STRYCHNINE POISONING.
A Middle Aged Scotch-Canadian Said to be Murdering London Women.
A London cable says: Apparently we are about entering another sensational criminal cycle, with the chief figure this time of middle-aged Scotch-Canadian named Thomas Neill, whom the papers speak of as an American, though his connection with the States is purely conjectured (and probably of the most casual character). The case involves the murder of a number of free and easy women to whom the assassin seems to have administered strychnine in pellets enclosed in a gelatinous covering, which gave the victims time to go home before the poison took effect. The murders themselves seem as wanton and senseless as Jack the Ripper's butcheries. It is obvious enough that Neill is concerned in them, though he is in custody on the charge of trying to blackmail a young doctor, whom he accused of committing them. As was the case with Decimus public curiosity is on the qui vive and expectation of some light to be thrown on the Whitechapel enigma.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

What the Gossips have to Remark about

The Trend of Matters Political Parliamentary or Otherwise.

Some Touch-and-Go notices of all Mentionable Matters of Things.

The old fence at the lower side of the Post Office which was torn down was much better in appearance, if not in any other way, than the eyesore in the shape of an old fashioned picket fence, by which it has been replaced.

Recent figures from St. Louis affirm that the loss in six states from the Mississippi floods totals up to $29,100,000, Missouri loses $11,000,000, Tennessee $1,900,000, Arkansas $10,000,000, Mississippi $1,000,000, Louisiana $5,000,000, Kentucky $200,000. So much for the American El Dorado. Canada is more fortunate.

The final examination at the Normal School came to an end yesterday and many of the students go home to-day to await the result in fear and trembling. Some of the papers were exceptionally difficult, and as one of the male students in the senior class remarked, "must have made up with the intention of plucking the whole class."

Mr. Skenne, of the Penfield Woolen Mills, Charlotte Co., interviewed President Wiley of the Board of Trade, with regard to a site for building a mill at this place. Rev. Mr. Chapman performed the ceremony at the Methodist church on Monday which joined in the holy bonds of wedlock Mr. J. Gilmore and Miss Bulear, both of Penniac.

An interesting brush took place on the road the other afternoon between Mr. J. D. Reid's two-year-old keasage colt and a gelding owned by Mr. D. Buchanan. The latter horse, which is a half brother to Maggie T., proved too much for James.

Another brush which proved rather interesting was one between Mr. Warren Capen's stallion, Robbie Fearnaught, driven by Mr. Alex. Brogan and a horse which has been considered the best horse in Penniac. The Fearnaught "blood" proved the better, however, and Mr. Handley, who owns the Penniac horse, was left behind.

Foran who, on Thursday afternoon, on the Bangor trotting park, ran and won two races from S. J. D. Gilmore of Bangor. Gilmore has held the championship medal for five years. A match was made for the races of one and two miles and on Tuesday they were contested. The Moncton man won the mile by 25 yards in 4 minutes 37 seconds and the two miles by one yard in 9 minutes and 48 seconds. The time was taken by an electric clock. Mr. Foran is 21 years of age, stands 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs in condition 118 pounds. He says he is after Sandy Baxter. His Bangor performances are his first races.

Nelson Thrown from His Sully.

At the Waterville, Me., races on Wednesday, C. H. Nelson was considerably injured. In the second heat of the three-minute class as they reached the three-quarter pole, Italia leading off and Lady Nelson driven by C. H. Nelson, a close second, with Frank N. pressing him hard, Frank N. became unmanageable and the driver shouted to Nelson, "clear the track, I can't hold him." Nelson tried to sheer out. He was not quick enough and Frank N.'s wheel locked inside of his, throwing Nelson over the fence and down into a gully some eight or ten feet deep. Mrs. Nelson who had witnessed the affair from her carriage, was almost the first one on the spot. Nelson's head and neck were bruised, where he struck on a stump, and his ankle badly sprained. With his usual grit, he declared he was not hurt a bit, and got on his sully and drove the next heat.

Lady Nelson was second in the first and third heats, and Frank N. was third in the first, second in the second and fifth in the third. Nelson was brought out after the first two heats and given a little exercise. He made a quarter in 35 at an easy jog. Nelson intended to give a good exhibition had he not been thrown from his sully and injured.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Two New Brunswickers Drowned While Bathing at Orono, Me.

Michael Carwick aged 20, and John Salter, aged 22, were drowned Wednesday evening in the river near the bridge at Orono, Me.

The two men accompanied by Carwick's brother went to swim shortly after supper. Neither knew how to swim. They walked around on the shelving beach, splashing and playing in the water, and gradually went farther into the stream where a ledge stands even with the beach and sheers off into a depth of several feet. Both went over the shelf at the same time. As they sank Carwick's brother ran to try and save them, but the current carried them away, and as he was unable to swim he was compelled to stand by and see them rise and struggle and then go down for the last time. Their bodies were recovered half an hour after death, a short distance below where they went in. The men were from Gloucester county, province of New Brunswick. Carwick has relatives in Bangor. Salter has no relations in that vicinity.

Flag at Half Mast.

Yesterday afternoon the flag on the Provincial Normal School was floating at half mast, the final examination having been concluded at noon, as a token of farewell to the students. Some of the students said it was done to express the sympathy the teachers felt for the large number who would be plucked.

A despatch from Cincinnati says: A bridge over Licking river, between Covington and Newport fall, carrying down with it many men. Reports differ as to the number killed one rumor placing the number at 12, another at 30. The bridge was in course of construction and the cause of the fall is thought to be the weakening of the wooden false works.

A force of 43 men were at work on the bridge engaged in putting in place the heavy iron work on the main span when suddenly there was a cracking sound of breaking timber and a headlong plunge of the whole mass into the water 50 feet below. A few firms were to be seen struggling on the surface, others were drowned or crushed by the material. Twenty-two bodies have been taken from the river.

Among the natives, the deaths have reached 250 daily. The disease is of a most violent type. Persons seemingly perfectly well are seized with the disease while passing along the streets or attending to their usual business, and in a few hours many of them are dead. No panic prevails, for the people look upon the epidemic as a visitation from God, and, with the calm indifference that characterizes the Orientals, bury their dead in the usual manner within the precincts of the town.

They represent Mr. J. G. Haggin, late of Haggin & Tevin, bankers of San Francisco, and perhaps the most successful miners in the United States, and owning the Anaconda mine of Montana, which yields $1,000 per day profit.
