Prosser Brook.

July 20.—The quiet and law abiding citizens of Prosser Brook were startled by a war-cry on Monday morning the 16th inst, Daniel was not in the lions den, but he saw the lions as they came from the high lands. The cause of the trouble was that an old man, who has experienced seventy-nine years of the happiness and troubles of this world, made love to and won the heart (unknown to her parents) of a fair damsel only sixteen years of age. Our popular and worthy divine, having an eye to business, published the bans on last Sunday. On Monday morning the enraged parents put in their objections in strong terms, then started for Squire Mac, but he knows no law. People sighed and wished for George to give legal advice. I think Garland the only man liable, for threatening to put a bullet through the chair maker.

Letter From Elgin.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ALBERT STAR: DEAR SIR:—We are glad to have the Star visit our home. It is the child of Hillsboro' and we hope it will soon grow to be a giant in the field of literature and continue as bright as its namesake in the Dominion.

GARIBOLDI. Maple Grove, Elgin, A. Co., July 20.

In Court.

Judge—"Can't you and your husband live happily together without fighting?" Mrs. Mulcahy—"No, yer anner; not happily."

Opening of the Hillsboro' Hall.

The new hall was opened to the public on last Saturday night, notwithstanding the threatening state of the weather a full house greeted the opening. The company that has pushed this work through to completion deserve the thanks and pecuniary assistance of the people of Hillsboro'. A building is now erected that is a credit to the place. The services of the Moncton Minstrel Club and Band were secured and the following program was carried out:

Curtain raised Circle singing Silver Bells; Overture—The Flowers of Tennessee, James Sutton; Leaves you Burden at the Bottom of the Hill, W. C. Ross; You gave me your Love, Grant Hall; Mamie, Claude Price; Will they Answer if I Write, E. Thompson; Lucinda, A. C. Selig, Solo and Chorus—You kissed me in my Dreams, Harry Twigger; I Ain't Sponable, Fred Barker; Climb Niggers Climb, Wm. Ross; Olio-Overture—Faust, Band; Clog Dancing, Leaman Brothers; Violin Selections, Prof. J. A. McDonald; Dancing in the Barn, Leaman Brothers; God Save the Queen, Band.

The singing was very good and the band selections well rendered but the attractions of the evening were Prof. McDonald's violin solos and the Leaman brothers' dancing, whose parts were admirably taken.

After the performance refreshments were served in the upper hall. A good sum was realized which will help to reduce the debt on building.

The Orange Picnic.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE STAR: I notice in the last issue of the Star, from your Albert correspondent, that we did not clear ourselves, on the 12th July, on account of the expense in fitting up the grounds. We have to contradict the statement, and I am happy to say, we did better than pay expenses; in fact to use my expression we made "a fine thing" out of it. He also asserts that it would have been better to have accepted the offer of the Albert Picnic Club, and used their grounds free. That might have been better, if we had received that offer, but the only tender we had was the use of their grounds for five dollars, or, providing we allowed them the use of the swing and merry-go-round, to have the grounds free. Perhaps your correspondent would consider that as bearing out his statement, but we did not so consider it. Thanking you for your space and hoping this will correct his error.

I remain yours, etc., JAMES CARSWATH, Sec'y of Committee. Riverside, A. Co., July 23, 1894.

Dr. W. J. Norfolk, Formerly of Moncton Married.

The following from the Springfield (Mass.) Union of June 25, will interest many people in New Brunswick:

Chicopee people will be interested in the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Henrietta H. Carson and Dr. Walter J. Norfolk, which took place at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. John H. Moeck, in South Orange, on the 20th. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Kelsey, of New York City, and there was present, in accordance with the bride's wishes, only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties. It is announced that after a brief wedding tour in this country, Dr. and Mrs. Norfolk will leave for Europe to be gone about two years. The trip will include China and Japan, and the return journey will be by way of the Pacific, completing a tour around the world.

The story of Dr. Norfolk's meeting with Mrs. Carson, his subsequent divorce from his first wife and the sale of his valuable property in Chicopee, is interesting in this connection. In the summer of 1892 Dr. Norfolk went abroad with a young man, a patient under his care. He was accompanied by his daughter Mabel, his wife remaining at her home in Chicopee. Mrs. Carson and daughter were passengers on the same steamer with the Norfolk party. On the voyage the young ladies became acquainted, and when Miss Carson was taken ill, Dr. Norfolk attended his daughter's newly-found friend. An acquaintance with Mrs. Carson naturally followed, and the marriage just announced was the result of the introduction given by his daughter and the friendship thus formed.

On Dr. Norfolk's return from his European tour there was some unpleasantness in his home. Mrs. Norfolk finally sued for a divorce, alleging cruelty and abuse. Counter charges of a serious nature were made. A decree nisi was granted last summer and six months later the divorce was made absolute.

An Absconding Debtor.

A meeting of the trustees and creditors of Thomas W. Chapman of Salisbury, an absconding debtor, was held Friday afternoon in the office of McKown, Barnhill & Chapman. Claims against the estate aggregating between $500 and $600 were filed, but because of an injunction on the trustees it was impossible to do anything further. Chapman, it appears, went away some time ago, and in Boston met a relative, Miss E. Chapman. He told her he had a farm worth $1,500 and induced her to lend him $250 on it. He returned to Salisbury and cleared off a small mortgage and then started proceedings in the equity court to annul the proceedings begun against him in his absence. He also wrote to Miss Chapman again and got $100 more, promising to fix up all his affairs and to give her a mortgage on the farm. She became suspicious, and, coming here, made some enquiries that satisfied her things were not as they should be, and she began proceedings against Chapman for obtaining money under false pretences. When he learned of these he fled and has not since been seen about. His farm and personal property are worth about $600.

Collision on the W. and A.

HANTSFORD, July 23.—A terrible collision occurred this morning at 9 o'clock on the Windsor & Annapolis railway, about 200 yards west of Mount Denison flag station, in which the special in charge of conductor Wm. Herbert, from Kentville for Windsor, and the special cherry excursion train from Windsor for Digby, in charge of conductor Alfred Herbert, came together. The latter train had just left the station and was moving quite slowly when the special from Kentville, which was running at a high rate of speed, came suddenly around a curve in the road, colliding with the cherry excursion train.

The collision was terrific, so much so the tender of the west bound train was shoved back into a first-class car a distance of twenty feet. Luckily no passengers were in this car, and no passengers in any of the cars were in any way injured with the exception of a bad shaking up. The only injuries received, with one exception, not considered of a dangerous character, occurred to the train men, Drivers Taylor and Miller. They were conveyed by team to Windsor to be attended to by doctors there.

A wrecking train, with doctor Moore from Kentville, was soon at the scene of the accident, but, as the collision occurred on a bridge with a steep embankment on each side, it will take considerable time to clear away the wreckage, and in consequence the road will be blocked for the day and passengers will be transferred to trains at each side of the wreck.

The damage to the rolling stock will be considerable. Engine 10 and 4 are driven completely together and are very badly smashed. One first-class passenger car was telescoped, and one pair of wheels derailed; one van is badly smashed up.

The annual cherry excursion, which has been one of the attractions of the road for a number of years past, is largely patronized, and it is lucky the accident did not occur further up the line, as only about fifty excursionists were on the train, those were all from Windsor. The engine and baggage car of the express from Halifax came up to the scene of the wreck and took the cars and excursionists back to Windsor. The injured ones were taken to neighboring houses and were kindly cared for until the doctors arrived from Kentville.

Five Men Killed.

PIKE GROVE, Pa., July 19.—A fearful accident took place in Williamstown, a few miles from here, this evening, just as the miners were being hoisted out of the colliery. A number were in the wagon which had just started when the pulley underneath failed to work, and they were crushed against the top rock, five being killed instantly.

They were: John Raudenbury, John Liewan, M. A. Taste, William Clark and John W. Lohan. All lived at Williamstown, are married and have children. Their bodies were horribly mangled.

—Shad are being caught in large quantities in the Petitoediac at present.

It has been very warm and dry here of late. We had a shower this morning. Grain crops have been at a stand-still of late but rain will make them all right yet. Most of the farmers have begun hay making. The crops are good.

The E. P. & H. Railway Bonds.

In the case of Hon. T. R. Jones vs. the Elgin, Petitoediac and Havelock Railway Co. et al, on application of Mr. John Chipman, Judge Tuck on Thursday granted an order for the receiver general to pay $75.63 to the receiver in the case to pay off some new bonds that have turned up. Some thirty-nine bonds could not be traced at the time the proceedings were wound up and the amount of these bonds was deposited with the receiver general as security for their payment when they did turn up. Now some eighteen of them have come to light and it is to pay these Mr. Chipman asked for the money.

How Erastus Wiman was Bailed.

It has been stated that Erastus Wiman was released on $30,000 bail. His bondsman, much to his surprise and that of his friends, was Charles Broadway Rous, a wealthy dry goods merchant. It seems that away back in 1865, Mr. Rous, having been unfortunate in business and pressed by his creditors, was imprisoned for debt in Ludlow street jail, New York, where Mr. Wiman, learning of his distress, sent him on Christmas day enough money for a holiday repast. Mr. Rous recorded his appreciation on the walls of the cell with a vow that within ten years he would be worth $500,000 and in twenty years $1,000,000. He has kept his vow and has shown his gratitude to Mr. Wiman. W. M. Deere, father-in-law of Mr. Wiman's son, who furnished the cash for Mr. Wiman's bail when he was first arrested, telegraphed the money after Rous had volunteered to go on the bond.

The Hawaiian Question.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 23.—A commission of the Royalist statesmen arrived from Honolulu on Saturday on the steamer Rio de Janeiro, en route to Washington to see President Cleveland and obtain from him an explicit answer to the question whether he will do anything more or not to redress the alleged wrong done to Queen Liliuokalani and the Hawaiian people by the action of Minister Stevens; also what answer he makes to various protests of herself and her people recently sent forward against the republic of Hawaii. This commission is composed of three former ministers under the monarchy. Previous to the departure of the steamer a member of the cabinet being asked how the government regarded the communication, replied they were giving themselves no concern about it. If the Queen's friends wished to send a commission and make such inquiries the government would throw no obstacle in their way.
