Fredericton Globe.

A. J. MACHUM, Publisher and Proprietor.

FREDERICTON, N. B. APRIL 1, 1893.

With this number the FREDERICTON GLOBE enters upon the fourth year of its existence under circumstances which afford us some considerable degree of satisfaction for our past record and of hope for our future prospects. The GLOBE has always aimed to be a newspaper and to make itself a necessary part of the equipment of every household in the Counties of York, Carleton, Sunbury and Queens, and we think we can truthfully say that our anticipations are in a very good way to be realized in the near future. We have, however, lately made a new departure and entered upon a project which we cannot but think must meet with a speedy response from those for whose benefit it has been instituted. We refer to our Teacher's Column. We have always thought that the Teacher's of the Province and especially of the four counties previously named, have been in need of some recognized medium in the shape of a weekly newspaper of good circulation and reliable character, such as the GLOBE professes to be and is, through which questions and matters of interest and importance to the public teachers as a body, might be freely discussed, and in which articles relating to teaching and to teachers might from time to time appear. The Education Review does not supply this want, as it in the first place a monthly publication, and is issued and controlled in St. John. There are often burning questions which are capable of discussion and which cannot at present, be fully ventilated even at the provincial or county institutes, meeting as they do, at infrequent periods, and remaining in session only a day or two. It is to supply this want we have organized our teachers column, which has only been in existence for two or three issues. We have already published a series of examinations of the Normal School, and it is our intention to continue the publication of these questions from time to time in this column. These will be varied by articles from the pens of prominent educationalists in our county, and by articles written by correspondents in the discussion of the subjects before alluded to. It is our aim to make the GLOBE indispensable to the teachers of the province, from whom we solicit patronage, and whom one and all we cordially invite to make use of our teacher's column for the public expression of such views as they may hold, or for the asking of questions. or making of suggestions, relating to the teaching profession. We issue with this number a supplement containing all the examination papers thus far published in our teachers column and we have mailed a copy of the paper and supplement to every teacher in the province, trusting that they may heartily appreciate the efforts we are making to benefit them and their profession, while at the same time they may not lose sight of the fact that every new subscriber to the GLOBE confers a benefit also upon the proprietor of the paper.

LIBERAL CONVENTION.

Friends of liberalism will read with pleasure the announcement lately made to the effect that Hon. Mr. Laurier as leader of the party in the House of Commons, will in all probability, summon a convention for the whole dominion of delegates from every electorial district in Canada, to meet at Ottawa some time in June next for the purpose of taking into consideration the policy of the liberal party and the best plans available for thorough organiztion for the next federal election. It is admitted by all that at the last general election the liberals showed a want of organization and compactness which went very far when opposed by the splendid organization of the tory party, backed by corruption funds for elections, to bring about the defeat of the party—a party otherwise most in favour with the large body of voters, and which upholds a policy far the most progressive and best suited to the wants of the Canadian people, and it is submitted that the interests of the party will not suffer such a state of things to occur again. Without organizatian the liberal party, though it number the wisest and strongest citizens of Canada within its membership, can do nothing at all when opposed by the concentrated efforts of organized public corruption, but with good organization they might very reasonably hope to overthrow the government at the next election. There is no doubt that the policy of the government is falling more and more in disfavour with the great majority of Canadian voters; that the ranks of the Tory party are being weakened by the desertion of Dalton McCarthy and men of his stamp, who demand a greater measure of freedom in our trade with the United States; that the government have practically admitted the justice of the liberal platform; and that at the same time the liberal policy is gaining in credit throughout the Dominion, to such an extent that if it be wisely shaped at the coming convention, the Tory party must look out for squalls in the future. It is proposed to send about five delegates from each electoral district, besides members of either house, and aspiring candidates. The whole convention will number between 500 and 600 delegates, and it is to be hoped that the meeting of so many representative men from all parts of the Dominion for the purposes spoken of above, cannot fail to materially benefit the liberal party in regard to organization and the adoption of a recognized party platform, the most popular and judicious that can be denced by this assembly.

THE BATHURST SCHOOL MATTER.

The reports of the debate in the House of Assembly on the resolution introduced by Mr. Pitt regarding what is familiarly known as the Bathurst school matter will be read with interest by every one interested in the practical working of our school law and the clearing up of some matters in connection with the action of the past and present government regarding the catholic minority on this province, over which the opposition agitators have thrown a mantle of misrepresentation, distortion and concealment. The speech of the Attorney General on Monday night is a very able exposition of the policy pursued both by his government and by previous administrations, in dealing with the vext question of catholic and protestant interests under the school law, and ought to suffice to prove to any intelligent listener that, however much or little the King Fraser government were to blame for establishing the existing regulations in 1874, (nearly 20 years ago) subsequent and succeeding administrations, including the present, are not open to censure for following in the course laid down by the framers of the school law, for the purpose of establishing a harmonious adjustment of the school difficulty at that time, and which has ever since been amicably acquiesced in by protestants of all creeds up to a very late period. Even if the catholics had orginally no right to these trivial special arrangements—arrangements which do not, after all, set at naught the principles of the Free School Law—the very acquiescence by the Protestants in these arrangements for so long a time ought to establish them secure, and to preclude the protestant majority from forcibly withdrawing or annulling them. As far as we can see, however, the catholics, either at Bathurst or elsewhere in this province, have no special rights, nor do they enjoy the benefit of any special arrangements, which are not equally open to be enjoyed by members of other religious denominations, if they so desire, and the whole agitation is, in our opinion, dictated from political motives, for the purpose of assailing the present government.

U. N. B. Senate.

At the meeting of the Senate of the University held this week, the annual account of the Registrar were laid before the Senate, and the annual reports of the general professors were received and adopted. The customary conference of the members of the Faculty with the Senate was held, and other routine business transacted. A Delegation was appointed to wait upon the members of the Provincial Government, to ask for an increase of the Provincial grant to the University. This step has been rendered advisable by reason of the increase in the number of the professors and the salaries paid to each. The Delegation met the members of the Executive Wednesday morning, and the government after hearing them, promisek to give the matter their serious consideration.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night by broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums andreduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the perscription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOWS SOTHING SYRUP."—Aug. 9—66—ly

Nothing in it.

The Boss school trouble at Bathurst turned out to be merely a question between landlord and tenant, and not between Catholics and Protestants as was intimated in telegrams received by members of the house of assembly. Some persons are capable of any act which they may think will further their ends.

A sum amounting to $1,000 has been set apart in the supplementary estimates, by the Dominion government, for the purchase of land for a permanent camp at Sussex.

St. John sent a deligation of eight members of their common council here this week for the purpose of lobbying through their civic bills. The deligates, whatever they lacked in quality was certainly made up in quantity.

Mr. Pitts, is probably becoming convinced that he has, is, and ever will be, merely a source from which hon. members on both sides of the house will derive considerable amusement, as he stated the fact himself Wednesday night when he said: "It would pay me better to be home attending to my business, than fooling around here," but he says. "I am here for an object."

* * * *

Men are at work tearing down the old collegiate school building on George street. This is one of the oldest school buildings in New Brunswick, and is the property of the U. N. B. The object of the removal of the building is that it will make the premises more saleable. It is understood the university will sell or lease them as soon as possible.

* * * *

One of our aldermen, and chairman on the administration of justice and police committee is evidently sincere in his statements that the department under that head is not bringing as much wealth in as it should, and to prove his sincerity and zeal, he is apparently never satisfied, except when raising a disturbance in which he generally comes off second best, when a complaint is immediately laid for assault and battery, thereby swelling the receipts. This style of procedure may be appreciated by the few who have the privilege of witnessing the gentleman in question receive a small portion only of what he richly deserves, but it is not appreciated by onr citizens generally, and the fact that such conduct is indulged in by a member of our civic board is a disgrace to the city.

arrived this week from Berlin and Landau we thought some of our lady friends who were waiting for them might not know it, so we take this opportunity to aunounce their arrival. "Perfectly Lovely"—"Awfully Stylish"—"Simply Elegant." If these rapturous expessions mean anything coming from ladies who have seen them, and we know they do for they were ladies who know a stylish and pretty garment when they see it. If they mean anything, we say those who have not been in to see them had better come at once and make their selections.
