Troy, the popular clerk of that establishment with a fine travelling bag, setting out in glowing language the high esteem in which Mr. Troy was held by those with whom he came in contact. Mr. Troy's reply was full of feeling and quite to the point.

THE A. O. H. society of Woodstock is indulging in the luxury of a debating society. The debates which are held on every Wednesday evening bear on the questions of the day. Last Wednesday evening they discussed the question of woman's suffrage. John P. Melaney led the faction that favored it and James Brown led the opposition. Among the speakers were R. Waddleton, J. McRae, J. J. Troy, Alex. Beaton, D. Riordan and J. Hughes. J. S. McManus moved the adjournment of the debate and so has the floor for tonight.

FIVE GENERATIONS.—A paragraph appeared in some paper a while ago containing the information that in Scotland there were representatives of five generations of one family living. It is not necessary to go to Scotland for a case of this kind as one exists in Carleton county. Mrs. Charles Boyer, of East Florenceville, is 95 years old. Her daughter of the same name is 72 years old. Her grand-daughter Mrs. G. F. Street, lives at Perth. Her great grand-daughter Mrs. George Dent, lives in Woodstock, and her great great grand-daughter who is now 10 years old is Nellie Dent of Woodstock.

DAIRYMEN.—The regular meeting of the Woodstock Dairymen's Association was held in the Cedar Hill school house on Monday evening. There was a good attendance, and an animated discussion took place on the growth and cultivation of corn and root crops. The principal points brought out were, that the soil should be thoroughly prepared; broad-cast manuring was advocated as best for potatoes; that corn could not profitably be raised for meal, that turnips were better for beef than milk. The raising of sugar beets was advocated. The subject at next meeting, on Jan. 28th, will be, "The Care of Stock."

A LEGAL ITEM.—The Fredericton correspondent of the St. John Sun writes the following piece of news from York county court:

In Horatio N. Crant v. Hammond Dow, an action of assumpsit on account, defendant's counsel, Chipman Hartley of Woodstock, moved for nonsuit on the ground that no particulars had been served with writ of summons; Wesley Vanwart, Q. C., plaintiff's counsel, argued contra. It was finally agreed, Judge Steadman wishing time for consideration, that a verdict be entered for plaintiff for $20.50, amount claimed, with leave reserved to defendant to move for nonsuit on the ground stated.

HORSE BURNED.—A serious accident happened on one of the freight cars at the B. & A. R. station yard, in this town recently. A very valuable horse, purchased by Jewell Williams, of Fort Fairfield, enroute to that place from New Jersey, had to remain here over night. It was very cold, so a large kerosene lamp was put into the car to keep up the temperature. Some time in the night the car caught fire and partially burned. The horse was burned on the side of his neck and suffered, as supposed, from inhaling the hot air and smoke from the lamp. He was removed to McDougall & Rideout's stable where he was treated by Dr. Perry, the Veterinarian.—Houlton Times.

EDMANSON, BATES & CO., Gentlemen.—About three or four weeks ago I had an attack of Itching Piles. I tried two or three different remedies recommended by druggists as "the best and only cure" etc., etc., but got no relief. About the time I was beginning to despair of finding any relief, with some slight misgivings I bought a box of your pile cure, which I am pleased to say gave me almost instant relief and permanent cure. I consider your Ointment a God-send. ALF. J. DEAN.

Mock Parliament.

Friday last was a regular obstruction night. It began by the acting leader of the opposition rising to a question of privilege, and attacking the government on its dilatoriness in delaying to bring down the budget. He was called to order by the acting speaker, J. A. Lindsay, but on a motion to adjourn the house, continued his criticism. A general debate following, in the course of which the finance minister said he would probably produce the budget early in February.

E. M. Boyer was prepared to move the second reading of a bill relating to accident insurance, but on his rising to move it, the member for Restigouche next rose to a question of privilege. The government, convinced that obstruction was the order, objected to the privilege being allowed. It was plain that the opposition were anxious to censure the deputy speaker for his absence, but the finance minister got the floor and held it against all comers. Finally, the opposition got up in a body and left the house, a la Parnell, and the session closed in disorder. A hot time may be looked for next Friday.

Marriages, Births, Deaths.

The registrar of births, deaths and marriages for the county gives the following interesting information to THE DISPATCH.

Marriages.....168

Births.....119

Deaths.....117

Of those who died 8 were over 90 years of age, the oldest being 96. There were 17 between the ages of 80 and 90. Of these 25 aged persons 18 were born in Ireland, 1 in Nova Scotia, 1 in N. B., and 5 place of birth not given. The registrar thinks that the marriages are nearly all returned to him, but that returns of births and deaths are very much neglected. The registrar says, as a rule, Roman Catholics priests and Church of England ministers make their returns more promptly than other clergymen.
