THE ONE THING NEEDFUL.

The Toronto Globe receives from time to time letters from prominent men, containing suggestions as to the necessary policy for the future of Canada. Lately Sir Wm. Vanhorne, president of the C. P. R., has given his view of the situation. He gives as the most important need of Canada. "A vigorous immigration policy to be carried out by a special commission."

Here is the whole matter in a nutshell. We have territory enough for fifty or a hundred millions, and we only have five millions of a population. We want settlers not only in the North West but in the Eastern provinces as well. New Brunswick has room for hundreds of thousands of the right cult. Our population of something over 300,000 is wretchedly meagre for the extent of the province, and for the opportunities awaiting active, enterprising men.

Look at the Tobique country. There is room there for hundreds and hundreds of settlers, and if the opportunities for doing well, were half advertised, no doubt, there would be found many good families from older lands, seeking a chance to better themselves, who would take up the land in double quick time.

Whosever may be in the fault, our immigration policy has not been well managed. The best man in either party should fill the portfolio of interior.

Van Horne is a practical man. He neither talks nor writes much, but what he does say and write is to the point.

Immigrants of any stripe may be easily secured, but as he points out we need a commission to get the right sort.

A HAPPY CONDITION OF AFFAIRS.

Sir M. Hicks Beach, chancellor of the exchequer in his budget speech in the Imperial House, last week, proved pretty conclusively that as far as finances are concerned England doesn't show much sign of decline. There was a surplus in the treasury of £4,210,000, or over $20,000,000 in our currency, the largest that has ever been known. The amount of bullion in the bank of England was £49,000,000. On every side there was signs of expansion of trade. The revenue for the fiscal year showed an increase of more than £7000,000 over the previous year. According to Sir Michael, temperance is increasing with prosperity. The imports of spirits had declined 19 per cent, and the popular taste for rum was greatly lessening. Tea drinking is on the increase, at the expense of coffee, tea, as a source of revenue, yielding upwards of £4000,000 over the estimates. The consumption of champagne was very great, which the chancellor attributes to the habit of members of the stock exchange and speculators, who use it both when they win and when they lose.

During the year the national debt was reduced by £8,134,000. In 39 years, £190,000,000 had been paid off, £100,000,000 of this total, within the past thirteen years. The reserve established would enable Great Britain to raise £200,000,000 for defence without imposing more debt, than the nation bore in 1857 without a murmur. £144,000,000 was deposited in the savings banks, due to the thrift of the working men. For the coming year the expenditure is put at £100,047,000 and the revenue £101,755,000. This years surplus is to be devoted to the national defences.

The New York World tells us that Rev. V. N. Cleveland, Presbyterian minister, a brother of the president, is being turned out of his pulpit at Chaumont, N. Y., because he is a good democrat, while the majority of his congregation are republicans. With beautiful, if unconscious irony, the elders of the church in severing their relations with Mr. Cleveland, express their regard for his "high christian character." It appears that St. Lawrence County is the "Republican Gibraltar of the Empire state," and although Rev. Mr. Cleveland never "carries politics into the pulpit," he must resign. But Mr. Cleveland refuses to resign. What next? If this kind of thing goes on we will no longer ask if scepticism is on the increase.

Mr. Laurier has always the right thing to say in the right place. His tributes to departed members of the house have always been eloquent and touching. Never did he pay a tribute more eloquent, than when he briefly said of Col. Fred Denison, M. P. for Toronto West, who died the other day, "As a member of the house, while he had opponents he had no enemies." A public man must have opponents, but it is not necessary that he should make enemies.

The Board of Trade is discussing the question of exemptions. It is one of which there will always be a great divergence of opinion, and the board will do wisely by declining to put itself on record until time has been allowed for ample discussion.

Wore Greased Gloves Seven Years.

John Siron, mason, Aultsville, Ont., had Salt Rheum so severe that for seven years he wore greased gloves. He writes: "I used a quarter of a box of Chase's Ointment. It cured me. No trace of Salt Rheum now." Chase's Ointment cures every irritant disease of the skin, allays itching instantly, and is a sterling remedy for piles. Avoid imitations. 60c. per box.

Bull Genealogy.

About the year 1840, the late Professor Richard H. Bull of New York prepared an outline family record of the descendants of William Bull and Sarah Wells of Orange County, New York. This record has been carefully copied and large additions have been made to it by the undersigned during the past few years.

It is proposed to complete the Genealogy as far as it is possible to do so, and to this end it is requested that every descendant of William Bull make out their family record giving names in full, dates and places of births, marriages and death in each instance where they have occurred, with such other particulars as will be of interest in making up a complete family history, and forward the same to the undersigned, himself a lineal descendant of William Bull who has the work in hand.

These inquiries are not put forward through idle curiosity, or in any hope of pecuniary profit, but purely as a matter of history coupled with the desire to collect the records of the family and put them in intelligent form for permanent preservation.

Nearly 2500 names are already recorded and it is important that the Genealogy be made as complete and correct as possible. Copies of entries from old family Bibles, inscriptions on tombstones, and extracts from old family letters are of great service in throwing light on the history of the family, and you are urged to send these forward.

If each one will take an interest and do their part by contributing their own family record, and getting others connected with this family to do so, the work can soon be brought to a successful conclusion.

Yarns.

This notice is intended especially for Farmers. Those who have yarn made to order by us have been exceedingly well pleased, and 'tis a very frequent expression, "We will spin no more at home." Think of one machine spinning as much as one hundred women. We don't wonder farmers' wives are tired of it, besides it will cost very much more to do it at home than it will cost at the mill.

Send along your wool soon as it is dry and your orders. We can make any size for you. Be sure and send samples of sizes. By sending your wool and orders early you will be able to have your yarn at hand more promptly, for all along the summer months we are rushed with this work.

We make single for you for 15c. and double for 18c. per lb.
Information cheerfully given.
