Lecture on Astronomy.

The lecture on astronomy given by Prof. Cox in the Philharmonic Hall on Saturday afternoon was of an exceedingly valuable and interesting nature, while the disjuncting views by which it was illustrated served to throw such light upon the subject as could be given in no other way. The view of the solar system showing the planets in actual motion around the sun at their relative distances from that luminary, and at their respective rates of speed, was quite an education in itself, and must be seen to be appreciated. The phases of the moon, the eclipses and occultation of the sun, the theory of the tides, the rotundity of the earth, and other astronomical facts were also rendered visible in a most striking manner by exhibiting them in motion upon the screen.

Professor Cox is a master of his subject and deals with it in such a way as to render all its details as lucid and perspicuous as possible. All who wish to know something of the wonders of the heavens and to obtain an intelligent idea of their motions, their relationship to each other and to this world of ours, should make a point of attending the lectures to be given this week, which will afford an opportunity of combined interest, instruction and amusement such as we are rarely favored with in this city.—Charlottetown Examiner.

The professor will give this admirable lecture in the New Hall, Hillsboro, on Saturday and Monday evening next. Admission 20 cents, children 10 cents.

Camp, of Hillsboro, in earnest and well chosen words addressed the pastor and congregation, pointing out clearly their duties to each other. His remarks were well received and highly appreciated. Another Albert County Boy Coming to the Front.

We clip the following from the Miramichi Advance:

When Mr. R. B. Bennet had concluded his two hours' argument in the case of Donovan vs. Snowball the other day, before the Supreme Court, acting Chief Justice Tuck took occasion to compliment him very highly, and among other things said that the manner in which he had presented the case, in its thoroughness and the knowledge displayed of the subject, coming from a young man who had so recently been made a barrister, reflected credit upon himself and the profession to which he belonged.

Meeting of the N. B. S. S. Association.

The field secretary of the N. B. S. S. Association, in his recent tour of the county, visited Dawson on Friday, 2nd inst., and held two very interesting and profitable meetings. The first session was opened with devotional exercises, led by Rev. I. B. Colwell, pastor. The scripture reading was Neh. VIII, showing the esteem in which the word was held in the time of Ezra, when men, women and children assembled for its reading and study. Bro. John I. Steeves was chosen chairman and M. E. Bacon, secretary. Rev. A. Lucas then addressed the audience, explaining the purposes of such meetings, and pointed out the benefits of such associations to S. S. workers, etc. Reports from the schools were then called for. Five schools were represented as follows: 1st Hillsboro Baptist, evergreen with 152, average attendance 85, four or five conversions during year; Dawson No. 10, average attendance 60, with thirteen or fourteen conversions; Riverside 33 members, average attendance 24, a new school organized by field secretary last spring; Derryton reported rather more interest than usual the past season, no statistics; Baltimore and Caledonia were found to be closed. It was found that there are in the parish 17 day schools and but 8 or 9 Sunday-Schools, and but three of these are evergreen. Rev. A. Lucas then gave some hints on "How to improve our schools."

1. Endeavor to get all to attend. Go to them with a loving invitation, each pastor, superintendent, teacher and christian worker is a shepherd, and as such is responsible for the souls of those who are outside the school, as well as those within. 2. Keep the schools open, too often the cause of closing is not for want of pupils, but because of indolence on the part of the workers. 3. Visit the scholars, show your interest in that which interests them. Know something of their home influence, the books they read, etc. 4. Hold meetings. Then followed a normal lesson on the "Four Gospels," by Rev. A. Lucas. Questions were then collected from the audience and answered by Revs. Lucas and Colwell. The evening session passed with devotional exercises by Rev. A. Lucas, who read selected passages from the scripture illustrative of the prominence of children in the early christian church. M. E. Bacon then gave a normal lesson on "Life of Christ." Rev. A. Lucas then addressed the audience, giving a brief history of organized S. S. work from its rise in the London S. S. Union, in 1803, to the present time. Then he explained the purposes of the N. B. S. S. Association, it aims to help and strengthen the weak. The S. S. cannot be improved without improving the church with which it is connected, etc. Moved by the pastor that the thanks of the audience be tendered to Rev. A. Lucas for his services. Moved that thanks of visiting friends be tendered to the pastor for his kind invitation, and to the friends for their hospitality. After singing "God be with us till we meet again," the audience dispersed feeling they had been richly repaid.

Assassinated the Mayor. LULA, Miss., Nov. 17.—Jacob W. Harman, mayor of this town, and Henry Lawrence, a leading jeweler, were assassinated on the street on today by John W. Boyd, overseer of the Van Eston Plantation, and his younger brother Bob. A year ago, Mayor Harman and the elder Boyd had a dispute and several shots were fired. Since which time bad blood has existed between them. Yesterday afternoon Mayor Harman met John W. Boyd on the street, drew his pistol and beat him over the head with it. To-day the Boyd brothers came into town armed with rifles. At noon, as Harman and Lawrence walked up the street to dinner, the Boyds confronted them and opened fire. Harman drew his revolver and fired a couple of shots without effect. Both he and Lawrence were killed on the spot. The elder Boyd escaped on horseback and the younger on foot. They sent word that they would surrender to the sheriff, but to no avail.

New Brunswickers Abroad. There were several New Brunswick candidates in the last United States election. In New York Mr. A. Winnett Peters, brother of Judge Peters, was the Democratic candidate for president of one of the civic boards, an office second in importance only to that of mayor. Mr. Peters went down with the wave which swept over Tammany, but no one could make the slightest charge of improper conduct against him. In the canvass one of the strongest points against him was his Brunswick origin and that he was a foreigner.—In Minneapolis, Mr. W. A. Kerr, a Northumberland man, a few years ago a student with Messrs. Weldon & McLean, was elected Associate Justice of the Municipal Court. He will hold the position for six years at a salary of $3,000 a year, and this without interfering with his other practice. Mr. Kerr had about 20,000 votes as a Republican, nearly 10,000 over his Democratic competitor.—Globe.

Our Old Friend. Mr. A. J. Cox, is again on a visit to Albert Co., as representative of Clayton & Son, of Halifax, the largest clothing manufacturers in the Maritime Provinces. Mr. Cox has worked up a large sale for their goods here. He is also head of the Prussian Oil Medicine Co., of Halifax, and informs us that the sales of that valuable and popular medicine have more than quadrupled within the past year. This shows what business push will do with a good article to back it up. Success to him and PRUSSIAN OIL say we.

The growth of ivy on the walls of houses renders the walls entirely free from damp, the ivy extracting every particle of moisture from wood, brick or stone for its own sustenance by means of its tiny roots. The overlapping leaves of the ivy conduct water falling upon them from point to point until it reaches the ground, without allowing the walls to receive any moisture from the rain.
