

THE WOODSTOCK DISPATCH.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., NOV. 6, 1895.

A WORTHY MEMBER.

Reference was made in an editorial last week to Mr. R. S. White's resignation of his seat in parliament as the member for Cardwell, Ont. The prophesy made by some journals that Mr. White's resignation was mere bluff has not been fulfilled. He has issued an address to the electors of Cardwell, giving his reasons for taking the step which has caused so much comment. He says that in 1891 he gave his pledge to the electors that he would withdraw his confidence from the government in the event of the then recently enacted school legislation of Manitoba being made the subject of disallowance by the Dominion government. He then mentions the fact that his name was connected with the office of collector of customs for Montreal, that the Montreal merchants were complaining that the appointment was left unfilled. An impression also prevailed that the government feared to make the appointment as it would mean the opening of Cardwell, a doubtful constituency.

Mr. White proceeds:—I decided without solicitation on the part of the Cabinet, and without intimation of my purpose to any of its members, to dispel that impression, as far as I could, by resigning the representation of the county of my own accord. As a consequence, an opportunity will shortly be afforded you of pronouncing upon the public issues of the day, while the Government will be relieved of any embarrassment my presence in parliament may have caused in naming a collector for the port of Montreal as desired by the merchants of that city.

This departure of Mr. White has generally won commendation from the independent press. It is a blow—and a stinging one—to those creeping things who have "an office" in view while they are pretending to wish only to serve the interests of their constituents.

A man who goes into politics, for the sole purpose of feathering his own nest may be doing a "smart" thing; but he is playing a detestable trick on his fellows and on his country.

VACANT SEATS.

The following constituencies with their government majorities, at the last election are now vacant, and by-elections must be held shortly:—

Cardwell.....	248
West Huron.....	16
North Ontario.....	254
Montreal Centre.....	1,214
Missisquoi.....	159
Jacques Cartier.....	276

Cardwell is vacant by Mr. White's resignation; West Huron by Mr. Patterson's appointment as governor of Manitoba; North Ontario by the recent death of Mr. Madill; Montreal Centre by Mr. Curran's elevation to the bench; Missisquoi by the acceptance of Mr. Baker of a portfolio in the cabinet; and Jacques Cartier by the elevation of Mr. Girouard to the bench of the Supreme Court of Canada. Three of these constituencies, Cardwell, West Huron and North Ontario, are in the province of Ontario; and the remainder are constituencies of Quebec.

Kidney Facts.

In Jan., 1892, my son was taken with Kidney disease. Though attended by three physicians, and change of climate he grew worse and by 35 had fallen from 135 lbs. to 85 lbs. In 10 days from starting to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills we were able to move him home. In 4 months he gained 50 pounds and was fully restored to health by the use of this medicine. Jno. S. Hastings, 23 St. Paul St., Montreal.

A Serious Blunder.

The Poor Law Officers' Journal tells a strange story about the removal of a pair of lunatics to an asylum near Yeovil. It appears that the relieving officer, while removing two female lunatics to the asylum, was accompanied by a female attendant. At the institution the relieving officer and the resident medical officer, after the usual formalities, left the three women together. One of the insane women was removed to the baths, and on the attendants returning for the other they, by mistake, seized upon the sane woman; and, despite her most energetic protests, screams, and the oft-repeated assertion that she was in full possession of her senses, she was forcibly taken to the baths, stripped, and bathed, the lunatic proper meanwhile being permitted to wander at will. Some little time after, on the relieving officer returning to take back with him the woman he had engaged as attendant to the lunatic, he was not a little astonished to find that she had been placed under restraint, while the lunatic was wandering about. No great harm was done, perhaps, but it is clear that if the relieving officer had left the attendant to find her own way home she might have been left in the asylum and the lunatic allowed at large.

Do not wear the impermeable and tight-fitting hats that constrict the blood-vessels of the scalp. Use Hall's Hair Renewer occasionally, and you will not be bald.

In one of the leading journals of Montevideo the following advertisement appeared recently: "A very rich young woman would like to marry a young man of good family. If necessary she will pay the debts of her future husband. Send photograph to I. P., at the office of the Journal." The inserter of this announcement was a merchant tailor who had just set up an establishment in Montevideo. By this plan he procured photographs of many undesirable customers.

The Holmes Trial.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—In the Holmes trial on Wednesday, Mrs. Pietzel, wife of the murdered man, was on the stand. It was with much difficulty that she was able to testify, her voice being scarcely audible. Her face showed plainly the terrible sufferings she had undergone. Her daughter Alice had been allowed to accompany Holmes to Philadelphia to identify Pietzel's body, and he afterwards took her to Cincinnati. Subsequently she was joined by Nellie and Howard, the other two children. All the money Mrs. Pietzel got out of the $10,000 on her husband's life was $500. The witness told how she had been taken from place to place on the promise of seeing her husband and children, and of her repeated disappointment. She had not seen her husband since 29th July and her two little girls she saw lying side by side in the morgue at Toronto. Howard she has never seen since he left home, though she did see some little things belonging to him in the coroner's office at Indianapolis. The defence objected to this evidence, but without avail. The cross-examination only strengthened the story of Holmes cold blooded knavery. Dossie Pietzel corroborated her mother's testimony.
