Hartland.

SEPT. 23.—Ferrying has become so difficult that it is impossible to get the boat over to the other shore. A wharf has been built in the middle of the river, and to that, and no farther, is it possible for the boat to go. Teams ford the river from the wharf to the other shore; foot passengers, if able to walk a fence walk ashore on logs strung along the dam; if unable to walk a fence, passengers are taken ashore in a bateau. The same price is charged for both methods of crossing "you pay your money and you take your choice."

Miss Millie Thornton has gone for two or three weeks to visit at Millville.

Mrs. D. E. Morgan has gone to attend the Free Baptist annual conference at Deerfield, N. S.

Much sickness prevails throughout this vicinity. Cholera morbus appears epidemic.

The telephone line to Woodstock gives much satisfaction, and is being well patronized. THE DISPATCH correspondent in conversation with one of the business men of this village found that if the instrument at this end of the line were in a private room more general satisfaction would be afforded. The idea is this: the telephone will be patronized chiefly by the merchants. As a rule business over the wire will be of a private nature. No business man would care to go into the office of another in the same line and telephone his private affairs.

A. H. Sawyer has had a crew of men at work building dams on the Becagumic and cleaning out the bed of the stream preparatory to next season's driving. Mr. Sawyer has had a chance to learn a thing or two about stream driving this season, if he has been engaged in that work all his life. Over a million feet of lumber is yet at the boom, while a great deal more is strung along the shores of the stream. And the mill stands idle.

The lumbermen are preparing for the woods. D. H. Keswick has three camps on Grand River. He intends getting out about five or six million. He employs about 75 or 80 men.

Potatoes are rotting very badly. Many farmers find them not worth digging. The rotting does not cease even when put in the cellar.

Mrs. W. S. Henderson will go to St. John this week to purchase her stock of fall and winter millinery. She will occupy the store that C. Humphrey Taylor is now in.

The writs are out for the parish election. C. J. Connelly offers himself as a candidate. He has for a long time been a resident of Windsor, but moved into the village last spring and built a house. He is now in municipal affairs, but for all that will undoubtedly poll a large vote. J. Ed. McCollum also in the field, and he too is a popular man, very well and favorably known. Gideon Phillips, a present councillor will also run.

Florenceville.

SEPT. 23.—Professor Harrington is the guest of John McCain in the village.

W. S. Estey and wife and Miss Estey are visiting D. N. Estey here.

Carrie Estey has just returned from a visit to Mrs. H. B. Palmer, Sprague's Mills.

Allan Peters is attending Youngs Business College at Fredericton.

Albert Brewer has had a crew at work on the bridge here for about a month. They have put a double floor on it, strengthened it in one or two weak places, and are now painting it. Mr. Brewer expects to complete the job in ten days more.

David Semple is giving his store a coat of paint. By the way, paint is not one of the first characteristic features of Florenceville. If the R. T. of T. were not so flourishing a body here it might be hoped that some of our young men would paint the town.

S. D. Hamilton has opened a tin shop under W. L. McCain's hotel, and does a thriving business.

The R. T. of T. will hold a tea meeting and concert in their hall on Wednesday afternoon the 9th of October. The pumpkin pie editor most solemnly warns the public that if they stay away they will miss a good thing.

An association of the Patrons of Industry was organized here in the R. T. of T. hall on Monday night of last week. There were twelve charter members. W. A. Taylor was elected president, S. D. Ross, v. p.; George Wheeler, sec.; Scott Darkis, treas.; G. H. Estey, guide; and James Peters sentinel. The association meets every Monday night.

C. L. S. Raymond, Woodstock, and Mr. Maunsell, Kingsclear, with four ladies drove from Woodstock to attend the meeting of the F. & D. Association of Carleton County that was held here on last Thursday afternoon.

Casey Cormier with his wife and child are here in the village, visiting his father.

D. W. Jaffigan and wife, and Ward Kilpatrick were among the number that went from here to Quebec on the excursion last week. About fifty people from the vicinity of Johnville joined the excursion at Bath, among whom was Rev. Fr. Murray. About 120 people from Presque Isle got on at Aroostook Junction. Mr. McGaffigan expresses himself as highly pleased with his trip. He speaks in glowing terms of the beauty of the road from Quebec to St. Anne de Beaupre, and says the hotel accommodation is above reproach. The excursion party generally distinguished themselves by their sobriety and quietness.

It is reported that Alonzo Stephenson will sell his farm here and move to Aroostook County. Florenceville will miss him.

D. FITZGERALD & SON

Some time ago nineteen farmers of Florenceville and the vicinity entered into an agreement with a Mr. Brant, of Chicago, to build a cream separator on James McIsaac's farm near the depot. The separator was to be completed by the 15th of August and they were to pay him $50 for it. The farmers went to separate the cream and send it to the new Fort Fairfield creamery, the proprietors of which were to sell the butter and pay the Florenceville men the market price of the butter, less the cost of making and handling. Mr. Brant came to Florenceville last Thursday and wanted to build the separator at that late day. In the evening about a dozen men met Mr. Brant at McCain's hotel and it was agreed between them that the separator should not be built. It is thought, however, that a separator will be built next season.

Perth Centre.

SEPT. 23.—The weather continues very dry and warm.

The grain is about all harvested being an extra good crop. Farmers are busy digging potatoes, which some report only half a crop.

A great many men are leaving for Aroostook county to dig potatoes, by which they earn considerable loose change.

Mr. John Brooks, of Arthurette, met with a painful accident Thursday afternoon while driving to town. The horse got frightened at a bicycle and gave a sudden plunge, throwing Mr. Brooks out on his face, he receiving a severe shaking up. The horse was held up after running a distance of two miles without receiving a scratch.

Mr. Beveridge's new hall is about completed. It is a fine large building, and will add much to the appearance of the town. The Farmers are about to secure it for their meeting nights, second and last Mondays of each month. The new hall has been well patronized and much vocal and instrumental talent has been displayed.

Perth Centre through all its drawbacks is coming to the front. Liquor traffic is the chief drawback. Some outsiders claim it has to be sold in Perth in order to pay deficiency for other parishes. It seems to be a very poor argument that Perth has to be imposed on by the liquor traffic to pay outside parties' taxes.

Geo. Upham, of Woodstock, has secured a mill site just above this village, and it is said he is going to work at building this fall.

There is some strong talk of a corporation going to build a pulp mill at the Narrows on Tobique river, three miles from town.

It would be a safe investment for some good business man to open up a wood-working factory here. Lumber can be obtained at reasonable rates and there is a large country to supply.

Mr. James McNair, of Arthurette, purchased the Stratton mill at Red Rapids some time ago, and has put it into good condition for sawing. He has shipped a number of cars to western markets.

Miss Ella Parker, of Woodstock, was in town one day last week looking for a variety of carpets, clothing, boots and shoes, and room paper. In the basement, crockery, lamp goods, nails, heavy hardware, etc. In the main store, light groceries, shelf hardware. Special attention is given to ladies' dress goods, gloves, findings, and gents' furnishings. Toilet articles and jewelry. In fact everything that is usually kept in a first-class store. The goods are artistically arranged and make a fine appearance from the windows. "One price for all" is the motto, and the customer is sure of receiving the politest attention as well as good value for their money. Produce is always taken at cash prices. Mr. Phillips having secured the services of a first-class milliner, will have a grand opening of millinery about the 15th of October. The goods will be entirely new and representing the latest styles. All old stock has been disposed of.

Mrs. A. B. Street leaves tomorrow for St. John to visit friends.

Bristol.

SEPT. 23.—Among the stores of Bristol, and one well worthy a visit by intending purchasers, is that of C. A. Phillips' cash store. It is well stocked with new and seasonal goods. In the upper story will be found a great variety of carpets, clothing, boots and shoes, and room paper. In the basement, crockery, lamp goods, nails, heavy hardware, etc. In the main store, light groceries, shelf hardware. Special attention is given to ladies' dress goods, gloves, findings, and gents' furnishings. Toilet articles and jewelry. In fact everything that is usually kept in a first-class store. The goods are artistically arranged and make a fine appearance from the windows. "One price for all" is the motto, and the customer is sure of receiving the politest attention as well as good value for their money. Produce is always taken at cash prices. Mr. Phillips having secured the services of a first-class milliner, will have a grand opening of millinery about the 15th of October. The goods will be entirely new and representing the latest styles. All old stock has been disposed of.

East Florenceville.

SEPT. 21.—Probably some of THE DISPATCH readers do not know the locality of this place. It is situated directly opposite the Buttermilk creek, and is bounded on the north by the outskirts of Bristol and on the south by Cooper Valley. The post office is kept by David Semple who is a very competent man for the position. In connection with his place, his son H. Semple runs a livery stable. He is generally at the depot to meet trains and take strangers in. On coming down the street the next business of any importance is the agency of Balmain Bros., kept by our friend A. D. Clark. The next door below is the firm of Carle & Hunter who run a general blacksmith shop and wood-working. They turn out light and heavy wagons, puns and sleds, in fact they can make any thing from a goose yoke to a threshing machine. On coming down the street the next firm is the well known Kilpatrick Bros. They keep a large and well assorted stock of dry goods groceries and confectionary. One of the firm has gone to Quebec on the excursion. On coming out of Kilpatrick Bros., store you are in the front yard of the Exchange Hotel which is under the management of J. W. Burnham who has just returned from a graduating course at the county college. The proprietor of the Exchange is building a block just below the hotel. He intends it for a store on the ground floor and public hall on second flat. The hall is about finished.

Our station agent R. C. Kirkpatrick can be found at the depot or P. O. at any hour of the day.

Oats appear to be moving towards the market. They are handled at the station by Billy Boyer and Billy Moore, the last named man is going to furnish a government candidate for the coming local election providing they furnish the money.

The day school is taught by Miss Ena Gill of Northampton.

Report is that Wm. Schriver one who has been a prominent farmer has commenced the study of medicine.

Miss Laura Tompkins, has returned home from visiting friends in Fort Fairfield.

Peel.

SEPT. 21.—A grand temperance meeting was held at Peel on Sept. 13th, under the auspices of Granite Council No. 116, R. T. of T. This council which was organized in July with a membership of 23, has since about doubled its members. The interest is still increasing and new members are constantly coming in. The meeting was the first of this nature held in this place, and the success of the attempt will certainly encourage the entertainment committee toward holding another in the near future. The room was beautifully greened for the occasion, and the audience was as large as ever assembled in the building. Allan Rideout occupied the chair. The program was as follows:

Opening chorus, "Coming to the Battle;" recitation by Ella Lewis; chorus, "Sleeping on Guard;" recitation by J. K. Flemming; dialogue, by Eddie Ross, Herbert Harmon, Wolfred Rideout; recitation by Allan Rideout; chorus, "The King's Highway;" recitation, Wolfred Rideout; reading, Herbert Harmon. The speech of the evening was then given by J. K. Flemming, P. G. C., who spoke on temperance in an interesting and instructive manner, after which the meeting was closed by singing the closing ode of the council. The dialogue, "Doing exactly as you are told," brought forth many a hearty laugh. The recitations were well rendered and suitable for the occasion. The selections rendered by the choir were the latest temperance songs. Miss Moores presided at the organ.
