oku's headquarters, Jan. 7.—11 a. m.—via Fusan—The Russians, in celebrating their Christmas Eve, began a rifle fire at 10 o'clock yesterday evening, Jan. 6th, opposite Linlimpu. Their artillery joined in at 11 o'clock and kept up two hours of the hardest firing known since the Shakhe river was reached, spreading along the front of General Oku's army. The Japanese sustained no damage and refused to reply. There were no casualties among the Japanese troops.

Japs Celebrate New Year.

Mukden, Jan. 6.—The Japanese celebrated the incoming of the new year on Jan. 2 and the sounds of music could be plainly heard outside the Russian lines. The Japanese tried to combine business with pleasure, and while the festivities were in progress an attack was made upon the village of Voito, in front of one of their positions. The Russians replied with artillery on their right and centre and prevented the Japanese from occupying the village.

They Knew It All.

Mukden, Jan. 6, via Peking, Jan. 7.—Though the news of Port Arthur's capitulation was first generally known here today, it was surmised by the Russian army January 4, from the cheering heard in the Japanese camp along the entire line, when cries of "Banzai" were distinctly heard. The news created no surprise, because the army has become accustomed to the possibility of Port Arthur's fall from before the battle of Liao Yang and since the deaths of Generals Fock and Kondratenko were not published here, the facts regarding Fock had been accepted for six weeks past, and the condition of Port Arthur was known throughout. The authorities here as early as Dec. 25, denied that relief vessels had successfully run the blockade and candidly admitted the desperation of the heroic defenders.

The Russians regarded the expectation of foreign expert visitors that Port Arthur would doubtless resist for eight months as being too optimistic, provided there was relief.

While it is impossible to telegraph the tenor of opinion, it is evident that greater events must transpire before the end of the war. The Russian army is beginning a cheerful but quiet celebration of the Russian Christmas, which is tomorrow. There was an unusual activity yesterday along the centre. It was continued in a moderate form today.

TWO MOTHERS SUICIDED.

Both Killed Themselves With Illuminating Gas.

New York, Jan. 7.—Two young mothers ended their lives today in inhaling illuminating gas, and in doing so nearly caused the deaths of their husbands and children. The methods employed by both were strangely similar. Early today Mrs. Annie Bourner's husband awoke to find the house filled with gas, his three children almost unconscious and his wife dead, reclining on a chair in the kitchen with a tube from the gas stove in her mouth.

Mrs. Kate Arundel was found in the kitchen of her home early today dead from gas which was flowing from several open coals in the gas stove. Her husband awoke just in time to save his own life and the life of the baby. Domestic unhappiness and ill health were the causes given for the suicide.

AN OLD GAME OF SWINDLING.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 7.—(Special)—Wm. Golden is under arrest here, charged with promoting a swindling scheme upon farmers throughout the country by means of a bogus dairy products company which had existed only in Golden's imagination. The amount of Golden's shortage is believed to be large.

AN ADMIRALTY CASE.

Halifax, Jan. 7.—(Special)—The Admiralty Court is hearing an application on behalf of the attorney general of Canada for the condemnation of the American schooner Samusset seized in October for fishing within three miles of the Cape Breton shore.

Sir F. W. Borden, Kings County, has filed a counter election petition for the disqualification of J. W. Ryan, of that county.

SWEPT BY FIERCE SEAS.

Terrible Experience of the Crew of the Brig. Ohio.

Gloucester, Mass., Jan. 7.—The crew of the brigantine Ohio were landed here last night by the fishing schooner Theodore Roosevelt. The crew, comprising Captain Rupert A. Wry, whose wife was also on board, and seven sailors, all of whom were rescued on Thursday of Grand Manan. The vessel was leaking badly and had suffered the loss of sails and rigging during the recent storm. Captain McHenry of the Roosevelt put a prize crew on board of the Ohio and kept company with her until last evening off Thatcher Island, and then proceeded to this port. Later on the Ohio staggered into port and anchored in a good position.

The Ohio left Kingsport, N. S. for New York Dec. 26 with a cargo of 320,000 feet of lumber and after a series of gales made St. John, N. B. for a harbor, sailing from there on the 3rd, inst. Hardly had they put to sea when the wind came up strong from the northeast, the weather became terribly cold, followed by a blinding snow storm of Grand Manan, the vessel caught the full force of the gale, the seas constantly breaking over her. On Wednesday morning a big wave swept over the vessel, carrying away a portion of her deckload, her binnacles and smashing the wheel. This rendered it impossible to steer the vessel and, tossed at the mercy of the sea, she began to leak. All hands were called to the pumps, but the cold was so intense that the crew were frost-bitten and were soon forced to stop work.

Another sea smashed the skylights, filling the cabin with water. Mrs. Ryan was forced to take refuge in the upper bunk to escape drowning. The heavy seas not only flooded the vessel, but they also spoiled the ship's food and fresh water supply, while the vessel itself became a mass of ice from stem to stern.

With no fire, their food and water supply gone, the weather freezing cold and a raging storm in progress, the sufferings of those on the Ohio were terrible all through Wednesday night.

About 8 o'clock Thursday morning the weather having moderated considerably, a sail was sighted and a signal of distress was raised by the half-frozen men on the Ohio and this was seen by the sch. Roosevelt, which was returning from a Grand Banks fishing trip.

A heavy sea was running, which made the attempted rescue a most perilous undertaking. Two dories, each containing two men, were sent off to the Ohio, and after much difficulty the life-savers succeeded in taking off the nine persons on the Ohio.

The Ohio is a vessel of 325 tons, and is owned by Scamell Brothers of New York. She was built on the Strait Shore by Andrew Ruddock in 1882, for the late Charles A. Palmer.

QUEEN LILLA

Resents the Charges Made Against Her in the Star.

There is reason to believe that the editor of the Star had his fortune told today for nothing.

The Star last night had a vicious attack upon Queen Lilla, who, however, was not mentioned by name. It was alleged that complaints were made against her, that she was plying an illegal business, and getting the earnings of poor working girls.

Queen Lilla called at the Star office and asked for names and particulars. Interviewed later by the Times, she stated that she had a license for which she paid twenty dollars, while there were fortune tellers in the town who pay no license. Very few of her patrons were working girls, and she had heard no complaints. She had, however, been subjected to some disagreeable experiences, and was disposed to believe that the attack in the Star was prompted by personal spite, which found a medium in the Star.

When at Bar Harbor Queen Lilla had no less a patron than the Countess Cassini, and American papers published an interesting account of the visit of the Countess to the fortune teller. The latter believes she is now being subjected to petty persecution.

The barometer was falling fast, with the temperature increasing. Indications point toward a severe gale on the coast, gradually shifting to west.

The Lake Champlain arrived at the island this morning with her three hundred passengers, but could not be approached by any tug or the doctor's boat on account of the high sea and wind. Several tugs tried but failed.

Around and about Port Dufferin the sea heating against the breakwater presented a beautiful sight. The white caps were tossing, and the sea coming over the breakwater in one long line of foam.

The weather indications for tomorrow are for partially clearing and colder.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 7.—(Special)—Ottawa is snow bound. For the first time since the inauguration of the street railway service, fourteen years ago, the service had to suspend. Flood in England.

London, Jan. 7.—A tidal flood on the east coast this morning caused an enormous amount of damage at watering places from Scarborough, as far south as Dover. Eight hundred feet of the pier at Scarborough, which cost $125,000, was swept away and the promenades on the sea front were torn up and nearly all parts of the town of Yarmouth were inundated, hundreds of houses were flooded, and the inhabitants were compelled to vacate the ground floors.
