

CORRESPONDENCE.

Clearview.

JULY 9th.—G. W. Somerville M. D. graduate of Baltimore College Physicians and Surgeons, and Jefferson Medical College, has come to locate with us.

He is a Kings County boy, and graduated at the head of a class of 300. His office will be in the new building of C. H. Phillips.

Mr. Emmerson Morgan late of Tracy, Sunbury Co., intends to put up a woodworking shop, and also a blacksmith shop. The chances are that he will have a good trade if he does his work properly as there is a good opening for the right man.

Mr. Henry Henderson head carpenter for C. H. Phillips was badly hurt by the falling of the stairs in the course of erection in the new building, last week, which will prevent the hall being finished as soon as was expected. Mr. Henderson is a member of Court Clearview I. O. F. and will now find the benefit.

Students.

There is given below the certified list of students who presented themselves at Woodstock last week to take the examinations for admission to the Normal School and University. They are all residents of Carleton county except C. S. Hetherington, who hails from Victoria county. This is a good showing for our county. It is certainly highly encouraging to know that Carleton contains so large a number of young people who aspire to grasp the advantages of an education. Many people have educated themselves without the assistance of schools, and many have had all the schools could give them, and yet can't be said to be educated, but there is no one who would not be better off for books and teachers, and that training which can only be had in knocking about among the students of a large educational institution.

SUSPENDED THE ADJUTANT.

Major General Herbert is Bound to be Boss of his own Show.

Military circles have been a good deal disturbed of late over the extreme severity of the military discipline inaugurated by Major General Herbert. The general's latest thunderbolt was the suspension of the Adjutant General, Colonel Walker Powell, for having failed to sign his initials to a certain military order.

It came with no little surprise to everyone in military circles, particularly, as the Adjutant General's offence seems to have been trifling from the point of view of a civilian. Still if we are to have a Major General from England, let us by all means have a man who will not be afraid to speak his mind, and if we are to have a military organization, let it be conducted on military lines. And everyone knows that discipline is the essence of military organization.

Hearing of Col. Powell's suspension, the minister of militia sent this letter to General Herbert.

Ottawa, Ont., July 6, '94.

DEAR GENERAL HERBERT:—I have your report of the 6th inst., respecting the suspension of Colonel Walker Powell. I notice that it is marked confidential as was also your report of the 30th June. You refer to this latter report as being official but I cannot regard a report marked confidential in that light. What I desired was such a report as without detriment to the public service could be submitted to parliament, and which as soon as it had been submitted would become the property of the press of the country. Upon consideration of the matter I do not consider the charge you specify against Col. Powell as of sufficient gravity to warrant continuing his suspension for a longer period. You will be so good as to remove the suspension and reinstate him in his position as adjutant general. You will also please give directions that he be furnished with copies of your official report to me so as to give him an opportunity of answering and explaining the charges against him, with a view to such further action as may be necessary. Believe me, dear General Herbert,

Yours faithfully,
(Signed) J. C. PATTERSON.

Advices from Ottawa of a recent date states that in accordance with the minister's instructions, Adjutant General Powell has been reinstated, and it is also said Gen. Herbert has resigned.

A New Plumber.

A new plumber has arrived in town, and judging from the recommendations he brings with him, and which are here published, he stands in the front rank of the trade.

He is John J. Hughes, and his office is in Whelan's building, opposite the Wilbur house, and if he cannot be found there at any time, inquiry at Mr. Joshua Corkery's residence, Chapel street, will elicit his whereabouts.

Mr. Hughes brings important testimonials.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT,
St. John, N. B., July 5, 1894.

To whom it may concern: I have known Mr. John Hughes for many years. He learnt the trade of a plumber in this city. He worked in this department for three years and always gave satisfaction, was sober, honest and industrious. He has for the past few years carried on his business of plumbing on the west side and has, I believe, always done good work, and I regret very much that he intends leaving the city.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,
Director Department Public Works.

PROVINCIAL LUNATIC ASYLUM,
St. John, N. B., 5th July, 1894.

To whom it may concern: This is to certify that John J. Hughes was in the employ of this institution for ten months, extending from June 4th, 1888 till April 28, 1889. He gave good satisfaction in his work. He understands his business, and whilst with us attended to it efficiently.

JAS. T. STEVENS,
Supt.

Inquire for John Hughes, practical plumber and hot water engineer, dealer in hot water boilers, radiators, range boilers, iron and lead pipe, baths, water closets, basins, pumps, sinks and fittings of every description used in heating and plumbing. Estimates furnished for hot water heating and plumbing. Jobbing promptly attended to.

Deliberate Wrecking.

The accident on the C. P. R. at Moosehead has been thoroughly investigated by the proper authorities at Vancleboro, said investigation conclusively proving that the catastrophe was not caused by collapse of the trestle, but by some person placing ties on the track and removing fish plates from the rails. The ties used for this were new ones, not a spike hole in them. Fireman McDonald jumped from the engine and was seriously hurt. He recovered consciousness Wednesday, but is yet unable to speak. The engineer reversed his engine, showing that he saw an obstruction on the track, but too late to save the train or his life. The trestle was examined by the railway commissioners less than two weeks since and by the C. P. R. engineer two months ago, in both instances being found perfectly sound.

The Green Bag.

The Green Bag for July has an appreciative article on the late Lord Coleridge supplemented by two excellent engravings. "Trial by Newspaper," "Petition for Guardian," "English Gaols a Century ago," "Something about Theatres," "Massachusetts acts and resolves," "The Count of Star Chamber" and a number of other things useful and interesting followed in pleasant succession. The number is well illustrated.

Still in Doubt.

Rev. Finlow Alexander and Professor Stockley of Fredericton, went to Montreal on Friday, it is stated, to consult with a leading Anglican divine at that place before announcing their decision as between the faith of the Anglican and that of the Catholic church.

FISH HATCHERIES.

Dr. Colter Asks the Minister to Look Into the Question of Net Fishing.

In the Dominion Parliament the other day, the house was in committee, and ran across an item of $50,000 for the building and maintenance of fish breeding establishments and lobster hatcheries. In the course of the debate which ensued the member for Carleton made the following apt remarks, derived from (Hansard) official report:

Mr. COLTER. When this item was under discussion the other evening, some hon. gentlemen expressed themselves, as some have done tonight, as doubtful about the usefulness of these fish-ways. I can only speak for the one on the upper part of the River St. John, and I am very glad to say so far as I am able to judge, it has been a decided success. Previous to the building of that hatchery, there were no salmon caught on the River St. John or its tributaries with the fly; but since that time, both on the St. John River and on its tributaries there is very fine fly fishing. For instance, I suppose there is no better stream for fishing in the province of New Brunswick than the Tobique. On another river the Maduxnekeag, a branch of the River St. John, if the hon. gentleman comes down in the month of June, I will show him hundreds of salmon trying to get over a nine-foot dam, because there is no fish-way. I hope the Minister will soon see his way to putting a fish-way on that river. I am told that a few years ago the mills were burned and the dams destroyed, and in that year a very large number of fish went up the stream; and if we only had a fish-way on that river now I think it would equal if not excel the Tobique for fly-fishing. I had occasion some time ago to call the Minister's attention to the netting of fish on the St. John river, and I do so again tonight. I believe the law is that you can set nets in the tidal waters a certain number of days. And they claim on that river that the tidal waters extend some twelve or fourteen miles above Fredericton, but that is a disputed point, and they are allowed to set nets there and catch large quantities of salmon. Above that point they are not. Now, below the point where they are allowed to set nets, there is a number of islands, and the river is consequently divided into a number of channels. People set nets and catch enormous quantities of fish, and yet they are prevented from setting nets above that point. This has caused hard feeling among the people of York and Carleton, and I hope the hon. Minister will see his way clear to look into the matter, and, if possible, have one law for all. If it is necessary to stop netting altogether, do so, but do not stop it on one section of the river and allow it on the other.

Sir CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER. I am very much obliged to the hon. gentleman for mentioning the difficulty to me, which he did a few days ago. The real difficulty is, that while we have the power, under the Act, to fix the tidal boundaries, that has not been done. I have asked, at any rate, for full particulars by official report, and will be very glad to deal with the matter. The other subject to which the hon. gentleman referred is also being attended to.

Not Very Cheerful.

Everything in connection with the presentation of an address to Lt.-Gov. Fraser last week passed off well, excepting the "cheer" which fell decidedly flat. After the band had played the National anthem, and the governor had been addressed and had addressed the audience, Coun. Watts moved to the front and called for three cheers for the governor. A sound which might be described as a cross between a howl and a sigh came up from the assembled thousands. The battery chaps, who were on hand, kept passive silence.

They were on their dignity and were not going to cheer on the command of any civilian even though he be a city father. But when the colonel commanding called on them to applaud, they did so with a gusto that almost made up for the feebleness of the citizens' outburst. A cheer to be effective must be a genuine impulse, and a forced cheer is the dimmest thing under the sun except a funeral.

Senator Glazier Dead.

Senator Glazier, one of the oldest and best known, of the members of the Canadian Senate died Saturday. There has been no more regular attendant of Parliament than the Senator from Sunbury, and he has always been in the possession of vigorous health. This session, however, he has been ill, and his eyes gave him so much trouble that it was feared he would become blind. Death relieved him from his sufferings. Mr. Glazier was one of the oldest members of the Senate—having nearly completed his eighty-fifth year. He was born at Lincoln, Sunbury county, and he has always lived there. He was an active and enterprising lumber merchant for a long time and was one of the best-known men in the country. Before Confederation he represented his county in the House of Assembly, and in the year after the union was consummated he was called to the Senate. He has not taken a very prominent part in the deliberations of that body, but he was watchful of New Brunswick interests and was able to express his views clearly when it was necessary to speak. His death makes a third vacancy in New Brunswick's representation in the Senate.
