CORRESPONDENCE.

Centerville.

Nov. 11.—Miss Fitzgerald is showing some fine lines in millinery. One would do well to call on her. J. C. Hartley passed Friday and Saturday here. Ernest Holyoke, representing Garden Bros., Woodstock, was in town on Wednesday.

G. E. Perkins has moved to his new residence on Broadway.

Rev. Jos. Cahill passed several days in Woodstock last week.

The R. T. of T. will hold a public gospel temperance meeting on Sunday afternoon the 24th.

Haddon Burr is receiving the congratulations of his numerous friends on a recent domestic event—twins.

Walter Williams, Woodstock, is visiting in this vicinity.

Walter Everett, one of C. M. Sherwood's popular clerks, was absent in the country last week.

The sad news reached here on Thursday of the death of Mrs. Kimball, Fort Fairfield, who was formerly Miss Savage, daughter of Wm. Savage, Pioneer.

The deceased had many friends here.

Prof. Wright, of Bethel, Me., will give a free concert at Clark's hall, tomorrow evening.

The professor intends to open a singing school here, and a large class has already been formed.

There are a number of young ladies in Centerville who possess tribly voices.

The pupils attending the Centerville school will hold a public concert on Christmas eve.

Ransford Rourke, of Kent, has made a general assignment of all his property to J. J. Gallagher for the benefit of his creditors.

His liabilities exceed $1200; assets about one half that amount.

This is, it is said, the first assignment made in this county under the new Insolvency Act.

The hearing of the information against Amos E. Hartley for unlawfully pointing a firearm at Geo. Tracy, was held before Justices Scholey and Clark on Friday, and the trial of the case occupied the whole day.

To accommodate the large number of people who attended the trial, the court was adjourned from H. T. Scholey's office to Scholey's hall.

J. J. Gallagher was attorney and counsel for the prosecutor, and J. C. Hartley appeared as attorney and counsel for the defence.

The defendant was adjudged guilty, and fined the sum of $20, and $16.45 costs, and in default of payment to be imprisoned in the common jail for 30 days.

Considerable interest was taken in the trial in this neighborhood.

The excitement regarding the struggle between the two divisions of the R. T. of T. is on the increase.

Some twenty-five new members have been enrolled and reinstated since the contest began.

It seems to be the general impression that J. J. Gallagher is husbanding all his ammunition for the last two nights, and that he will be the wearer of the furs this winter.

Mr. Gallagher's division rendered the following program on Monday evening:

Vocal solo, Miss Annie Webb; declamation, Miss Carrie Fitzgerald; reading, Mrs. Geo. McClinton; instrumental duet, Leroy Lee and Miss Annie Lee; reading, Miss Crab; speech, J. M. Flewelling; reading, Byron Alexander; dialogue, Miss Helen West and Julia Skot; recitation, Ruel McClinton; original poem, J. J. Gallagher.

A session of mock parliament was held in Clark's hall on Friday evening.

G. W. White was unanimously elected Speaker and J. M. Flewelling was appointed Clerk of the House.

Speeches were made by the Premier, Hon. H. T. Scholey, Hon. Mr. Peppers, Hon. C. M. Sherwood and Dr. Brown.

The speech from the throne was read, and the Secretary of State Hon. Mr. Peppers, moved the address in reply, and was still speaking when the leader of the opposition, J. J. Gallagher, who was unavoidably detained by a business appointment, entered the house at a late hour.

His arrival was greeted with thunders of applause from both sides of the house.

Mr. Gallagher attacked the Premier vigorously and telling speech, for his breach of faith in moving the address in reply in his absence, since it was mutually agreed that the address would not be moved until the first public session the following Wednesday evening.

Mr. Gallagher then moved the adjournment of the debate, and the government did not oppose the motion.

The house was adjourned at midnight.

The government are experiencing some difficulty in the formation of a cabinet.

Several portfolios have not yet been filled, and the government are using them as a bait to a few independent members.

E. L. West, the true and tried Liberal member from Charlotte was approached with an offer of the portfolio of Minister of Militia, but the honorable gentleman scorned the bribe.

The cabinet is at present made up as follows: Minister of Customs and Premier, Hon. H. T. Scholey; Minister of Finance, Hon. C. M. Sherwood; Secretary of State, Hon. H. W. Peppers; Postmaster General, Hon. L. B. Clark; Minister of Inland Revenue, Hon. S. A. MacKenzie; Minister of Justice, Hon. H. C. Clark.

The opposition will hold a caucus on Dr. Brown's office on Tuesday evening.

Perth Centre.

Nov. 11.—The weather of last week has been warm and summer like up to Saturday when it snowed about six inches.

The river has raised about two feet.

Howard Porter son of Joseph Porter of Andover narrowly escaped being drowned Saturday evening, as he was crossing the river in a bark canoe and the night being very dark before reaching the shore the boat struck a rock and upset throwing Porter into the river, but he managed to get a hold of the end of the canoe and gave the alarm, he drifted down the river some distance before being rescued.

Parties from Andover hearing his calling for help soon sculled a boat and picked him up. He was about chilled through when taken home. Porter claims he could not have held out ten minutes longer.

The Harper's Ferry Jubilee singers gave a concert in Beveridge's hall, Andover, to a full house. It was the best concert of its kind that ever visited this part of the country.

Mrs. Addie Larlee has finished the outside of her house which adds much to its appearance.

Rev. A. G. Benson is still holding revival meetings here which have resulted in much good. He administered baptism to two yesterday and three on the previous Sunday.

G. W. Upham has the wharf built for his new steam mill.

A. L. Green has his house completed and will move in shortly.

Geo. E. Baxter has moved to Andover to his new home he purchased some time ago, formerly known as the George Curry farm. Mr. Baxter intends to do a larger berry business. His present location is much better for his business.

AT HARTLAND,

FRIDAY EVENING, 15th Inst.

Hartland.

Nov. 11.—Ed. Morgan has purchased the saloon that Joseph Waugh built this summer and has converted it into a butcher shop.

S. Atwaters and W. W. Ross have built a large building on Main St. to be used as a livery stable and butcher shop.

C. Humphrey Taylor's new building is nearly complete.

The water in the river has come up so that the ferry boat can get all the way across the river; the first since September. The most of the people in this vicinity are pretty hopeful over the prospects for a bridge in the near future.

The Harper Ferry Quartette will sing in the F. C. B. church next Friday evening.

Grafton.

Nov. 11.—It is hoped the drought is over. Rain has fallen in torrents, the old Ouigoudi has risen at last. The rain was hailed with delight by those who have lumber lying along the banks of the river.

Robert McElroy has a large crew of men yarding logs on the Fraser land, Bull lake, now owned by J. N. W. Winslow. Rob. reports game very plentiful in that section of the country, he saw a "moose" there one day last week and thinks by its tame appearance it has taken up its abode for the winter.

Our school is progressing under the careful management of Thos. Hunter, who we learn is a very painstaking teacher. He has 50 or 60 pupils enrolled.

Jas. E. Price and family left on Monday last en route for Oregon U. S. where they intend to remain. They will be greatly missed from the Sabbath school. The Grafton Literary Society will miss Miss Price as she was an active member.

Miss Iva Hale has returned from Fitch Business College. We are all pleased to have her home again, but sorry to learn that she has been quite ill.

Miss Minnie McElroy after a fortnight's vacation has returned to her school at Bull's Creek. We hear she intends remaining there next term.

Miss L. Shea has gone to Boston to study music. She will be greatly missed. We wish her success in her studies.

Waterville.

Nov. 11.—"Time's glory is to calm contending kings." Thus time has been working its ravages in this vicinity.

The many friends of Mr. E. J. Branscombe were sorry to hear that while out hunting one day last week the gun kicked breaking his collar bone in two places. Dr. Bearisto, of Lakeville, rendered medical aid.

Miss Watters of Colorado, is visiting her friends in Waterville.

Jacob Palmer, while crossing through a field was attacked by a vicious cow, and escaped with a few injuries.

There has been a strange fellow of late seen around Waterville. He drives a grey horse and covered buggy. But we know when he called on some of our neighbors in this place he found things very different from what poor Solomon Slow did. Didn't find the breakfast room empty and the "van" gone.

Miss Ada Mitchell, of Fredericton, who has been visiting the Misses Palmer of Third Tier, returned to her home Wednesday.

Miss Gardiner entertained a few of her young friends Thursday evening with a party. After a late hour they dispersed, all voting the evening the grandest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gardiner made a flying visit to the Fort last week.

Miss Vanwart is spending a few days at Bath.

Mrs. H. Kimball who has been spending a few weeks with her daughter, Miss Churchill, returned Saturday.

Andover.

Nov. 11.—An old and respected resident died here recently in the person of Mr. Barnabas Armstrong.

Deceased was born in the County of Annapolis, N. S., April 2nd, 1813. He came to N. B. when he was 16 years of age, and located at Andover. In a gracious revival under the late Fathers Hammond and McMullin he was converted, and at the age of 19 he was baptized and united with the Baptist church at Andover, of which Elder Hammond was pastor. December 14, 1836, he was united in marriage to Mary Jane Scissin, who has been a true Christian wife, and who still survives. They had a family of twelve children, eight of whom have passed forward to the better land leaving one son and three daughters to claim the promises of their father's God, thirty-seven grand children and eight great grand children, quite a number of whom are members of the Baptist church. Bro. Armstrong was a man of sterling integrity and deep toned piety, full of faith and good works, universally respected. He was a beautiful singer, and always appeared delighted in that department of christian service. His funeral was held at Andover. By request of the family, the sermon was preached by Rev. Thos. Todd of Woodstock, assisted by Rev. Mr. Whitman.

North Richmond.

Nov. 1.—A huge pile of dry hardwood, cut and split, on Arthur Bell's place, near his house, was burned recently. The neighbors turned out in force and exercised all their energies to put it out. It contained a whole year's wood.

The Methodist league held a basket social at the line store last week. Fourteen dollars and fifty cents were realized. Everyone had a pleasant time.

Guy Wilson, Mr. Nadeau, Mr. Blanchard, Miss Maggie Wilson and the Misses Blanchard drove from Presque Isle a week ago Sunday to spend the day with friends here.

Miss Jennie Crawford of Presque is visiting friends here and in Littleton.

Miss Jennie Campbell, Caribou, is visiting here. There was a young peoples party at Thomas Stewart's last Tuesday evening.

Florenceville.

Nov. 21.—Winter has come as far as snow is concerned. It fell to the depth of about three inches yesterday the 10th inst. Whether it will stop with us or not remains to be seen.

Miss Lela Hasty, daughter of John Hasty, died of consumption Sunday last about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. She was only confined to her bed about one week. Her many friends will mourn their loss.

J. L. Saunders has the stone wall completed which he has been putting under his store, and it makes a grand improvement.

Leo Kearney is learning telegraphy with R. C. Kirkpatrick at C. P. R. station.

One of our most popular young men is contemplating bridging the creek valley. He thinks it will make the walk shorter. I dare say it would.

Our genial friend, Dr. Ross, had his home made happy one day last week by the appearance of a young lady boarder.

Bath.

Nov. 11.—The recent snow storm has left the roads in a rough condition.

Mr. Millers many friends are pleased to see his smiling countenance once more among them.

Sister Mary Everett and Mr. Coy are holding holiness meetings here, and a number of converts have already been made.

A basket social was held in the Oserite meeting house on Thursday night an enjoyable time was spent, and some sixty-seven dollars realized. P. W. Cass, Esq. acted as auctioneer.

John Nowlan the well known lumberman and P. McCain, Fredericton were here last week on business.

Mr. McIsaac and family have moved into the new house on Main St. and are settling in.

Mr. J. A. Hasty, of Bath, has returned home after a successful business trip to Portland.

The families of Wickham and Kent have been here a few days in Presque Isle.

Only a little bit of ice.
Just enough snow to cover it nice.

Only a man walking proudly along.
Up goes his heels and down goes the strong,

Only a man but fallen so low
Cursing the author of "Beautiful Snow."

That is about the programme here now, the rain of last week froze as it fell making a bed of ice and Friday's snow fell on it hiding it completely and as this is pretty generally a hilly country, when a fellow strikes a piece of this hidden ice on a hill, French language and ice fail to make connections, but the unfortunate individual's head generally "gets a bump on itself."

We have got about six inches of snow here now with indications of more shortly. At Boundary Lake the snow is not quite so deep as here. The smaller lakes are all frozen over, as is also the dead waters in all the streams. But the larger lakes such as Bean lake, Glacier lake and Boundary are open yet. The weather is cold and clear, generally about what we expect to see in N. B. in January. Moose and caribou are pretty scarce but deer and all small game are plentiful. But news is scarce, papers are late getting to us and consequently the news seems stale when we get it, but better late than never, I suppose.

We have quite a lot of French here and they will about drive the ordinary English speaking man wild with their everlasting "parley franc."

ware" until he gets used to them. But they are a pretty fair sort of people in their way even if it is a poor way. Nov. 1st was All Saints day, consequently there was a general stagnation of business.

Fort Fairfield, Me.

Nov. 11.—Fort Fairfield has been very dull of late in business lines, as well as otherwise. The slow times are partly due to the low price potatoes are bringing, and partly due to the condition of the roads and streets.

Last week was unusually fine and warm, and after the recent snow storm the streets have become very muddy, there being about four inches of mud on Main street.

On Saturday night last we had quite a heavy fall of snow, about six inches falling, and on Sunday morning about four inches more, a sleigh drive.

The Silver Dandy Minstrels gave a very creditable entertainment to an appreciative audience in Memorial Hall, last Thursday evening.

The Stevens Electric Light Co. had their lights on Saturday evening for the first time. The lights would have been on by Wednesday evening had the proper lamps arrived.

A very sad thing occurred last week in the death of Mrs. Leverett Kimball, who was a young woman of 26 years.

Frank E. Griffith of Presque Isle, spent last Sunday in town.

Two new clerks started to work in town last Monday morning; one in the Fort Fairfield clothing store and one in Palmer & Holmes drug store.

J. A. Perley of Andover, also Rev. Scovill Seales and wife of same place were in town last week.

D. Tapley of Woodstock, was here on a business trip last week.

Clarence Burpee of the B. & A. is temporarily stationed at Bangor.

T. F. Emmett Milmore of Woodstock, is in Fort Fairfield engaged on the Beacon staff.

Geo. E. Flood of Flood & Sons St. John, spent Sunday here at the Collins House.

The Sunday evening services of the Episcopal church have been discontinued for the present.

Bicycles, straw hats and soda fountains have been laid on the shelf for the present.

The young lodge, the American Aid Society, has been recently organized in F. F. with a fair membership.

The young people have recently organized a whist club which meets this week for the first time.

Alexander Dunbar Sr. of Woodstock, was seen in F. F. last week, being here on a business trip.

George Winters, who has been clerking for Palmer & Holmes for the past two years, has gone to Presque Isle to work.

The new telephone connection with Limestone is nearly completed.

Potatoes are bringing only 50 cts. per bbl. On account of the low price very few are coming in.

The young folk enjoyed a skate on the mill pond last Monday morning.

Did Pitezel Suicide?

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—In applying for a new trial for Holmes, his lawyers will present as a witness a woman who kept a liquor dive in the house where Pitezel was found dead.

She will swear that Pitezel used to call at her house, and once said: "I am not surprised at people dying, even by their own hands and if people only knew of one's trials and troubles, they would not blame him for putting himself out of the way."

Holmes, and Chicago, to prove that Pitezel attempted to take his life in those cities.
