THE STRIKE.

Most of the daily papers speak of the Telegraphers strike as nearing an end. Much of the telegraphic news concerning it is received through Canadian Pacific Railway channels and the company is not unwilling to have the public and the strikers believe that they have the game in their own hands. From letters reaching Woodstock daily, from Mr. Pierson Assistant Chief of the Telegraphers Union, one would believe that the strikers are on firm ground and if it is necessary to their success the engineers, conductors, baggage masters and brakemen will join the strike. It is unfortunate that the grievances could not be settled without so much inconvenience to the country, but it is good to think we are living in a day when employees are not forbidden by law to combine against their employers in defence of what they hold to be their deserts. It is fair to say that in this vicinity the public sympathy is with the strikers.

SESSION ENDS.

Here endeth the first session of the eighth parliament of Canada. As everyone expected the session extended over the thirty day limit. The rank and file of both parties really needed the long session indemnity in their business. We ought not to expect men to buy their way into parliament just for the fun of the thing. It has taken the old members some time to get used to the altered conditions of affairs, so different from those of the last eighteen years or so. They seem to have got nicely settled down into their places now and will probably be able to do good work in the winter session.

That was an interesting exchange of courtesies at Ottawa, when the House of Commons cut off the Senate's stationery and trunks and the Senate cut off the Commons' drinks. Seriously, does not this kind of thing smack considerably of that very childish song, "You Can't Play in Our Back Yard?" It is apparent that the Senate had not much faith in the sincerity of the House of Commons in abolishing its own bar, or it would scarcely have ventured upon a formal order of exclusion. Possibly the country will be inclined to take the same view as the Senate. Anyway parcels can still be delivered to members of the Commons, rooms and lockers yet exist, the festive growler can conveniently be rushed, and the Rideau Club, with its privileges, is not a thousand miles away. Taking it altogether, therefore, the faithful Commons, even with the Senate's bar barred to them, are not yet in a state of siege.—Ex.

The Czar's visit to England may result in an understanding not only on the Turkish question but also on the future relations of both England and Russia to China and Corea. The two greatest empires of Europe are undoubtedly closer together now than they have been in two generations, and a great deal of history may result from it in the near future.

Married at Greenfield.

On Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 30, in spite of great rain, a number assembled at George Antworth's, Greenfield, Carleton Co., to witness the marriage of William, fourth son of the late George and Margaret Ritchie, to Mary Alice, second daughter of the late George and Margaret Antworth, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. E. Flewelling. The presents were numerous, valuable and useful. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller from River de Chute and Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. West of Centreville were present. The remaining guests were the near relatives of the bride and groom, from Greenfield. It was the first couple Rev. Mr. Flewelling had married when the names of the parents of both parties were exactly the same, George and Margaret. The bride's mother and the groom's father and mother had gone on to their "rest." The company was a happy one, and everything passed off satisfactorily and pleasantly. The table was loaded down with everything calculated to replenish the inner man. The darkness of the night was made more dismal by sounds of cow bells and horns, the young people being determined to do honor to the bride and groom in this particularly undesirable way. However, it amused those at the charivari and didn't hurt anyone.

Mrs. S. T. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says, "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'SAVED MY LIFE.' I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For Dyspepsia, Liver or Kidney trouble it excels. Price 75cts. For Sale by Garden Bros.

TO CLEAN MATTRESSES.—To clean your mattress, which is so badly stained, take starch, make it into a paste with cold water. Spread this on the stains, first putting the mattress in the sun. In an hour or two brush this off, and if not clean repeat the process. Every mattress should be examined during the spring and all the stains removed at once.

E. M. Campbell's Studio.

It is a pleasure not to be slighted to walk into 29 Main St., and note the transformation that has taken place in E. M. Campbell's studio. Mr. Campbell with an eye to the beautiful and always abreast of the times has wrought wonders there. The first thing to get the eye after you reach the top of the stairs, is a new glass door tastefully painted to indicate that Mr. Campbell can be found within. On entering the reception room, you are brought face to face with a new and handsome mirror that will delight the hearts of all women and some men. The rooms have been newly papered in colours restful to the eye, and there are available a lot of new chairs that are very restful to the body. Every item of furniture in the reception room is new, from the oak centre table to the pictures on the walls. The operating room is separated from the reception room by heavy curtains, the folding doors having been discarded. The equipment of the operating room is perfect. With his new backgrounds, new posing chairs and couches Mr. Campbell is able to get some very pleasing effects as to position, and with his most powerful lens he can get a quick photograph even in a most subdued light. With the excellent mechanical outfit of his studio a dark day is no disadvantage to him. Mr. Campbell is an artist by nature and with twenty years experience in the profession he is able not only to pose his subjects most advantageously but to complete and turn out a highly finished and artistic photograph. We would call attention to Mr. Campbell's exhibit of pictures at the Carleton County Fair that opens in Woodstock today. Mr. Campbell invites the public to call at his studio that they may the more fully appreciate the facilities he has for doing good work. His place is centrally located. His door is next below Carr & Gibson's jewelry store and is on the same flat with Dr. G. B. Manzer's Dental Offices. Don't forget the number, 29 Main St., and don't forget to call during the exhibition.

Horrible Accident.

Mr. John Carlin, an employee in Berry's mill, Pokio, was the victim of a horrible accident Saturday afternoon. He was oiling the planer when he slipped and fell, his arm catching in the machinery and being planed off about two inches above the elbow. The flesh and bone was sawn off in small pieces like planings off a board. It was a sickening looking sight, but the victim had great nerve. He walked over to the store about a hundred yards, distant, when he met Doctors Prescott and Alexander. They found it necessary to cut two more inches off the lacerated arm. The unfortunate is now doing fairly well. He was married only about three weeks ago.—F'ton Gleaner.

A Great Event.

We see it announced that the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has secured that magnificent picture, "The Orphan's Prayer," which is to be presented this autumn to renewal and new subscribers of the Family Herald. The picture is said by those who have seen it to be the most catching thing of the century, and a work of art which no publication has heretofore approached unto. Prang & Co., of Boston, the great makers of the Christmas Cards, write of "The Orphan's Prayer" as follows: "It is full of pathos. It tells its own story in its own way. We have not seen anything like it. We anticipate the Family Herald of Montreal will have a large demand for it." This is praise indeed from a house that scarcely ever praises anything. Those who are fortunate enough to be on the Family Herald's list are evidently in for a grand thing, besides getting their paper, which all must admit is indeed a most wonderful production in itself.

A Child Cured of Eczema by Chase's Ointment.

"My six-year old daughter, Bella, was afflicted with eczema for 24 months, the principal seat of eruption being behind her ears. I tried almost every remedy I saw advertised, bought innumerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. The doctor advised the use of Chase's Ointment, and since using the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently say my child is cured." (Signed) MAXWELL JOHNSTON, 112 Anne St., Toronto.

F. C. B. Convention.

The New Brunswick F. C. Baptist met in annual convention in the Victoria street church, St. John, on Saturday afternoon last, Rev. G. C. Foster moderator. Mr. Noble, corresponding secretary submitted his report, which was adopted. There are in the province 118 churches, with a total membership of 9,416.

Sunday the anniversary conference sermon was preached in the Victoria street Baptist church by Rev. C. T. Phillips, of the town, a special communion service was conducted in the afternoon by Rev. G. T. Porter, and in the evening Rev. G. F. Currie of Tracey's Mills preached.

Rev. B. H. Nobles was elected moderator and Rev. G. Swim assistant moderator.

On Sunday evening Mrs. Boyer of Grafton who has lately returned from her missionary labors in India, spoke on her work to a large audience.

GOD ONLY KNOWS.

Whither are going with hurrying feet
Forms that are passing to-night in the street?
Faces all sunny, and faces all sad;
Hearts that are weary, and hearts that are glad;
Eyes that are heavy with sorrow and strife;
Eyes that are gleaming with beauty and life;
Pictures of pleasure and crosses of care—
Going, all going, God only knows where!

Hands that have earnestly striven for bread,
Hands that are soiled with dishonor instead;
Hearts that are tuned to a purpose sublime,
Hearts all discordant and jangled with crime.
Souls that are pure and as white as the snow,
Souls that are black as the midnight of woe;
Gay in their gladness, or drunk in despair,
Going, all going, God only knows where!

Some to the feast where the richest red wine
And the rarest of jewels will sparkle and shine;
Some in their hunger will wander, and some
Will sleep, nor awaken when morning shall come.
The robbed and the ragged, the foe and the friend,
All of them hurrying on to the end;
Nearing the grave with a curse or a prayer,
Going, all going, God only knows where!

Yarns.

This notice is intended especially for Farmers. Those who have yarn made to order by us have been exceedingly well pleased, and 'tis a very frequent expression, "We will spin no more at home." Think of one machine spinning as much as one hundred women. We don't wonder farmers' wives are tired of it, besides it will cost very much more to do it at home than it will cost at the mill.

Send along your wool soon as it is dry and your orders. We can make any size for you. Be sure and send samples of sizes. By sending your wool and orders early you will be able to have your yarn at hand more promptly, for all along the summer months we are rushed with this work.

We make single for you for 15c. and double for 18c. per lb.

Information cheerfully given. When writing mention this paper.
