

MRS. LIZZIE A. KNOWLTON, LIBERTY, ME.

Cured of a Severe Case of Dyspepsia by using Groder's Botanic Dyspepsia Syrup.

THE AMERICAN BARON.

Continued. Another rifle explosion followed, which was succeeded by a loud, long shriek. "An attack!" cried one of the men, with a deep curse. They listened still, yet did not move away from the place, for the duty to which they had been assigned was still prominent in their minds.

Let's take the prisoners there and bind them. This proposition was accepted; and, seizing the priest and Ethel, the four men hurried them back to the grave. The square hole lay there just beside them, with the earth by its side. Ethel tried to see into it, but was not near enough to do so.

whisper to Ethel, her retreat, and the ascending footsteps; while at the same time he was aware of the unalterable coolness of the priest, who kept calmly at his work until the very last moment. The screw seemed to enter his own frame, and the slight noise which was made, inaudible as it was to others to him seemed loud enough to rouse all in the house.

nor could he tell whether she was near or at a distance. Girasole had led them away. He determined to look out and watch. He perceived that this grave, in the heart of the brigands' camp afforded the very safest place in which he could be for the purpose of watching.
