WONDERS OF MODERN SCIENCE. tists are enabled to deduce the most minute particulars in their several departments appears almost miraculous if we view it in the light of the early ages. Take for example the electro-magnetic telegraph-the greatest invention of the age. Is it not a marvelous degree of accuracy which enables an operator to exactly locate a fracture in a submarine cable nearly three thousand miles long? Our venerable "clerk of the weather" has become so thoroughly familiar with those most wayward elements of nature that he can accurately predict their movements. He can sit in Washington and foretell what the weather will be to-morrow in Florida or New York, as well as if several hundred miles did not intervene between him and the places named. And so in all departments of mod-ern science, what is required is the knowledge of certain signs. From these the scientists deduce accurate conclusions regardless of distance. A few fossils sent to the expert geologist enable him to accurately determine rock-formation from which they were taken. He can describe it to you as perfectly as if a cleft of it were lying on his table. So also the chemist can determine the constitution of the sun as accurately as if that luminary were not ninety-five million miles from his laboratory. The sun sends certain signs over the "infinitude of space" and the chemist classifies them by passing them through the spectorscope. Only the presence of certain substances could produce these solar signs. So also, in medical science, diseases have certain unmistakable signs, or symptoms, and by reason of this fact, Dr. Pierce, of the World's Dispensary, has been enabled to ori-ginate and perfect a system of determining, with the greatest accuracy, the nature of chronic diseases without seeing and personelly examining his patient. He has spared neither pains nor expense to associate with himself, as the Faculty of the World's Dis-pensary, a large number of medical gentlewe need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever men of rare attainments and skill—graduates from some of the most famous Medical Col-leges and Universities of both Europe and America. By aid of Dr. Pierce's system of diagnosis, these physicians and surgeons annually treat, with the most gratifying success, many thousands of invalids without ever seening them in person. In recognizing diseases without a personal examination of the patient they claim to possess no miraculous powers. They attain their knowledge of the patient's disease by the practical application of well established principles of modern science to the practice of medicine. And it is to the occuracy with which this system has endowed them that they owe their almost world-wide reputation for the skillful treatment of all lingering or chronic affections. This system of practice and the marvelous success which has been attained through it. demonstrated the fact that diseases display certain phenomena, which being subjected to scientific analysis and synthesis, furnish abundant and unmistakable data to guide the judgment of the skillful practitioner aright in determining the nature of diseased conditions. The amplest resources for treating lingering or chronic diseases, and the greatest skill, are thus placed within the easy reach of every invalid, however distant he or she may reside from the physicians making the treatment of such affections a specialty. The peculiarities of this scientific system of practice are fully explained in the Appendix of "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser,"—a book of over nine hundred large pages which is so popular as to have reached a sale of almos one hundred thousand copies within a few months of its first publication. It is sent

OBEY YOUR WIFE. - Three jovial fellows -Tom Watson, Joe Brown and Bill Walker-sat late at the villiage tavern, and in the merriment of their hearts made an arrangement that the "shot should be paid by him who omitted to do the first thing his wife told him on returning home." They then seperated for the night, engaging to meet again next morn. ing and make an honest report. Next morning Walker and Brown were early at their posts, but it was some time before Watson made his appearance. Walker began first," You see, when I entered my house the candle was out, and as the fire gave but a glimmering light, I was near walking into a pot of batter that the srumpets where to be made of this morning. My wife, dreadfully out of humour at sitting up so long, said to me sarcastically, "do put your foot in the batter!' "Just as you say, Maggy," said I, and without the least hesitation, I set my foot in the batter, and then went to bed. Next Joe Brown told his story-" My wife had already retired to rest in our sleeping room, which adjoins the kitchen, and the door of which was ajar. Not being able to navigate perfectly well, I made a dreadful clattering among the household furniture, and in no very pleasant tone she bawled out, "do break the porridge pot, Joe!" No sooner said than done. seized hold of the pot, and striking it against the chimney jamb, broke it in a hundred pieces. After this exploit I re-tired to rest, and got a curtain lecture for of Ladies, Gents, Misses and Childrens' Felt and Leather Foxed Felt Boots and Rubber Foxed of Lower Foxed Felt Boots and Rubber Foxed of Leather Foxed Felt Boots and Rubber my pains." It was now Tom Watson's count from bis regular prices, in order to effect a speedy Clearance, to make room for Spring and turn to give an account of himself, which he did with a very long face as follows :-'My wife gave me the most unlucky command in the world, for as I was blundering up stairs in the dark, she cried out 'do break your neck; do, Tom!" "I'll be cursed if I do, Kate," said I, as I gath. ered myself up, "I'll sooner pay the bill,"

And so, landlord, here's the cash for you.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock - with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease. The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness. Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superi-ority to any other medicine known, that
