The St. John Telegraph says: It will be impossible for either of the divisions of Uniform Rank or K. of P. lodges of St. John to accept the invitations of Eastern Division and Anchor Lodge, of Eastport, to join with them in the celebration attending the institution of the division there on the 27th. The approaching festivities at Fredericton, in which all the divisions in New Brunswick are to take part, will prevent the knights from here joining in at Eastport.

Wednesday night, Ernest Olive, eldest son of Conductor A. L. Olive, of the I. C. R. Moncton, in company with a young man named Montgomery, attempted to swim across Humphrey's Pond a place about 1 1/2 miles from the town. In their first attempt they turned back, and after a rest tried it again. Before reaching the opposite shore Olive became exhausted, and sank to rise no more. Montgomery was very near sharing the same fate, but was rescued by mill hands. Young Olive was about 17 years of age, an employee of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and a popular young man. He was a member of the Baptist church.

At St. John, a few days ago, John J. Hagan, a young man about 22 years of age, had a tooth extracted. When he returned home he complained of feeling dull and sleepy, and lay down on his bed. He continued to sleep until after midnight, when the family beginning to feel alarmed, thought best to awaken him. Their efforts to arouse him were unavailing, and a physician was summoned. The young man was beyond medical aid, and died the next morning, without having once regained consciousness. There was no ether or gas used in extracting the tooth, and no intoxicating liquor was drunk by the young man during the day. The medical theories that account for the death are that it was caused by coagulation of blood in an artery, or by some active poison not known.

At the instigation, Tuesday afternoon, on the body of John Stanton, the colored man, who died suddenly Monday morning, on Sheffield street, St. John, a number of witnesses were examined. The evidence was of a spicy nature, but there was nothing to indicate foul play of any kind; in fact the evidence more fully confirmed the general belief that death was caused by excessive drinking. Thomas Wilson and John McVey, Tilly Perkins, Bridget Hayes and Kate Hector, who were with Stanton in the boat, were all examined. Their evidence showed all hands had been drinking heavily, and that the men took two bottles of liquor with them and then went ashore and got more. Patrick Cunningham, with whom it was stated Stanton had quarrelled, denied that he struck him. The only evidence pointing to foul play was that given by Mrs. Stanton, who declared that John's neck was badly swollen on one side, and who said she had been told Cunningham struck him. The inquiry was adjourned until next Monday evening, when further evidence will be taken.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

What the Gossips have to Remark about

The Trend of Matters Political, Parliamentary or Otherwise.

Some Touch-and-Go notices of All Mentionable Manoeuvres of Things.

Monday last the Kent election campaign was opened at Richibucto by the Attorney General. The government candidate, Mr. Legere, is opposed by Mr. Goguen, who was defeated in the last local election in the county. This election seems to be creating considerable feeling, and an extra effort will be made by both parties to secure the seat for their candidate.

Our citizens were rather surprised at the very small number of excursionists who came over from Calais, on the Calais Band Excursion yesterday. This excursion from Calais has been talked about for several years and it was expected that it would be a mammoth affair, but the Band was accompanied by barely more than come in on an ordinary passenger train any day. For running excursions, Fredericton can beat them all.

Things are now commencing to hustle for the exhibition which is sure to take place here this fall. The people generally are taking an interest and assisting the committee in their work. The committee appointed for the purpose met the government last Thursday night, and were told by the Attorney General that the grant of $1,000 would be given them, and the sale of cattle and sheep would be held here while the exhibition was in progress.

GOOD PROSPECTS

For an Exhibition to be Held Here this Fall.

The second meeting of the Agricultural Society No. 34 and the Fredericton Board of Trade was held in the city hall Wednesday afternoon, and was fairly well attended. The main business was the reports of committees appointed in a previous meeting to canvass the city by wards for subscriptions towards a prize light. Their reports brought the aggregate amount subscribed thus far up to the magnificent sum of $865, the amount being obtained without any trouble. The committees expect, with a more thorough canvass, to push the amount into four figures, and this, together with a government grant of $1,000, will defray all necessary expenses.

A committee was appointed to confer with a committee of the city council regarding their expected grant of $250. At the last meeting of the council the aldermen seemed doubtful about giving this grant, it being then thought by the board that the government did not intend to aid the enterprise. Since the government had signified their intention to recommend a grant, the face of the matter has changed, and it is more than probable that the city council will, on a reconsideration of their action, grant the $250 asked for. Provided they do this, there will be no trouble about finances.

A prominent merchant who takes a deep interest in this movement, says, that with the funds at their disposal the agricultural society, with careful management, ought to come out of the exhibition with a surplus of $1,000. It is considered that the sale of government stock will greatly aid to the attendance from neighboring agricultural districts, and this, combined with the horse races and other prominent features of such a show, will no doubt draw an immense crowd to Fredericton, especially since there has been no such show here for some years past.

No date has been definitely decided on, but it is thought the exhibition will be held the 6th, 7th and 8th of October next. The building and show grounds of the Fredericton Park Association will be utilized for the event, and will, with a few additions and improvements, answer very well for the purpose.

Bold Robbery in Woodstock.

Special to the Globe.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 14th.—A sensation was caused to-day when it became known that Smith English, a young man well known in social circles of the town had committed robbery. About noon, while Mr. R. B. Manzer, his wife and son were sitting in the parlor of their home on Albert St. talking, Mr. Manzer saw the prisoner open the gate and enter the yard. No ring came to the door bell; and the family concluded he had gone through the back yard to another street. In a few minutes, however, the servant rushed into the room, saying there was a man up stairs. Father and son rushed up stairs and found English in the latter's room storing away articles from the toilet table. He was detained till officer Gibson arrived, who took him into custody. When searched the missing articles were found on his person. It is supposed that a number of offences will be brought to light during the trial.

Driving Accident.

As the Calais band was marching in from the depot yesterday, a horse driven by Mr. Staples, of St. Mary's, when passing the band struck a small boy, knocking him down, and both horse and carriage passing directly over him, while at the same time a shaft struck an old gentleman in the back, throwing him forward, when he was again caught by the wheel and thrown in the gutter. He appeared pretty badly shaken up and was put in a coach and conveyed to the Barker House. The boy, by some miracle, escaped without having sustained any serious injury, being more frightened than hurt.

Meeting Thursday Night at Marysville to Organize a Trotting Association.

A meeting was called at the Marysville rink Thursday night for the purpose of constructing a race track at that town. Mr. Gibson offered to give the land and the lumber required to fence it. The offer was of course received as a bonanza, and the work of construction will go on at once. The track will be on the opposite side of the river on what is known as the brick hill. There are some fast horses in the town and this will give an impetus to the work of breeding besides adding to the attractions of the place.

A SENSATIONAL REPORT.

About the Chignecto Marine Railway.

$1,500,000 Wanted.

The Sun says:—Some startling rumors concerning the completion of the ship railway are causing commotion and attract much attention from those more immediately interested as well as from the public generally. It is confidently asserted in well informed circles that a proposal is under consideration by the British and United States governments to advance the sum necessary to complete the work, the former in two-thirds and the latter in one-third. Three million six hundred thousand dollars have already been spent on the work, and the sum required for its completion is about $1,500,000. It is said that as the construction of other enterprises similar to the Chignecto ship railway are held in abeyance awaiting the result of the completion of that work, the promoters of the former have brought powerful influence to bear on the two governments alluded to, to at least seriously consider the proposal above named. Though some of the engineers are leaving, it is known that others who have been concerned in the construction of this road have been requested not to accept for the present, offers for future employment elsewhere, and to await developments. The foregoing is not given as entirely authentic, but is gleaned from sources believed to be reliable.

CHICAGO'S BABY SMOKER.

The Parents of a Little Victim of Tobacco To Be Prosecuted.

At Chicago the Illinois Humane Society has decided to prosecute the parents of Leonard Turner, aged two years, who, it is alleged, was taught by his father to smoke, beginning when the child was two months old. The child has now become so accustomed to the weed that he cries for his pipe and tobacco.

The mother of late has been leaving the little boy at a nursery. The matron of the nursery refused to allow the use of tobacco and reported the case. The Humane Society took the matter up, and two physicians examined the child
