HARVEY FAIR.

A Good Exhibit in all Departments.

The Annual Fair of the Harvey Agricultural Society, held on Thursday last, was the most largely attended and probably the most successful one ever held here. The exhibit of horses, cattle, sheep and fowls was good, while the display of grain, roots, domestic manufacture, etc., in the hall was excellent, and considered by many far superior to any former exhibit displayed here in recent years. The various exhibits were tastefully arranged in the large hall, and reflected much credit on the officers and others who had charge of the department. The number of entries was 600, being nearly double that of former years, which speaks well for the farmers of this locality.

Waterside.

Oct. 19.—Schr. Helen, of Machias, Capt. Fry, is loading piling for N. Y.

The Lillie G., Hoar, and Swallow, Richardson, are both loading wood for Rockland.

The Orangemen of this place have the frame out for a new hall, the site purchased from Aaron Copp,; we wish them success.

The ladies, of Waterside, have undertaken to build a new church. The young people are getting up a concert, to assist in raising the necessary funds. A new church is much needed, many pleasant memories cluster around the old one, but it is worn out, and the people are able to build a new one. A pastor is much needed to take charge of this field.

We have had it pretty rough here for a few days, the wind blew a gale, and some fears were entertained that the vessels at the breakwater would go ashore; but the wind and sea have gone down, and as you look out on our beautiful bay it looks as though its waters had never been troubled.

Some fears were entertained that the fever had made its appearance in our midst, but all danger seems to have passed thus far. The trustees closed the schools sometime ago, an unnecessary precaution I think.

Alma.

W. J. Reid, steward, of the bark Seddmatha, now loading at Cape Tormentine, is here spending a few days with his wife and children.

The schr. Clarine, Teare, loaded with deals sailed for St. John last Saturday.

Alice, eldest child of Dr. Melvin, is very sick with conjestion of the lungs.

The Wheat Yield.

Later reports sustain the opinion that the present wheat crop of the world will exceed its predecessors in quantity. The New York Herald says that "while no absolutely conclusive statistics of this year's harvests abroad are obtainable, recent accounts indicate that they have been generally more bountiful than usual." India has not been so fortunate as its rivals, it seems, but the London Mark Lane Express says that "if we group India, Russia, Persia, Turkey and Egypt together we shall find that the total exports (of wheat) are quite as large as ever." In France, the year has been a most fruitful one for the wheat fields, and it is expected that the demand for outside wheat will not exceed 16,000,000 bushels. The French are generally customers of the rest of the world for more than double that quantity. The New York Herald still keeps an anxious eye on Argentina. It says:

Argentina exported 40,000,000 bushels more of her last wheat crop than she exported in previous years, and her new crop (to be harvested in December and January next) promises to be very large. Our Consul at Buenos Ayers has just reported:

The estimates of the (Argentine) area in wheat this year vary from 7,436,250 acres (which is an increase of fifty per cent. over last year's acreage) to 5,453,250 acres, which is only ten per cent. increase. The wheat looks well.

All this proves the wisdom of the farmers of Ontario in turning their attention with what rapidity they may to other crops. Unless a great war or a great drougth or some other disaster crashes through the calculations of men, it seems likely that wheat raising will gradually be driven into the hands of those controlling wide stretches of cheap land or unlimited quantities of cheap labor. In such a case, our eastern farmers will easily find other avenues for their industry; but they will need a little wise Government paternalism during the revolution.—Montreal Star.

Point Wolfe.

Oct. 18.—The schr. Union, Capt. Fullerton, made her last trip from here to Boston and return in twelve days. This is considered pretty good sailing.

There are at present in port here the following schrs.: Union, boards and laths, American market; Jessie, Rettie, Frendship, Selina, Amy J., deals, St. John. They are all loaded waiting a chance out.

Ernest Oliver arrived here from St. John Public Hospital, on the Rettie, on the 12th inst. His many friends are glad to see him out again.

Joseph Kerr, sr., is building a house on the property he brought from Thomas Kelly.

Mr. Vaughan has built an addition to his ware-house for hay. The Jessie arrived last week with a load for him from Senator McClelan.

Crops were a failure in this locality this year. Oats are not a third crop, potatoes poor but of a fair quality.

Harvey.

Inspector R. P. Steeves, of Anagance, is here visiting the schools.

At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees, H. E. Reid was appointed secretary in place of N. Stevens.

A subscription paper is in circulation soliciting funds for repairing the foundation of the Baptist church in accordance with a report recently made by the trustees of said church.

Captain Tipping is again in luck, having just recently become the happy possessor of another horse, the gift of Deacon Ezra Bishop. The Captain was the recipient of a similar present from Mr. Elmer Smith about a year ago.

Rev. F. C. Wright, having accepted the pastorate of the Baptist church here, was on duty on Sunday last for the first time.

Entertained the Boarders.

A very enjoyable time was spent last evening at Mr. Joseph Steeves', Steadman street, where the hostess, who gives up the boarding house the first of the week, entertained her boarders and friends. After singing and other amusements the party repaired to the dining room, where they did justice to the oysters and other good things were provided. The health of the hostess was drank, after which Mr. D. H. Johnston was called, he being the oldest permanent boarder in the house to convey to Mrs. Steeves and family the good wishes of all the boarders, and their regrets at her departure. Mrs. Steeves is moving back to Salem, A. Co., and the house will be taken by Mrs, A. J. Stevens.—Times.

Squatters had to Get Out.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 16.—At the instance of the Federal Government, 250 shacks have been destroyed and removed from the foreshore of the waters surrounding Vancouver. The work of destruction occupied over a year, and bloodshed was narrowly avoided, as those two hundred and fifty shacks represented the homes of 600 poor men who were not making enough in their opinion to pay rent. The shackites appealed repeatedly to the Government. The Government recommended them to the courts. Last week when the agent of the Government called upon them they signified their willingness to quite opposition. The Government who owned the foreshore deeded it to the Canadian Pacific Railway, therefore the shackities were squatters and had to go. The shackites are now living in cabins especially ereceted for them, and at very low rents.

Mania for Ocean Travel.

Mrs. Eliza Carson, who has crossed the Atlantic fourteen times since Jan. 1 last, will remain in Chicago long enough to attempt to show cause why a conservator should not be appointed for her property. Such an order was issued in lunacy proceedings Tuesday, the petitioner being Mrs Carson's daughter, Mrs. J. Rohrback.

Mrs. Carson returned a week ago from Europe. She intended starting on another trip Monday, but was induced by her daughter to wait until Tuesday. In the morning, however, the papers were served, and her departure has been indefinitely postponed. She has spent over $70,000 in the last eight years in transatlantic voyages, having crossed the ocean nearly 120 times. Unable to persuade her mother to rest, Mrs. Rohrback decided to appeal to the courts.

Mrs. Carson is 75 years old and still possesses abundant means, the value of her property being estimated at $70,000.

FACTS WORTH THINKING ABOUT.

Fact One. Every one wants to get best goods at bottom prices. Few get them, unless they patronize our establishment.

Fact Two. All our goods are made by the most reliable firms of the world. We don't deal in old, rotten stock and job lots made up half a century ago.

Fact Three. We expect to do business next year and the year after, and a good many years after that. Hence we treat our customers so that they will continue to trade with us year after year. When you have thought about these facts give us a call.
