CORRESPONDENCE.

Glassville.

JUNE 11.—The deepest sorrow prevailed throughout the neighborhood on the afternoon of Wednesday the 12th when the sad intelligence was circulated that Harry Home one of our most popular young men had met his death by drowning in Esdraelon mill pond that day. It appears that he and Frederick Thomas, for whom with others he was working, went into the pond in an overheated state for a swim and that the chilly water immediately struck Harry with heart paralysis or cramp, it may be, and he sank in about eight or ten feet. Fred Thomas attempted to rescue him but in vain. This however, was at last accomplished by George Gillmor, who dived several times before he succeeded. When the deceased was brought to shore Fred Macleering was at once dispatched for Dr. Welsh, who was speedily on the ground and adopted all means resuscitation but without effect. The Dr. we understand believed that the immediate cause of death was heart failure in Harry's first struggles, and being a corner he immediately empaneled a jury to hold an inquest, at the request of A. G. Lindsay who with his father was upon the ground and others. The jury after mature deliberation returned a verdict of "died by drowning." The greatest praise is due to the Gilmore family, who did all in their power with others to aid the doctor in bringing the deceased back to life; and when hope was gone had the body carefully removed to their house. Meantime Squire Gilmore had driven off to Knowlesville for the father of the deceased, who was upon the ground, and made arrangements for the removal of the body to his home in Glassville. Mr. Perry Fitzgerald with his usual kindness volunteering his services for the sad duty. Owing to the hot weather the funeral was arranged for the next day, and such was the high estimation in which deceased was held by the people of Aberdeen that long before the advertised hour of burial 3 p. m. beautiful wreaths of flowers were forwarded for the casket by different christian friends to Mr. Home's, and large crowds rapidly gathered to follow the remains to Glassville cemetery. The body was taken to the parish church where the burial service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Fiske in absence of Mr. Bearisto. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity with a deeply affected audience. After devotional exercises conducted in such a singularly impressive style as to draw tears from all present, Mr. Fiske addressed his hearers from Prov. 23:26 "My son give me thy heart." The preacher dwelt so eloquently and feelingly on the condescending graciousness, the winning tenderness and appropriateness, the striking unselfishness and the unspeakable value of the divine request, that we have seldom seen a large congregation so wholly and so deeply moved. His illustrations were forcibly painted and persuasive. Indeed when speaking lovingly and favorably of the deceased in his different relations, his panegyric on a mother's love was one of the finest ever listened to. At the close he spoke words of comfort, consolation and advice to the bereaved friends, which were listened to by all with the greatest sympathy. The organ was not brought into requisition, but the song service was conducted by a full and most efficient choir led by Mr. Kenneth McIntosh, one of the finest sacred vocalists in Carbon county. After the benediction, the casket lid, which bore the inscription—"Henry Marchmont Home, drowned 12th June 1895—aged 26 years," was partially opened and people passed round the church, taking a last fond look of the departed. Then came the interment in the presence of the large crowd certainly one of the largest ever gathered within the precincts of our "city of the dead" Rev. Mr. Fiske officiating at the grave. The funeral arrangements were under the management of Mr. John McIntosh who carried them off with his usual gentle and unobtrusive courtesy. The deepest sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Home and family. Indeed all seem to vie in extending to the bereaved the tenderest offices and expressions of regard on account of their loss of one, who it is said, had not a single enemy, but was also in every respect a most dutiful and loving son.

Bath.

JUNE 17.—Perhaps no village north of Woodstock is more deserving of public notice than is Bath, situated on the C. P. R. 24 miles north of Newburg Junction, and 30 north of Woodstock. Many visible signs of activity and prosperity are to be found on every hand. Building operations are starting in with a boom unsurpassed by no place of its size.

John Bohan will build a fine residence near Mr. Tracey.

A series of evangelistical meetings were recently held in the village with the result it is hoped of much good having been done.

The dry weather which has continued for so long that the farmers were beginning to despair of their crops was terminated yesterday afternoon by a beautiful shower since which time a number more have followed, nature has put on a less dusty appearance in consequence and everybody is feeling cheered. There is nothing like rain, is there?

Dr. McNally, a recent graduate of McGill University is practising here. He is a popular young man and is getting a good practise.

H. B. Miller is now station agent here in the place of Mr. Blakeslee, who has gone to Hartland to work with J. T. G. Carr.

Jarvis Tracy is preparing to erect a fine hotel here. It is already has the cellar wall built and will commence work on the superstructure immediately. The building will be finely fitted up, with hot and cold water in all the rooms, and other modern conveniences not often seen in a country hotel. Mr. Tracy has had considerable experience as an hotel keeper, and is a popular man with all classes of people, particularly commercial travellers.

This is not the only building to be done here this summer, for C. E. Gallagher and E. D. R. Phillips will both erect stores between now and fall and John Bohan intends putting up a dwelling house for himself.

James Brown at one time a skilled axe maker in Fredericton, died of pneumonia here on Monday the 10th instant at the house of P. W. Cass.

Hamilton Giberson who has been confined to his house for some time is out again.

Tim Lynch was in the village last week. His wife and family are spending the summer with her father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bohan.

A very heavy storm passed over this place last week, and according to reports a large amount of damage was done several barns being struck by lightning and burned, in the village proper no damage was done.

Knowlesville.

JUNE 17.—Rev. G. Swim, preached in the F. C. Baptist church last Sunday morning.

Leonard A. Doucette, raised a barn on Saturday last 32 x 42, and 18 1/2 feet posts. Part of the timber taken was from one of the first barns built in this place. It was built in 1862. A few of the people that helped to raise the barn 33 years ago were at the raising last Saturday, but the boys of 33 years ago are the old men now. There was not a man present that 33 years ago was over 25 years old. Most of the crowd that helped to raise the old barn are dead. The first barn was framed by the late Cyrell Doucette.

Hartland.

JUNE 17.—Probably the social affair of the season, at Hartland was the wedding, on Wednesday evening last, of Mr. Harris D. Keswick, son of D. H. Keswick, and Miss Ena V. McAdam, daughter of Wm. McAdam, Miss Maud Keswick, sister of the groom officiated as bridesmaid and Dr. Estey as groomsman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Gideon Swim. Relatives and friends of the bride and groom to the number of 50 or 60 were present, among whom was Major D. McLeod Vince, of Woodstock. The bride was attired in a travelling suit of brown, the color being relieved by some beautiful white flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Keswick left on the night train for Boston and other cities in the United States and Canada, followed by enormous quantities of rice, good wishes and old shoes. Someone thoughtfully threw into their car seat a small pair of shoes filled with bon bons. These popular young people will return shortly to take up their residence in Hartland.

The Riverside Hotel has recently been newly papered and painted inside, and now presents a very home like appearance.

Robert Gibson, collector for P. S. McNutt & Co., is here at the Riverside under the care of Dr. Estey. He met with a serious accident at Skiff Lake three weeks ago from the ignition of some chloride of potash he was carrying in his vest pocket. His right side was badly burned, but he is on the way to recovery.

The anniversary of the A. C. T. society will be held in Burt's Hall on the evening of Tuesday, the 25th of June. After the programme ice cream and cake will be served.

Joseph Waugh is building a restaurant near the station. He expects to open up for business in a few days.

Mr. Sawyer's mill enterprise is a popular thing here. He employs a large crew and pays out a large number of cart wheels.

The Foresters are preparing for their picnic. They are making such arrangements as to make this the event of the season. A large flat half a mile below the village has been secured and will afford a grand chance for a days outing. There will be as usual all kinds of sports. The concert which will be held in the big tent at 5 p. m. will excel anything yet attempted in that line. It will be under the management of E. Alexander who had the same in charge at the preceding Foresters picnic. The musical parts of the programme are being prepared by Mrs. W. T. Kerr who in Woodstock as well as in Hartland is known as a highly accomplished musician. Everybody should plan to take in this celebration.

Chas. Taylor of the C. P. R., and George Shaw of Fort Fairfield spent Sunday and Monday here. Mrs. William Henderson is very ill. Mrs. John Barnett still continues confined to her room.

Thos. V. Hunter of the Freshman class U. N. B. visited his friends here this week.

John Thomas has a number of men engaged in his brick yard and expects to burn a kiln this week, he has engaged the services of an experienced burner.

The work of laying the water pipes is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. Mr. Thomas has the contract for digging of drain and laying of pipe. A large number of men are employed and this fall expect to see the work fully completed.

Mr. McCormick has the contract for building the reservoir.

Chas. H. Taylor is pushing the work on his brick building, the stone foundation is about completed and workmen are already engaged in laying off the frame.

Edward Stewart, of Pole Hill, died last Friday morning, the result of drinking cold water while overheated. He was at work on his farm Thursday afternoon, and feeling very warm stooped down to the spring to drink, the water of which is cold. After quenching his thirst he was unable to rise, and had to be carried to the house. Dr. Curtis was immediately sent for, but his skill could not avail, although everything was done that kind friends could suggest. Death came Friday morning. Funeral held at Rockland, Sunday, sermon was preached by Rev. J. J. Barnes. His family have the sympathy of many kind friends in their sudden bereavement.

Bristol.

JUNE 17.—The 12th of July will not be celebrated at Bristol this year, as stated in the last issue of THE DISPATCH, but the County L. O. L. will hold the celebration at Middle Simonds. The semi-annual meeting of the County Lodge will be held at Glassville, on Wednesday, 19th inst. The Scarlet Chapter will be open in the evening.

The Bristol driving park is now about completed and is being fenced.

Mrs. James Boyer, who has been seriously ill for some time, is recovering, Dr. Somerville has been in attendance.

Rev. G. M. Young preached a sermon yesterday to the Foresters, and there was a large number present representing the different courts in this section. Rev. Geo. Sellar, formerly of this circuit, was also present.

Dr. Atkinson arrived home last Thursday from California, where he has been for the past three months. His health has not been materially improved by his trip. His daughter is also very poorly, and was the cause of his return home at this time.

During the thunder storm here on Friday, lightning struck a barn belonging to Mathew Colwell, and set it on fire. It and its contents, a mowing machine, a threshing machine and a number of sleds were completely destroyed, as the building was wrapped in flames almost instantaneously. There was no insurance.

Some Woodstock young men have been here trying their luck trout fishing on the Shiktehawk, and report very good success. Messrs. James Carr and W. Wetmore leave this morning on a fishing excursion on the S. W. Miramichi. They will go down as far as Boiestown and return by rail, and will be gone about a week.

George Baker, of Lowell, is visiting his old friends here, after an absence of about seven years.

G. L. Holyoke is in the village today.

E. Harmon takes Mr. Wetmore's place in the R. R. station during Mr. Wetmore's vacation.

George A. Brittain has been enlarging his grist mill, placing new cleavers and bolts, and many other improvements that will make it better able to serve the public. George Wiggins is running the mill this summer, he is a popular man and much liked by the customers of the mill.

G. A. Brittain went to Woodstock on Monday on business.

Aroostook Junction.

JUNE 17.—The farmers are through seeding except a few who have not yet finished their buckwheat. The acreage of potatoes planted was hardly as large as last year, Mr. Gianthan being to the front with nine acres. Ed. Houghton of Fort Fairfield has 100 acres planted all in one field. This is claimed to be the largest field of potatoes in New England if not in the whole world. Hay will perhaps, be half a crop here, grain is coming now.

Yesterday was a high day with Foresters at Andover. They marched in uniform to the new Pre-byterian church (which was fitted up for the occasion) and Rev. R. Peppers preached the annual sermon. The music was fine.

Miss Alice Manzer is just home from Boston for her summer vacation she intends to return in six or seven weeks.

Awful Murder.

A fearful murder was committed in St. Henri, Montreal, on Wednesday last in broad daylight. Some miscreant entered the house of Napoleon Demers and killed his wife. The body was found lying on the floor in a pool of blood. In a cradle near the bed was a motherless little baby. Demers and his wife were a model couple, and if anyone had any suspicion of suicide it is quite dispelled. The bereaved husband is almost distracted with grief. At the time of going to press no clue has been found to lead to the conviction of the foul murderer.
