The Alma Mail.

MR. EDITOR.—About twenty years ago a daily mail was established between Albert and Point Wolfe, and said mail has generally arrived at Alma somewhere between 5 and 9 p. m., always returned to Albert the same night, roads and weather permitting, in time to connect with the out-going train next morning. This arrangement of the mails gave very general satisfaction. Now in the wisdom of the postal authorities this arrangement was changed, in reference to the out-going mail, on the 1st ult. The mail now arrives from Albert about the usual hour, and instead of returning remains at Point Wolfe until the following morning, and then returns to Albert, giving us the following accommodations for our out-going mail: All mail matter posted here on Sunday and Monday does not leave Albert until Wednesday, and that posted here on Tuesday does not leave Albert until Thursday, and what is posted here on Friday and Saturday does not leave Albert until the following Monday, that is, a large part of our mail lays over at Albert about twenty-four hours, and the rest of it about 48 hours, before being forwarded. We think this is a retrograde movement, in this progressive age, and one that is depriving us of one of our greatest privileges.

We trust that there is enterprise enough in the business men of West River, Alma and Point Wolfe to kick against the present mail arrangements and have the wrong righted, and our mails carried under the old system.

Eastport and Perry.

Nov. 10.—Last week we wrote of Perry, now let us say a few words concerning Eastport and vicinity as a summer resort. It is said that when General Butler visited Eastport in his famous yacht "America," in 1890, when he first saw Passamaquoddy Bay, he remarked that if those who had built up Bar Harbor had first visited Eastport, the great national summer resort would now be in this vicinity instead of Mount Desert. We are sure that all persons of taste will endorse the general's judgment. We expect and hope to see the day when the bay and ocean shores of Eastport will be provided with boarding houses, private cottages and tents for those who care to live under canvas during their outing time. Nothing prevents this now but the lack of railway facilities, but have patience, the Shore Line Railroad will provide these before long.

Eastport is the head centre of the American sardine industry, the packing of sardines is by far the most important source of wealth. At the time of the great fire of 1886, nearly all of the twenty-one factories were destroyed, the present factories although less in number have a far greater capacity, they are larger and their mechanical equipment more efficient. Eastport should have other resources besides the sardine industry, especially as there is only work about half of the year as things are now. There are industries, we should think, for shoe manufacturers, whose establishments would afford opportunities for labor the year around, or during the "off season" in sardine packing. There are excellent transportation facilities by water, good building sites, within easy reach of the business part of the city, and altogether the conditions are favorable for the carrying on of almost any industry; added to this there are first rate banking houses, good systems of education, many and various fraternal organizations, good public library, and churches of all denominations.

Eastport affords a good newspaper, the Eastport Sentinel, was established in 1818—through all its history has been a straightforward, reliable, and consistent, while republican in its politics it is candid and fairly patronized by men of all sides. Mr. H. B. Nutt has been proprietor for thirty-six years, his son Fred. E. Nutt is now editor. The paper can always be found on the right side of all social and moral questions.

Now a word or two of the doings in and about Perry. The snowstorm of Monday night seemed to come as though to remain; the residents have suffered their sleighs most of the week. The town hall presented a very pleasant attraction Thursday evening; a small but very select dance took place which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Mr. Ernest D. Sproul left Friday night for a visit to your village, where Mrs. Sproul is with her grand parents. Mr. Sproul has been the victim of swamp fever while in the south. We hope the rest and change will be beneficial. Great deal of sickness through the town, many are confined to their homes with sore throats and colds.

The first telephone message passed over the wires between the two stations Saturday afternoon, everything worked satisfactorily.

HILLSBORO' GREL.

Nov. 13.—The Baptist Sunday-school here is preparing for a Xmas concert. Miss Bertha Connan is away seeking medical aid for throat trouble.

Councillor Robinson and wife are receiving congratulations this week. It's a girl.

The Harvey Minstrel Troupe, under the auspices of the I. O. G. T. Lodge, proposes giving an entertainment here about Xmas.

The Shepody River bridge, which has for some time been undergoing repairs, under the supervision of W. A. West, is now finished and considered tolerably safe.

The annual meeting of the Harvey Agricultural Society takes place this evening. There will probably be a vote taken, as to the advisability of amalgamating the Harvey and Albert County Agricultural Societies.

As it seems to be the custom in many churches at the present time to hold a recognition service, when a new pastor assumes charge of a church, it has been thought advisable by the Baptist church to do so here. And therefore a recognition service is announced to be held in the Baptist church, on Wednesday the 14th. Revs. Weeks, Brown and Ahlson of Westmorland are invited to be present, as well as the resident county ministers and the lay members.

Albert.

Nov. 11.—C. A. Peck, Q. C. is opening a law office at Albert.

William Sprague, against whom Scott Act convictions were filed, some time ago, on refusing to pay fine a distress warrant was issued and two of his horses were taken and offered for sale at public auction. Only one was sold the price realized being enough to pay the fine.

Andrew Bishop, of Caledonia, moved last week into the Ezra Ritchie house.

Joshua McRae, of Caledonia, has taken the Wm. Anderson house.

Mr. Dean now occupies the McAnulty premises.

Schr. Susie Prescott is here loading deals for St. John.

A correspondent in Venezuela sends word that a cloudburst near Valencia, in that Republic, has killed one hundred and fifty persons and damaged the coffee and other crops to the extent of half a million dollars. Houses have been levelled, bridges washed away and traffic generally suspended.

St. Martin's Seminary.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE STAR:

The work of this institution is well under way and students are gradually coming in. Truly a competent and efficient Board of Instruction have the matter in hand, and we feel that bright prospects yet await the school at St. Martin's. When the school closed in June last no intimation whatever was given that it would again reopen in September, in fact a great many thought that it would never run again. In the face of all of this only a few were ready to enter at the regular time. About ten will complete their course and be ready to matriculate in June. We already know of some, and no doubt many will come in after the Xmas holidays, and it is to be hoped that ere long the building will be filled. Regarding the teaching staff, of which we spoke above, I may say they come to "our Seminary" well known and highly recommended. The Principal, Rev. W. E. McIntyre, B. A., who is a graduate of the U. N. B., at Fredericton, is well fitted for the position that he now holds. He has the confidence of the people, and is both judicious and economical, and we are of the opinion that if any man, as a teacher, can lift the matter out of its present condition and place it on a firm footing, Mr. M. can do it. Mr. S. J. Case, B. A., of Acadia University, is again in charge of the mathematical department. He, having performed the work of this department so well in the past, clearly speaks the reason why Mr. Case is again called to the same work. We have been informed that under the leadership of the former President, Dr. deBois, the students were much pleased with Mr. C., both socially and professionally, and his many friends are pleased to know that he is again at his old post in the school. Misses Hughes and Bridges, former students of the Seminary, are now on the list of teachers. Miss Hughes takes History, Rhetoric and German, while Miss Bridges is to teach shorthand and type-writing. We are pleased to know that the work in German is to be continued, and we wish both of the last named teachers much success in their several departments of work. Miss Marion Vaughan is the instructor in drawing and painting, and Miss Annie Vaughan, having acquired the German method of piano-forte instruction, as practised by Miss Franklin Mayer at this institution last year, is prepared to continue successfully courses in musical instruction as here to fore. It is to be hoped that many of our young ladies will not only consider this matter, but go prepared to receive the valued help, to be given by the two last named teachers. The members of the board congratulate themselves in the recent appointment of Miss E. M. Fletcher, as preceptress and classical instructor in the Seminary. Miss Fletcher comes to us highly recommended by Mrs. G. D. B. Pepper and A. W. Small, presidents of Colby University during her undergraduate course. She has taught Greek for the last three years in the Boy's School, established by Mr. D. L. Moody, at Mr. Hermon, Mass. And so writes the principal: "What is even more pleasing to us is the fact that Miss F. is a decided christian and actively interested in christian work. She has a brother a missionary under the American Baptist in China, while his father is a Baptist pastor in Maine." Having asked for considerable space Mr. Editor, in your valuable paper, we will now close by saying, we hope that this may come to the eyes and home, to the hearts of many of our people and friends of the school, and that we shall remember both with our prayers and money this fine institution of learning down by the sea. Albert and Moncton papers please copy.

Nova Scotia Schooner Lost.

New York, Nov. 10.—The steamer Creole Prince, which arrived here to-day from Trinidad reports that on her outward passage on Oct. 18, she sighted the schooner Coronet of Lunenburg, N. S., in a badly wrecked condition. She lowered a boat and rescued Capt. Reuben Balcorn and Seamen Fred Haddon and Peter Carlson, of the Coronet. The other members of the crew, Mate Freeman Rood, Peter Peterson, and one seaman, name unknown, had been washed overboard and lost. The ship's cook, Peter Adams had been drowned in his berth. On Oct. 15th the Coronet experienced a terrific hurricane from the south to northwest, during which the vessel was hove down on her beam ends. Whistling in this position she filled with water through the cabin skylight and companionway. After cutting away the masts the vessel righted. She was then a complete wreck at the mercy of wind and sea.

Captain Balcorn and his two surviving seamen lashed themselves to the poop and were in an exhausted condition, being badly bruised and swollen and with poor clothing. After being taken on board the Creole Prince they were taken care of until they reached Trinidad, where Captain Haddon and Carlson returned to this port on the Creole Prince.

ONE WILD STEER.

It Causes a Panic in the Streets of Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Nov. 8.—A large sized Texas steer to-day, mad with fury, broke loose from the Buffalo Stock Yards and for several hours caused a panic among pedestrians. One woman with a baby buggy saved her child's life only by her presence of mind.

She was pushing the buggy along William street near Hickory, when the excited shouts of men and the terrified screams of women caused her to look behind. Not ten feet from her was the mad beast tearing along the sidewalk right behind her.

To snatch the baby from its seat and jump into a saloon was but the work of an instant. The mother was not a moment too soon. Hardly had the baby been clasped in her arms when the frail carriage was tossed into the air and then trampled under foot by the panting steer.

Woman like the mother fainted when all danger was passed. Mounted policemen from the 8th and 9th precincts were soon on the battlefield and opened up a bombardment on the wild animal with their revolvers. Two of the shots took effect but they served only to heighten the fury of the steer.

The beast was finally driven into the block on Spring street, between Cherry and Genesee streets. Mounted police placed themselves at each end and whenever one of them could control his excited horse he would make a dash at the steer and fire his revolver at the head of the brute.

The horses fairly trembled with fright and it was with great difficulty that they could be made to stand quiet long enough for the rider to take aim. A well directed shot between the eyes of the steer killed the animal.

Married in Prison.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 9.—The end of a romantic story was the marriage in the goal of the county to-day of James N. Bray and Grace Hugo. Young Bray is a prisoner charged with embezzlement. He is twenty-four years old and the son of an English army officer of high rank. About three years ago he left England and located in Canada. He had intended becoming a ranchman, but he fell in with evil companions and began to gamble. He was obliged to leave Canada, and Miss Hugo, who had fallen in love with him, accompanied him. They arrived in this city last summer and began living in an apartment house in a fashionable part of the city. Bray was smooth and polished, and among other things he secured without money or price was a valuable piano. When the collector called for the promised payment, it was found that Bray had sold the piano and disappeared with his supposed wife. Some weeks later he was captured in Houston, Texas, and brought to Cleveland, where he was indicted by the Grand Jury. His father was notified, and sent $500 to settle the case, but it could not be devoted. Meanwhile Miss Hugo was settled to the young man as ever, and succeeded in earning enough with her needle to bring her to Cleveland, where she arrived a few days ago. When Bray learned that he must go to the penitentiary, he concluded to, as far as possible, right the wrong he had done the girl, and the marriage, which was solemnized to-day was arranged. The bride is a beautiful and accomplished girl.

Killed by an Elevator.

New York, Nov. 8.—Katie Gillespie, a young saleswoman in the store of Hilton, Hughes & Co., was killed yesterday morning in a passenger elevator in that building. She had just entered the elevator to ascend to the fourth floor. The car was so crowded that it would not move and she was requested to step out and take another one. As she was stepping from the car one of the passengers pushed against the elevator boy, who was leaning on the lever, and the weight caused him to lose his balance and push the lever to one side, and the car darted downward, catching Miss Gillespie's head between the iron floor piece and the top of the elevator door. Her head had by its obstruction stopped the rapidly descending car, and was almost torn off the boy. The body hung with the blood flowing in streams down her clothing to the floor. The elevator had stuck between the two floors, and it was fifteen minutes before the passengers could be removed from their prison, where all the time they could see the swaying and bleeding body of the girl. The car was filled with shop girls, who mostly fainted. The girl killed was the sole support of her family. Her father has not had work for a long time, one of her two brothers is dying with consumption, and now it is thought her mother will lose her mind; as she is frantic from grief.

Hopewell Hill.

Mr. Lawson, principal of the superior school, is preparing the scholars for a musical and literary concert, on Dec. 21.

The Schr. Victory, Capt. Stiles, sailed for Boston, on Monday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. William Rogers took place on Thursday last, the remains were taken to the Methodist church. Rev. Johnson conducted the ceremonies. The pall bearers were Frank Carney, Capt. Rufus Hamilton, Allen Robinson, Allen Bray, Robert Newcomb and William Kenzie.

Praise For Mammoth Cheeses.

Writing of the cheese exhibit at the recent Dairy Show at Kingston, the Live Stock Journal remarks: "The marked efforts of Canadian cheddar makers have produced a cheese which is literally overwhelmed in magnitude."

The great cheddar which was one of the wonders of the World's Fair at Chicago last year was made from one week's milk of more than 22,000 cows, and weighed ten tons. This cheese ultimately found its way, as most great things seem to do, to this country, and the hands of Mr. Jubal Webb, of Kingston, its fame has been greatly extended. The great wrought-iron vat and the massive lorry by whose means it was moved about were in the Dairy Show, to be seen of everybody, and also a considerable remnant of the great cheese itself, being placed on exhibition by Mr. Jubal Webb.

It is now more than two years since the cheese was made, and has kept good in an extraordinary manner considering that it passed through those months of tropical heat in the Chicago Fair, and ran the gamut of Arctic cold in a Canadian winter. The cheese is sharp to the tongue, but it is sound and of good quality, while in its youth the flavor must have been of a high order of merit."

Italian Shops.

The shops in Italy are a startling surprise to American travellers. There is a dazzling window display that is impossible to resist, and the traveller enters the shop to see the magnificence that must be beyond it. Nothing is there but a small dark room in which the family of the shopkeeper lives. The whole stock in trade is in that one window. Behind it sits the owner, his wife or clerk, peeping out at the passers-by like a spider watching for his unwary fly. The twinkling dark eyes might easily be mistaken for sparkling jewels, as they flash out from among the beautiful wares.
