

CORRESPONDENCE.

Canterbury.

DEC. 31.—The highway roads are in bad condition owing to the ice. Mr. Gilbert had a narrow escape from going over the bank on York side of the bridge. There ought to be a railing along the bank.

Ernest Maxen was driving to Eel river with Mrs. Geo. Brown's team and double wagon. While going through the cove woods, the horses not being well shod, slipped over the bank throwing Maxen from the wagon down the steep embankment. Horses and all went, the horses turning a complete summersault. Maxen escaped with slight injuries. The horses, with the help of the villagers, were rescued.

Firm Lynt and Miss Lila Connors were united in the holy bonds of wedlock on Christmas, by the Rev. Mr. Brooks.

Christmas day passed away very quietly—the duller Xmas the village has seen for years.

Rumor says that our village is soon to be in the possession of a new store.

The S. of T. Division intend renting the hall to hold their meetings the remainder of the winter.

The sad news reached here Saturday morning of the drowning of a lad named Fox while skating on the river near Pokio.

Our mail is about to change hands, and leave Eel River at 6 o'clock at night. It is a great inconvenience for the people here. If they want to go to Woodstock they will have to stay there all night, and until 3 o'clock next day. The mail, your correspondent supposed, was put on this part of the road for the accommodation of the Canterbury people, not for Woodstock nor for any government officials.

Perth Centre.

JAN. 1.—We had a small snow storm on Xmas eve, making sleighing very good. It was quite handy to a green Xmas.

Christmas day passed away very quietly. Those that had teams or could get one were enjoying a drive, and others enjoyed themselves at home.

On December 26th it snowed a foot or more and lifted some.

Mr. B. Kilburn, of Kilburn, N. B., and Miss Bessie Harper, of Jacksonville, were in town today.

Geo. T. Baird is able to be at his business post each day now. We are very glad to hear of his recovery.

W. F. Fowler, of Fredericton, passed through town today on his way to the camp.

Miss May Mallory, of this place, left for Woodstock to spend a few days with friends.

Miss Thomas, of St. Stephen, is visiting Mrs. McPhail, of this place.

Mrs. Spalding, of Lower Perth, died today. She leaves two children and a husband to mourn their loss. She was a lady of English descent, and came to this country about two years ago, and was highly respected.

Knowlesville.

DEC. 31.—Christmas was a very quiet day. A few of the people left their homes to visit their friends and spend the day, as the snow that fell during the night made very good travelling. Wednesday was clear and fine. Thursday was a wild day. The wind blew from the north east in the morning and at noon it was blowing a terrible gale. During the afternoon the doors of the F. C. B. church blew open, but the only damage done was a quantity of snow blown into the house and some glass broken. Mrs. H. H. Hobb's barn roof was blown off and the barn is badly shattered. A double wagon that was out in the field with a hay rack was blown over so that the wheels were clear of the ground. The rack was under the wagon and the wind kept the wheels in motion during the gale.

Mr. William Morehouse was the next to receive a loss. The roof and gable ends of his barn were blown to pieces. His stock was in the barn but was not injured. The neighbors went this afternoon to repair the barn but come to the conclusion that very little could be done. John Avery offered to give him room in one of his barns, and his hay was hauled and put in Avery's barn.

Mr. Gross Avery's barn roof was blown off and gables blown to pieces. The barn was repaired last summer and was thought to be a strong one. Gillmore's new mill on the cold stream has lost the roof, and his barn met the same fate.

The roads are in a very bad condition. The snow has drifted very hard. The snow has blown in drifts. The mail that left Hartland yesterday did not reach here until this morning.

Bristol.

Mr. Geo. Olds of Lower Northampton is reported to be very ill.

While he and Mrs. Gibson were driving home from Woodstock behind a spirited horse, the animal became frightened of a trench in the road caused by running water. The horse leaped the ditch breaking the axle of the wagon and throwing Mr. and Mrs. Gibson heavily on the frozen ground. Mrs. Gibson escaped with a few bruises but Mr. Gibson and his shoulder dislocated and was badly shaken up.

On Sunday evening in the Albert St. Baptist church, the regular preaching service was foregone and a sacred concert took its place. The concert opened with a chorus by the mission band, "Watchman, tell us of the night." Scripture was read and prayer offered by Rev. Mr. Baker. Among those who took part in the concert were Whitman Harmon and Laura Harmon, who gave recitations; Lizzie Horsemont, Jean Saunders, Elva Hamilton, John McKinnon, May Morrison, Flossie McKinnon, Harding Venest, Carrie Scribner, recitations; Miss Boyer, reading; Carrie Scribner and Katie White, duet.
