FREDERICTON, N. B. MARCH 25, 1893

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Provincial Legislature has completed the third week of its legislative duties and the major part of the work of the session may be said to be already accomplished. The session has been comparatively uneventful in many ways, and the speech making, owing to the lack of interesting and exciting public questions to arouse the enthusiasm of the members, has been somewhat below the average. It is true that some very good speeches were made on the Atkinson petition, one of the best being that delivered by Mr. Dibblee in defence of his election. The legislature very quickly disposed of Dr. Atkinson s grievance The Attorney General pointed out that the doctor had a remedy in thecourts of law, apart from his right to appeal to the legislature. But in case he took his case to the courts, he would, in case he failed, be under the necessity of paying all costs incurred in the matter, while by bringing the case before the House, the doctor knew very well that in any event all costs, no matter how great, would have to be borne by the province. Now, as these costs in nearly every case, and especially in Dr. Atkinson's case, where witnesses would have to be brought in great numbers, and all the way from Carleton county, are very great; and as there was at present no way by which the province could recoup itself for costs incurred in such an investigation Mr. Blair moved a resolution to the effect that Dr. Atkinson and all other persons who in future appealed to the legislature with regard to an election, should be called upon, before the hearing took place, to put up a deposit of $1,000, to defray expenses in case the appelant failed to make good his case. To this the house very readily assented, and it seems to be a wise and judicious measure. If the aggrieved parties in such cases had no remedy available at law, the case would be very different, but, as it is, the province should not be called upon to pay all the costs of an unsuccessful appeal, where the appelant has an equal chance of redress in a court of law, where if unsuccessful, he would be compelled to pay the costs.

There was also a very lively debate Thursday afternoon and evening on the stumpage and lumber resolutions. The Surveyor General introduced the subject, calling attention to the report of the lumber commission appointed two years ago, and to the fact that the present 10 year leases of the Crown Lumber Lands would soon expire, and it would be necessary to pass legislation limiting the duration of the new leases and regulating the conditions under which they are to be granted. He was followed by the Attorney General, who intimated that the government was in favour of extending the time of duration of the lumber leases, in order to render the tenure of the lessees as permanent as possible, a fact which would tend to make them more caref l about the protection of the lands leased, from fire, and would almost entirely prevent the cutting of undersized lumber. The government also proposed to guard against combines being formed, and the revenue from lumber lands becoming depreciated, by inserting in each lease a covenant binding the lessees to cut an average annual percentage of lumber on the ground leased, as well as a condition providing that the Lieutenant Governor in council may increase the rate of milage and stumpage during the continuance of the lease.

The intentions of the government as outlined above, were embodied in the three following resolutions moved by the surveyor general:

Resolved, That it is expedient that the leases to be granted for the timber crown lands after the expiration of existing leases contain such covenants and conditions as will protect the crown against such lands being held for speculative purpose by a stipulation that a certain average cut should be made in respect to all lands held by the lessees or in such other manner as the governor in council may deem advisable.

Resolved, That it is expedient that the leases to be granted of timber crown lands of the province after the expiration of the present cases shall contain a condition among others that the lieutenant governor in council may increase the rate of stumpage and mileage upon land held under lease at any time or fr m time to time during the continuance thereof.

Resolved, That after the expiration of the present leases of timber crown lands the leases be offered at public competition upon the condition that the same shall be renewed annually at the pleasure of the lieut. governor in council, and for a term not exceeding 25 years.

There was no great objection on the part of the opposition members, to the two resolutions, which practically protect the interests of the province from being disregarded by the lessees of lumber lands, but considerable discussion took place on the mouing of the third, extending the duration of the leases to 25 years.

Messrs. Stockton, Powell, Phinney, Pitts and other opposition members, and Messrs. Blair, Tweedie, Baird and Gogaine took part in the debate which lasted till midnight. Dr. Stockton moved amendment to this resolution, that duration of the new leases do not exceed 10 years. On a division the amendment was lost by a vote of 25 to 10, Mr. Hill voting for the amendment, after which the original resolution was carried. Mr. Pitts has given notice of a motion for Monday next for a committee to investigate the grievance embodied in the petitions of certain members of the county, regarding the public schools of the province.

This is the Bathurst school matter in its ugliest form, and lively times may be expected the first of the week. The Bill granting aid to Lady Tilley's reformatory school for boys, has been agreed to and passed, and a great deal of other legislation has been carried through during the past week.

With the present issue ends the third year of the life of the Fredericton Globe, and with next week's issue, we will celebrate the fourth anniversary of the publication of the first number. On the whole the GLOBE has been thus far a very successful newspaper and advertising medium. Our circulation has steadily increased until it now numbers upwards of 1500 to which we propose add to 500 new subscribers during the coming year. Our job work department cannot be excelled in the city of Fredericton. Next week we will ssue a special teachers number, with a supplement containing a repulication of all the Normal School examination papers thus far published in our teacher's column, and will mail a copy to every school teacher of the province. It is our aim to make the GLOBE indispensable to the school teachers as a body, as well as to all other classes of public readers. The GLOBE takes this opportunity to express its thanks to its numerous patrons for favours in the past, and its hope that a continuation of such favours in the future will benefit both itself and its many readers.

The Supreme Court in banc yesterday gave judgement upon the writ of error for which the Attorney General issued his fiat subsequent to the conviction of Dr. Randall and C. B. Welton for conspiracy in January last. Four judges were present viz: Chief Justice Allen and Judges Palmer, Tuck and Fraser. Judge King was ill at the time the argument was had before the court, and gave no judgement, while Judge Hanington is related to some of the parties, and took no part. The court was at first equally divided the Chief Justice and Judge Fraser being for granting a new trial, and Judges Palmer and Tuck being for a reversal of the judgement of County Court Judge Peters of St. John, before whom the trial was held: Judge Tuck, however, withdrew his judgement, and the majority of the remaining three Judges decided in favour of a new trial, on general grounds, among which were improper admission of evidence, and misdirection of the judge below.

Welton and Randall will now have a second opportunity to clear themselves of the charge of conspiracy, as the whole matter will have to be tried again from the beginning.

Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Arcibald the temperance lecturers, were allowed to appear before the Legislature yesterday where Mrs. Hunt gave qnite a lengthy and eloquent address on the subject of Temperance.

Luther's Wife's Wedding Ring.

The wedding ring of Luther's wife has been discovered at Ainna, near Coburg, where it has been in possession of a family that has had no idea of its interest. An inscription upon it has been deciphered to mean, "De Martino Luthero—Catarino von Boren—15 Juni, 1525.' The ring is ornamented with religious emblems, and is like Luther's engagement ring, which is in the art museum of Leipsic.

M. Moissau, member of the Academie des Sciences, has produced a number of microscopic specimens of true diamonds from ordinary carbon, which he had crystalized by means of an electrical furnace, invented by himself. Results were obtained by dissolving pure carbon, obtained by the combustion of sugar in an ingot of iron heated to 3,000 degrees centigrade, and then crystalizing it by the application of cold water. The crystals thus produced are very minute, not above the thousandth part of a caret, but they exhibit all the qualities of the real diamond.
