measure of the Session. The discussion on the subject has been postponed on account of follows :-

First, that the subject of the criminal law and its administration is by the Act of Union divided between the Dominion and Local Legislatures.

Second, that the Provincial authorities in conducting criminal prosecutions have opportunities to observe the operation of the law relating to procedure and evidence.

Third, that it would promote the administration of justice if persons charged with crime should be allowed to be heard, either upon affirmation or oath in their own defence, upon such terms for preventing surprise and elicit-

Fourth, that the existing law on the subject restricts the right to that full defence to which the accused should be entitled and, however advantageous to the guilty, is clearly prejudicial to the innocent

On Wednesday the Hon. Mr. Fraser made his budget speech. It occupied the whole further light upon the finances than was already afforded by the statements laid before the House. His explanation of the ever-expenditure and the unauthorized emergency expenditures has the recommendation of simplicity. He said that the Chief Commissioner was a good natured man, and when members pressed him for money he could not refuse. The only part of the Secretary's speech which gave any new information was that in reference to the comparative financial position of New Rrunswick and Nova Scotia. He certainly made himself very clear on this point, and we cheerfully give him credit for the Agricultural Report by stating that cerhaving made the most powerful argument tain Province manufacturers had been asked against Maritime Union we have ever heard. to send in cuts of their implements, but had Baptist Church held a sale of fancy articles He was careful to tell the House that he exwe think on the part of a member for York. just where the blame lies. On Tuesday the Attorney General gave eligible for holding a seat in the Assembly, just as in Anglin's printing contracts necessitated his resignation of his seat in the Commons. The policy pursued we suppose we must call the Government by the Government in this respect destroyed independence of thought, and robbed the Legislature of its proper functions.

He held that it was no compliment to the House the debate on supply. The resolutions are as that there were four lawyers in a government of eight, three lawyers being in office. Was it any wonder, with such a state of things, that immigration, agriculture, mining, etc., were bungled. He believed that all members of the Government should be paid for their services, and if there was nothing for some members to do it was an evidence that the Government was too large.

He closed by moving the following resolu-

Resolved, That Mr. Speaker do not now leave the chair, but that it be resolved that, as the Executive Government has not responded to the expressed desire of this House to be supplied with information upon various matters relating to the affairs of the province, has disregarded the resolution of the House with respect to the obtaining of the decision of the courts upon the liquor license question, has made during last year a large expenditure in excess of the appropriations, has ignored the plain provisions of the statute by omitting to furnish a detailed statement of the extraordinary expenditure as required by sec. 19, chap. 9 of the consolidated statutes, has practically increased the salaries of certain heads of departments by allowing them large and unnecessary amounts for travelling and other incidental expenses, has ignored by officially recommending certain manufactures of another province to the serious disadvantage of our own, and has failed in other respects to administer affairs in the true interests of the people of the province, it merits condemnation by the people's representatives.

Mr. Smith seconded the resolution in a short speech, and he was followed by his colleague from Westmoreland, the Hon. Mr. McQueen, who charged Mr. Covert with dealing in glittering generalities and justified the advertising of Ontario manufacturers in not done so. These items made a total of $450,740.

The revenue and receipts of New Bruns-wick were next considered by the conference. Dominion Subsidies were put down as follows: On Population, $228,475; Legislative, revenues were placed at $10,525 making a total of $559,000.
