The new gunwale Boats for St. Ann's and the Fredericton Amateur Boating Clubs ar- no one will pretend that our represenrived safely about the first of the week. The Celestial oarsmen may well feel proud of their new boats as I doubt very much if any city in America can produce two handsome gunwale boats than those made by Mesrs. Ross and Harned. The St Ann's crew have been out two or three times in their boat they certainly manage to row her very nicely and with considerable speed if we may judge from the way in which they re 1 away from the "Akerly" the other evening. Mr. Ross seems well pleased at the way the boat moves and also at the easy and graceful manner in which the crew use the sliding seat-this is something new to celestial oarsmen. The Hilderbrand crew have not been out in their new boat, owing to two of their men being engaged to row in the race this evening for the championship of York.

The News is mistaken when it says we referred to Mr. Russell's challenge in a sneering sort of a way. We have no doubt but that Mr. Russell can row very well, also that he can row either of the St. Ann's scullers, providing he sends his challenge to row them when they are not engaged on row in a four oared race the same day. It is said that Mr. E. H. Allen will retire from the Gatens Crew.

FREDERICTON, N. B., JUNE 18, 1877.

The conservative demonstrations in Ontario appear to have been very suc cessful, although as they were held in the strongholds of the party they scarcely give a fair index of any change of public opinion. These picnics, as they are called, seem to be a peculiar feature of Ontario politics, and although in some respects they may be thought objectionable, yet on the products and manufactures. The cost of whole they are calculated to do very much good. They cement political parties together more strongly than audience while we listened to the stirring and anything else can; for by bringing a large number of persons together and securing their united approval of any I need scarcely add, that these two gentlemen given principles or any particular will always find an audience should they feel policy unity of action, when action is necessary, will be assured much more certainly than in any other way.
