NOTES AND NOTIONS

Running Comments on Passing Events.

Sundry Ebullitions in Prose and Rhyme.

How the Domestic, Social and Literary World is Wagging.

The Comet.

It is forging on through space,
With its fiery, daring face,
Like the headlight of a train to ruin
dashing;
Plunging near and yet more near,
Till this trembling, mundane sphere
Sees ahead the ruddy danger signals flashing!

Is it Biela's comet—say?
Or some other queer stray.
From the meteoric dance of flame-clad hours?
Some Peri-like evict?
Or some blazing derelict.
Driven onward by the howling fates
and furies?

Will it telescope the earth
With a sort of ghastly mirth?
Or be telescoped itself by earth's star
gazers?
Doth it hide hot coals or hail
In its long, resplendent tail?
A supply of polished stones or stella glaciers?

Is there room for it to pass?
Thrilling query! for alas!
If there isn't, Mother Earth may rue the tussle.
While her victor, vaulting clear,
May surprise some future sphere
With a specimen of meteoric muscle!

Moral: Ere it greets your eyes,
Flaming 'twix the earth and skies (Suspended like the coffin of Malomet).
Set to rights your houses all,
And make ready, great and small,
For the coming and the humming of
the Comet!

Philadelphia Times.

Horrified Stranger—You say that four men were carried away unconscious three were badly crushed, and the doctors were busy for an hour setting broken limbs! On what railroad did the accident occur, sir?

Animated Narrator—Railroad? Accident? It was the biggest football game of the season!

France has spent $300,000,000 on her army since 1871 and an enormous sum upon her navy. This is the sort of armed peace that the German victory of 1870 has forced all Europe to pay for. The Courier des Etats-Unis does not know which is most astonishing, the size of the fingers or the wonderful development of France, which has enabled her to pay such a sum and steadily prosper.

Kate Marsden, the Leper Heroine.

Kate Marsden, who is coming to this country to lecture, with a view to raising means for founding more leper colonies in Siberia, is a woman of most heroic courage and zeal, who has taken upon herself a work which would be loathsome and impossible to any one not inspired with a sublime passion for self-sacrifice.
Through 2,000 miles of swampy and unhealthy country in Asiatic Russia, through forests and districts where one false step might mean death, over the snow wastes of Siberia, Miss Marsden has travelled seeking out the wretched lepers, and founding the thirteen leper colonies she has established for the sufferers who previous to her coming were without shelter of any kind.

Facts For the Curious.

The population of America increases by 7,000 persons a day.
For every foot of stature a man should weigh twenty-six pounds.
Among 200,000 of the world's population slavery still exists.

New York has 8,162 dwellings which contain over ten families each.

As a rule the length of the face is the same as the length of the hand.

There are seventy-two places called St. Etienne in France and thirty called Washington in America.

There are in America 119,000 of the big old copper pennies lying unused somewhere. Few pennies get back to the mint.
