give Mohammed's conception of the Deity,-"God, there is no God but He, the living, the eternal. Slumber doth not overtake Him, neither sleep: to Him belongeth all that is in Heaven and Earth. Who is he that can intercede with Him save by His own perpast and that which is to come unto them, and they shall not comprehend anything of His knowledge but so far as He pleaseth. His Throne extendeth over heaven and earth and the upholding of both is no burden to Him. He is the Lofty and the Great." He calls Christ "the Spirit" and "the Word of God," and says of Him "The Messiah, Jesus, the Son of Mary, only the Apostle of God and His Word which He cast upon Mary and a Spirit from Him." He thus defines religion _"There is no piety in turning your faces fowards the east or the west, but he is pious who believeth in God and steerel, the last day, and the Angels and the Scriptures and the Prophets: who for the love of God disburseth his wen!th to his kindred and to the orphans and the needy and the wayfarer and those Logan for the Vail crew.
